Grandparents Section

Thanks to generous donations in memory of Helen Sturgell, who used the library frequently, a new Grandparents Section will be created in the children's area of the library. Two rocking chairs are available in this section for grandparents to read to their grandchildren. Many books will be available to check out with themes of families, sharing and love. People inspired to donate money in memory of Helen can drop off checks to the library. The money will purchase books for this area.

Take Your Child To The Library Day!

Saturday February 3, 2018

Receive a bookmark and a library sticker.

A library card is knowledge. Sign up your child for a library card if they don't have one.

Community Play Group and Parent Education

The Women's Resource Center's Play Group is held every Tuesday from 9:00 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. in the library's community room on a walk-in basis. It is available for children from birth to five years old. This is a free service in which Kate Essenberg promotes activities such as story time, crafts, games and music for children. This gives parents and caregivers an opportunity to network with other parents and learn of early literacy resources that are available.

ART DISPLAY

January/February

Jan Goodwin - Photography

will be on display in the library during regular hours

"I have developed as a preferred naturalist at heart with an Art Major in college, working with many styles and media. As a result, I chose photography as my personal art form. The strength of a photograph beyond physical aspects depends on many different inputs. When looking at a scene, does the photo portray action, provoke feeling, or show a special time of day when lighting, wind and sky are key to intrinsic goals? Sometimes it takes 25 shots to get an accurate one. Timing and being of the moment is often more important. Since January is 'calendar time', and I enjoy all seasons, I have chosen a different photograph for each month of the year. I hope you enjoy them." - Jan Goodwin
