Huckle, Aydlott help write book on artists

EAST JORDAN - Two area residents played major roles in publishing a new 72-page "Artists North" book about past and present artists of Northwestern Michigan.

Billed as Michigan's first regional collector's guide, the book was unveiled last week at a meeting of Artists North, an organization of working artists from Charlevoix, Emmet and Antrim Counties.

The book is organized in two parts. Part I was compiled by Doris Huckle of East Jordan. It includes historical notes and checklists of people who worked as artists from 1850-1950.

Part II of the illustrated book tells about 22 members of the Artists North group who are now working in the area. (There are 44 members of Artists North in all.) This half of the book was written by Linda Beers Aydlott of East Jordan and Margie Martsoff Bartha of Harbor Springs.

This section gives biographical information about the artists, tells about their work, and shows on a map where their studios are located. Space is even provided for book owners to have the artists autograph it when studio visits are made.

Funds for printing the collector's guide were provided by a grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts, contributions from patrons and contributions from the artists who are featured in Part II.

The first edition of the book is limited to 1,000 copies. It is available for $4.75 plus 50 cents postage from Artists North, c/o Steve Bartha, Harbor Springs. It will also be available in some stores, including Huckle's Camera Shop in East Jordan.

Doris Huckle says she has been compiling information about early artists of the area "off and on now for about 20 years."

She and her husband Bill have operated a camera shop and studio since moving to East Jordan in 1946.

"Bill has a good reputation for copy work, and a lot of people bring us old pictures, negatives and glass plates to have printed or copied," Doris said. "I admired them all so much that whenever we got old pictures to work on, I'd write down the names of the photographers if we could determine who they were."

"So I've had it in mind to do this for 20 years. We haven't had all that much art history in the north, and I thought somebody ought to keep track of it."

She started keeping lists of artists and craftsmen in 1962, four years after starting her list of photographers. But she started researching in earnest in 1976 toward the goal of publishing it in a book such as the newly published collector's guide.

In the preface of the guide, Mrs. Huckle admits: "There may be individuals who are not included on the lists who should be; authenticated corrections or additions...are encouraged. It is shared with the hope that others will add to it."

"Actually, this is only a beginning to such research in a very small area of Michigan. Hopefully, it might encourage other groups in this and other states to complete similar projects on a regional basis." There's a growing need for such information.

Included in Huckle's section of the book are "Indian Craftsmen," "Lost Items To Find," "Art in Public Buildings" and "Area Art Fairs," as well as several illustrations from old glass plates she hopes readers can help identify.

The historical notes and checklists, along with old photographs should assist those who want to more closely date early photos and some of the arts and crafts of this area, she said.

He's a traveling problem solver

Sometimes, Bill Huber wishes his job were busier.

Huber, who lives in the Bay Shore area of northern Charlevoix County, is an administrative assistant for State Sen. Bob Davis of Gaylord.

He spends most of his time traveling around the huge 37th Senate District, holding "office hours" in nearly every city and village.

Area residents are urged to take advantage of the office hours if they need any help with a problem involving the state government.

Sometimes lots of people stop to talk with him. At other times, though, no one may stop during the hour or so that Huber is available.

A visit to East Jordan on a rainy day earlier this month was one of those days when nobody came in.

"I wish people would utilize me more often," he said.

If people don't think Huber and Sen. Davis' office can help, many would be surprised.

"I like being able to solve problems and I can usually solve someone's problem the same day," Huber said.

Problems can range from explaining legislation people don't understand to helping cut red tape with agencies such as Farmers Home Administration, Social Security and Social Services. Others ask for other kinds of help, like a woman who wanted to know if she could join the National Guard.

"So many times, there is a communications breakdown between the bureaucrats and the citizens," Huber said.

Some people think government isn't responsive, but Huber maintains that the system works. "If people use the system they can usually get things done. People who come in to me often have ideas which lead to legislation."

Even when nobody shows up for his office hours, Huber is still able to put his time to good use. "When people don't come in, I get to spend a lot of time with township and city officers, and that helps us understand local concerns."

Huber grew up in Petoskey, graduating from Petoskey St. Francis High School in 1963. He attended North Central Michigan College and received a teaching degree from Ferris State College in 1971. He taught junior high science and math for six years in Hart before taking his current position a year and a half ago.

Davis hired him as his administrative assistant because, Huber said, "Lansing is full of political science majors and lawyers. The fact that I was from this area and I knew the area also helped. I loved teaching but this job is 100 times broader."

Many administrative assistants-Dan Stevens and Rod Brown, for example-have gone on to run for office. Does Huber have similar ambitions?

"At this point, I'd have to say no. I've only been with Bob for 1½ years. The legislature is very complicated and I'd like to know more about what's going on," he said.

"A lot of people have asked me to run for something or they take it for granted that I will run. I suppose the one thing that would goad me to run would be to keep somebody else from winning-if I thought I could do a better job."

Huber's boss, Sen. Davis, is now running for U.S. Congress but if Davis wins, Huber's job won't change much.

The glamor of Washington doesn't attract him, he'd rather stay in Northern Michigan as a district representative.

When nobody comes in for Bill Huber's office hours, Sen. Davis' assistant gets a chance to talk about local government concerns with officials like Fern Morris, East Jordan's City Clerk-Treasurer. (Photo by Jim Baumann)

Glen's construction delayed

EAST JORDAN - The new Glen's Market and shopping center on highway M-66 won't be opening by Jan. 1, as owner Glen Catt had first hoped.

A number of delays have postponed the store opening. "We've had nothing but problems since we bought the land," Catt said when contacted last week. "The architect hasn't even drawn the plans yet."

When Catt received zoning approval from the city council in May, he said he hoped construction would begin early in the fall and that the store would open by Jan. 1.

Now, he says, "That's out of the question. I don't have any idea when it will get underway."

Catt said that since the opening date is indefinite, he has not been actively seeking tenants for other stores in the shopping center. "We have had a couple of people contact us about being in the shopping center," Catt said, "but nothing has been finalized."

East Jordan store manager Mark Weisler says "I'm more anxious than anyone in town for the new store to open. We really need it. I can't wait."

The new shopping center will be located on the west side of M-66, near the intersection of Bridge Street.

Local student named National Merit Scholar

EAST JORDAN - Darryl Christensen, a senior at East Jordan High School, has been named a "commended student" by the National Merit Scholarship Program.

Darryl, the son of Robert and Barbara Christensen, was recognized for outstanding performance on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test-National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. The test was administered nationwide to high school juniors in October, 1977.

More than one million students participated in the merit program, and less than 35,000 throughout the United States were honored as commended students. They represent the top five percent of all participants.

Although commended students scored slightly below the level required for receiving a scholarship, "Each commended student has demonstrated exceptional academic promise," according to a statement from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Lionesses get charter

A new service group, the East Jordan Lioness Club, received its charter in special ceremonies last week. Leon Bartlett, past president of the Jordan Valley Lions, hands the charter to Jackie Hawkins, president of the Lionesses. Looking on are current Lions

Students saving labels

BOYNE CITY - Middle school students are once again asking area residents to save soup labels which they can redeem for audio-visual equipment.

The collecting of Campbell's labels will begin after the first of the year, but school librarian Flossie Brinley urges: "Save them now, and we will have a good collection by January."

The school has been collecting the labels for three years. "We have received some nice audio-visual equipment for the media center in exchange for them," she said.

At the beginning of the second semester, a contest will be held between the sixth, seventh and eighth grades to spur interest in the label collection drive.

The labels can be given to any middle school student, dropped at the school or dropped at collection boxes which will be placed in local businesses later this year. Someone will pickup your labels if you call 582-9981.

"Our goal is 10,000 labels," she said. Last year we were a little short of our goal but we still collected enough labels to get a new cassette tape player and a set of earphones."

All canned Campbell food labels, except tomato juice labels, are acceptable.

Child Study Club elects officers

Beat the flu

EAST JORDAN - "The cold and flu season is upon us," reports Susan Arndt, the physician's assistant at East Jordan's Family Health Center.

The health center has just received a vaccine which can prevent flu and colds. It is recommended for everyone over age 65 and for those with chronic diseases such as diabetes, heart disease or lung disease.

But, Arndt says, don't wait until you have a cold before getting the shot. It can't be given if you have a cold at the time. "People who have colds should wait until they get over them and then come in for the shot," she said.

She said the cold and flu "season" begins now, when the weather is cooler, and continues into November.

Arndt started working at the health center this summer as a student intern and has now been hired to work full-time at the center.

She graduated from Wayne State University in August with a bachelor of science degree as a physician's assistant. After taking three weeks off, she started working last week.

She will be helping ease Dr. Klaus Herg's workload by handling pediatrics and gynecology patients, in addition to giving some physical exams, taking blood pressures and treating other non-critical cases.

Roger Randall of St. John's, at right, shot one of the first bear of the new season at 8:30 a.m. on opening day last Thursday in Chandler Township. Walloon Lake residents Cindy Fraley, at left, along with her husband Merle, (not pictured) were also on the hunt, and their treed bear. Then, the next day, the same party got another bear. This time, Warren Barrone of East Lansing shot the beast.

Still some openings for Boyne nursery

The Boyne City Nursery Center, a non-profit, pre-school, is now a reality, thanks to hard work by many interested people. Opening Monday, October 2nd, the pre-school children of Boyne City will have a facility of their own.

Julie Seals, a certified teacher in pre-school education, is the program director. Ms. Seals says, "My concern in teaching the preschool child revolves around helping the child grow as an individual both intellectually and socially." Then she went on to say that "to accomplish these goals, the learning environment is of the utmost importance."

In this case the environment is a fully equipped portable classroom, containing all the necessary toys, books, furniture, etc. necessary for a successful program.

Rosemary Karkosak, President of the Board of the Nursery Center, says that there is still space available in some of the classes for the 2½ and 3 year olds, as well as the 4 and 5-year-olds in the program and that registration is in progress right now. Anyone interested can call Mrs. Karkosak at 582-7223 or Julie Bradford at 582-2264.

When asked about the expense of opening a nursery school Mrs. Karkosak replied "We have tried to keep tuition payments as low as possible. But, we're now finding that it is almost impossible to project what expenses we will run into. Insurance and utility expenses have run far above what we had anticipated. But we have set up a Scholarship Fund to aid children with tuition payments and a General Fund which we hope will help us "break even".

Anyone wishing to make a donation to either of these funds can send them to The Boyne City Nursery Center, P. O. Box 82, Boyne City.

No threat to Essex

BOYNE CITY - The Essex Wire Assembly Plant in Sault Ste. Marie is being closed next month, but company officials say the 325 Essex employees in Boyne City shouldn't worry.

"We have no intent to do anything similar anywhere else," said James Kress, company spokesman. Kress said the three-year-old Soo plant, which employs 250 people, was closed because of increased foreign competition and high shipping costs.

The Boyne Essex plant faces the same problems, but plant manager John DiMartino said there is one major difference: the local plant is making a profit for the company, while the one in Sault Ste. Marie was losing money.

"Any plant that is not competitive isn't going to stay open," DiMartino says. "I don't foresee anything like that happening here. We are meeting our competition at this point."

"But if we were ever in a position where our rates were so high that we couldn't be competitive, then it could happen."

DiMartino said the Boyne plant does electro-mechanical work, which he said requires a higher degree of skill than the wire assembly done at the plant being closed.

Nursery available

The East Jordan Co-Operative Nursery has a few openings left in its morning class. Co-Operative Nursery classes are held on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9:15 - 11:15 a.m.

The nursery is located in the Education Building of the Presbyterian Church at 207 Williams St. Anyone interested in enrolling their 3 or 4-year-old child should contact Geri Barber at 582-7544 or Bonnie Brunett at 536-2712.

Boyer City Elementary School Principal Ed Snyder gives directions to staff and students during opening week of the new school. School officials are afraid programs and staff will be cut if a millage isn't approved next week.

Cuts have been made; It's time to pass millage

First of all, let's ask ourselves a basic question. Should Boyer City have its own schools? In a time of increasingly heavy tax burdens, should the people of the community pay for their own school system, or should there be some merger with a larger district?

Editorial

We've tried a merger before and it didn't work because so many people felt shackled having schools tied to another town. So now we have our own schools again in the Boyer area. The next question is -- who will fund them? Will pennies rain from heaven? Will another Howard Hughes will be found, this one leaving all his money to the Boyer City Board of Education? Don't hold your breath.

School funding, painful as it can be, must come from the property taxes of those who live in the district. Many of those people can get refunds if they are old or poor, but the people who live here have to pay for most of the school funding.

But Michigan has a very democratic system of funding schools. The people in every school district are allowed to decide what kind of schools they want to have. They can have fancy schools by taxing themselves heavily, or they can have very poor schools by voting down even reasonable millage requests. Local voters will have a chance to help decide whether Boyer should have good schools when they vote in Monday's millage election.

It's too bad voters can't approve or disapprove all governmental expenditures. For example, how would the public vote on pay hikes for postal service workers? Would they vote no even if it meant decreased mail service? But they appear willing to vote for decreased school service, which is more important than most government services.

What's the problem? Is it too many "frills" in the school program? The problem is that one person's frills are often another person's necessities. Many extracurricular activities get students involved in useful pastimes that can help lead to rewarding careers. Successful, well-educated products of the school system will help insure a prosperous economic future for the town.

Some voters may be confused by the fact that school officials said defeat of the last millage proposal would cause immediate cuts in sports and other areas. The millage lost, but most of the programs remained when other methods of funding were found. We were surprised ourselves, but voters should realize there is a definite limit to the school administration's ability to juggle funds in an effort to keep the programs offered in the past.

The Board of Education has listened to the will of its constituents and has come up with a substantially lower millage request this time around. They really are doing the best they can in a difficult position and aren't trying to pull a fast one on the public. They are the public; you voted them into office.

But there seems to be a tax revolt going on in this country, and that makes it a difficult time for public officials. It's fine for concerned citizens to eliminate the fat in governmental spending, but the school system is getting cut pretty close to the bone. Something has to give soon.

Letters to the editor

Out of hand?

Editor,

I own a business in Boyer City; I am not ashamed. I support the tannery condominium project; I am not ashamed. I work hard for whatever I have; I am not ashamed. I'm a citizen of Boyer City; of that today, I am ashamed.

The political issue on the tannery project has gotten out of hand. Road, or no road, why is it that Boyer City businesses are having their hands slapped in previous letters to the editor for being supporters?

In Boyer City, we have many small, family businesses. In most, both husband and wife put their hearts, souls, and backs into their business, their lives. They are working hard for a better life for themselves and their families. I never realized that trying to better oneself, along with the community, was bad. I still don't believe it, but apparently some people do.

To me working hard, yes maybe even with a little profit in return, is neither bad nor something to be ashamed of. I imagine a lot of other people agree with me or we would probably be in the middle of a ghost town without lumber or a tannery to employ us any longer -- both are things of the past. Let's move on to the future. Let's help keep Boyer City from becoming that ghost town.

A lot of the business people are outsiders. Where were the people originally from this community when businesses went up for sale? Would this be a ghost town today if it weren't for "non-locals"? Did it ever occur to any of you why there is such a large turnover of private business in this community?

Think about it. I know business people don't come and go quickly here because they make a large profit fast. They leave because they can't make a living decent or otherwise. Business people here need the support of their community, but they need outside help also.

I believe the time has come to leave the tannery issue in the hands of our city commission. Many deep cuts have already been made and are sure to leave their scars for many years to come.

The city commission is an able body. They were elected by all Boyer Citizens, not just by business people. The future is their choice.

We need nurse

Editor,

The Boyer City P. T. O. would like to go on record as seeing a need for school nurses in our school system.

As many stated, if our school did not have a nurse who is trained to watch for their children's medical problems the children would not have been able to attend.

Unlike the Petoskey school system we do not have hospitals at our immediate disposal. Therefore we have a greater need for nurses in our schools.

In actuality we are economizing as far as school nurses are concerned. This point is illustrated in the fact that we have only one school nurse servicing both the middle and high schools.

Mrs. Eleanor West
Parent-Teacher Organization
President
Boyer City

Heal thyself

Editor,

In reply to the letter about the school nurse, I have had five children graduated from Boyer City High School. There have been many times that if it had not been for the school nurse being at the school, injuries could have become serious.

I was born and raised in northern Michigan and for the life of me, I can't figure out why these people from downstate can come up here and dictate to us what we should do, when they couldn't handle their affairs in the cities they came here from.

I believe we are capable of handling our own problems, without having outside meddling.

Daniel Boob sinks again

There was a time when my idea of exploring the great outdoors was walking to a bus stop instead of hitting up a friend for a lift. But if you're going to live in God's Country (Whose country, I wonder, is Gary, Indiana?) then you really should take advantage of the surroundings. So sometimes I canoe. Do you?

If you canoe, you already knew what beautiful rivers we have in this neck of the woods. But we had never done the Jordan River, even though I have wanted to ever since reading the article on it that Vern Whiteford was kind enough to write for our East Jordan Centennial issue.

Sunday I made the trip with a friend. We'll call her "K" for short. We should have taken it as an omen when my car refused to make the trip, dying out on Front Street in front of Joe and Lauri Gierlach's house. A problem with the choke. Later in the day, we choked, too.

After getting to the canoe rental station in K's car, we asked the man in charge what sort of trip it would be. He said the first part was fairly fast with some sharp "S" curves. We figured we'd get the hard part over with quickly.

And we did. He told us to be careful, so we were, approaching each curve like it was a life and death situation. We didn't have any problems steering, the river was fast enough that we hardly had to paddle and the surrounding countryside was...well, go see for yourself. Flowery adjectives describing nature lose a lot in black and white newsprint.

After negotiating some tricky turns successfully, K and I started to feel like Daniel Boone, real woodspeople. So we got cocky, and careless. There was a routine stump, I think it was, in the middle of the river. I remember calmly saying, "K, don't do that." The next I knew I was treading water. We had never capsized in a canoe before. It's not the worst thing that can happen to you, however...

FIRST DUMB MISTAKE - The canoe rolled over but didn't look like it was going anywhere. So I swam after one of the cushions because I didn't want to pay for it. But as I went after the inexpensive cushion, the expensive canoe filled up with water and took off downstream. So we had to walk along the shore, hoping it would stop somewhere. That leads us to...

SECOND DUMB MISTAKE - My partner wore sandals, which took off along with the canoe when we capsized. Her bare feet weren't any fun to walk on and she was therefore little help in getting us out of our predicament. My old tennis shoes worked better.

Fortunately, our canoe didn't go very far before hanging up along the bank. But it was upside down and filled with water. I had no idea how to go about getting it back over without the water in it. When I dislodged it from the bank to turn it over, the current immediately pinned me between the canoe and some bushes along the shore. Meanwhile, K giggled. She said later it was nervous laughter. Just what I needed.

Somehow I finally got the thing turned over with most of the water out of it. The trick is turning it over without just getting more water in it. When we finally got going again, we were too chilled to enjoy the trip. All I wanted was a hot bath.

Morale of story: Canoeing is an enjoyable, clean, energetic way to see the best parts of northern Michigan. The novice might be better off on a slower river, such as the Bear, which starts in Melrose Township. Whatever you do, it's safe as long as you exercise some fundamental caution and good sense. Otherwise, you'll just have to look at the bright side and tell yourself it's a nice day for a swim. No matter what happens, it beats spending the day in front of the tube watching other people exercise.

Road of dreams not as it seems

For those who may not have heard, there's some discussion concerning our now highly celebrated shoreline thruway stretching along the eastern most tip of the deep blue waters of Lake Charlevoix.

Highly respected, civic minded men are wont to eliminate a portion of the passageway so the area might be incorporated into plans that would further "beautify a beautiful city".

This modern suggestion has fanned the flames of fiery debate until our narrow blacktopped and sometimes pot-holed strip, unsung for half a century, has erupted into newspapers, the radio and television news segments of the day - securing at long last its rightful place in the sun.

Overnight the long forgotten merits of our avenue of elegance has sprung into the limelight, not only here at home, but throughout Michigan, developing hot copy for typewriter and tongue.

It no longer lurks amid the cobwebs on antiquity, but ranks suddenly among the Avenue of the Stars and The Great White Way as our very own Woodward Avenue of the north - sinks, bumps, weeds and all.

How ignorant of me, looking upon this scenic freeway as a homely and innocent hand-built cinder based path constructed by an ancient factory so workers might drive in to tan their hides. In truth, I've been too close to the weeds to see the grass.

Perhaps Boyer City should have long ago selected a more attractive name for the route. Wonderland Scenic Drive, the Avenue of the Resorts, or some such imaginative designation. Plain old Front Street falls somewhat short of the exotic. It does not fetch the bargaining power as say, the "Avenue of the Resorts".

Marshall Sayles

What a difference a name makes. Close down our "Avenue of the Resorts!" Ha, not without a trade-off here, one over there and several others we haven't thought of yet. Give away this prize corridor? Not without a good, healthy fight with the city coming out smelling like a rose. Boyer City hasn't smelled like a rose since Sam Arbuckle changed the course of the river.

Changing the name to obtain stronger bargaining power may be snapped up and sharply criticized by some of our foremost thinkers. Perhaps I'll be faulted for jumping in at the last moment to hog all the profitable ideas.

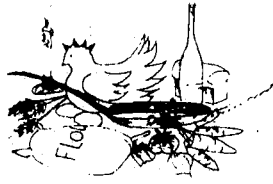

But the terror of my genius cannot sit idly by and ignore a progressive thought demanding to be thunk up.

Here's what's cooking

'Cheep' but tasty

In spite of inflation, the price of chicken has remained the same, even lowered, while most other food prices have been rising. And chicken is one of those foods that is so versatile that there are hundreds of ways to prepare and serve it.

GINGER JACKSON

First, a very economical, but delicious dish...

BAKED CHICKEN WINGS

(Serves 6).
6 pounds of chicken wings
2 cups soy sauce
2 cups brown sugar
1 cup butter or margarine
2 teaspoons dry mustard
1 1/2 cups water

DIRECTIONS:

Combine all of the above ingredients except the chicken wings in a large sauce pan. Cook over medium heat, stirring, until the sugar is dissolved. Let it cool. Arrange the chicken wings in a shallow, foil lined baking dish. Pour the sauce over the chicken and refrigerate for at least two hours. Then bake in a 350 degree oven for 45 minutes, turning once. Serve with brown rice and stir fried chinese peapods if desired.

Or perhaps you have to serve an army...

(To serve 300 people, multiply by 50)

1 cup cream of mushroom soup, undiluted
1 cup sour cream
1/2 pkg. (small) stuffing mix, prepared according to package directions

DIRECTIONS:

in a casserole dish. Cover with the prepared stuffing and bake in a 350 degree oven for 30-45 minutes.

Here's a change from the usual fried chicken...

EASY AND DELICIOUS CHICKEN

INGREDIENTS:

1 frying chicken, cut up or chicken thighs
1 1/2 cups finely chopped corn flakes
1 1/2 cup- finely chopped potato chips garlic salt and pepper to taste
1 stick melted butter or margarine

DIRECTIONS:

Wash and dry chicken pieces. Dip in melted butter, potato chips and corn flakes, garlic salt and pepper which have been combined. Place in a shallow baking dish and bake uncovered at 350 degrees for 1 hour. This is delicious served either hot or cold, and it can be prepared ahead of time so all you have to do is pop it in the oven after a busy day.

What's a mommy to do?

There are schools for lawyers, doctors, engineers, art, music and dog trainers, but there are no schools for mommies.

I had never stopped to consider the drastic lack of mommy training in our educational system, until a friend mentioned it.

It seems her son had watched their dog playing tug-of-war with a rope. The child decided to join in the fun by employing the same rope-between-the-teeth method the dog was using. Well, the dog won, and the kid lost two front teeth.

"Nobody told me about these things," she said in a bewildered voice. "There should be a Mommies School so we could be ready."

It's true. There is the ideal of the soft, cuddly baby who sleeps angelically through the night. Then there are the adorable two year olds dressed in Sunday best clothes that never get dirty and are always saying or doing the cutest things. From there the child progresses to a well-mannered model student, goes to college, gets a good education, marries well, and always remembers your birthday.

I'm not exactly sure where these illusions come from, but they're baloney.

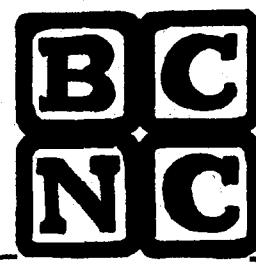

Babies really do wake up at 2 a.m. (and 4 a.m. and 6 a.m., etc.). Nobody tells us that the cute 400 word vocabulary the three year old has will be reduced to "Mommy, I want..." "no"; and, "But I cleaned my room last year" by the age of ten.

Dr. Spock never mentioned the fact that eight-year-olds have a penchant for riding down steep hills on bikes, taking apart electrical appliances, and spreading jam over the entire kitchen floor in world record time.

And those are just the typical problems. I remember the first time my oldest son had hot chocolate with miniature marshmallows. I have no idea what his motivation was, but he stuffed the half-melted marshmallows in his ears. Show me one child care book, or child care product that carries instructions for removing melted marshmallows from a toddlers ear. Believe me, you won't find one.

So how does Mommy survive raising children? It's really quite simple. During the little dumplings' years at home you just have to keep in mind that someday they will have children of their own.

CHIROPRACTORS SEEK RESEARCH VOLUNTEERS

The International Pain Control Institute in conjunction with New York Chiropractic College is presently engaged in what is the most extensive research program ever undertaken by the chiropractic profession. This research is directed toward determining the relationship between health problems and spinal misalignments and utilizes a screening process called Contour Analysis.

Volunteers are being sought for screening Contour Analysis enables taking a three-dimensional picture (called Moire photography) of the topography of the surface of the spine to detect spinal stress deviations. This analysis will be correlated with leg deficiency, patient symptomatology, and levels of spinal tenderness. An analysis of this type can reveal such things as normal and abnormal stress patterns, spinal curvature, muscle spasms, muscle imbalance, spinal distortions, and scoliosis.

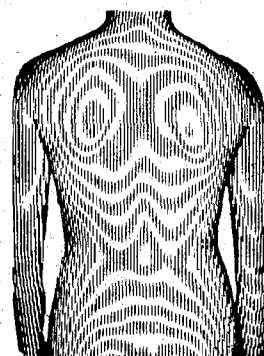

There is no charge to participating volunteers, since the doctors are contributing their time, service, and facilities for the program. Final processing and evaluation will be done at the New York Chiropractic College.

Anyone wishing to be a volunteer may telephone participating doctors directly for information or an appointment.

The growth that has been predicted for this area between now and the turn of the century - under all conditions - will have profound effect on the character of the City. The best we can do is plan for that growth so that it can be turned to best advantage, and

WHEREAS high quality resort-residential development as proposed by Lake Associates would not burden the City. This type of development would have minimal, if any, impact upon enrollment in the public school system, and

WHEREAS the City's economic base would be enhanced as would its tax base, and

WHEREAS such a distinctive development would draw others of like nature, and at the same time would preclude less advantageous development which would likely be more costly to City services, and

WHEREAS the essential character of the City and its natural beauty will be retained and enhanced with good planning during this expected period of growth, though it will admittedly be changed, and

WHEREAS the quality of life for year round residents will be improved by increased economic opportunity and by the broadened tax base, and

WHEREAS it has been agreed by two professional planners of some stature and reputation that it is unlikely that a development of the highest caliber could succeed on the former Tannery site unless the road through the property be vacated, and

WHEREAS in return for vacating the road, the City will:

1. become the site of high quality resort-residential development;
  2. expand its recreational park land and increase public access to the lake front;
  3. be able to hire a full time professional planner to assist in guiding and controlling the expected growth of the community;
  4. strengthen and diversify its economic and tax bases, and
- WHEREAS IF THE ROAD IS VACATED, THE City will be subject to the following negative impacts:
1. Loss of approximately eight tenths of a mile of roadway along the lakeshore which is popularly used for its facility when leaving and entering Boyne City on the south side of the lake.

2. There is considerable emotional attachment to the use of this roadway and to the view which it provides.

3. There will be some fairly long-term though essentially temporary inconvenience until the traffic bypass is completed. NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that this Commission desires to vacate a portion of Front Street as here and above set forth for the following reasons:

WHEREAS developer will pay (i.e. at no expense to the City) for the cost of a well-functioning traffic by-pass substantially resembling Alternate 3 or better as proposed by Williams and Work, and

WHEREAS this cost shall include reimbursement to the City of the engineering impact portion of the recently completed Williams and Works Analysis, and

WHEREAS Boyne City shall receive a beach front park on the westerly end of the Tannery site as has been proposed (between 4 and 5 acres). The park will not be encumbered in any way, and

WHEREAS developers shall contribute substantially or wholly toward the City's potential acquisition of lake front property extending northeasterly from the coal dock to property presently owned by the City adjacent to the sewage disposal plant. This property is to become potentially unencumbered public park land, and

WHEREAS that it be understood by all concerned that final resolution to vacate Front Street will not be undertaken until and unless the City Commission shall have completed its careful and thorough negotiations with the developers and the Advisory Boards and Commissions of the City.

It is understood here that such negotiations would move the conceptual plans as now proposed to the final and working stage. This working stage will encompass development, traffic bypass, water and sewer extension, and all related impact and burden upon the City, and

WHEREAS Ordinance A-46 shall be wholly compiled with as well as all other applicable ordinances in effect at the time of approval, and

WHEREAS vacating of Front Street shall be tied to the development as approved by the City Commission and proposed by Lake Associates, and

WHEREAS the City shall retain the right of incremental review and continual controls throughout the progress of the development, and

WHEREAS the role of the City is seen to be one of cooperation with the developers and one which will encourage the best possible and most advanced development.

Five (5) citizens commented on the Resolution.

Roll Call Vote: Yeas: Fitzpatrick, Jessup, Gierlach, Moody. Nays: None. Abstention: Behling. Commissioner Behling stated her reason for abstaining from voting was that living adjacent to the land involved may be construed by many as having a conflict of interest which, if she voted, may jeopardize the entire resolution. However, she indicated she was in concurrence with the vacation of Front Street as outlined in the resolution. RESOLUTION DECLARED ADOPTED.

Moved by Gierlach, seconded by Behling, that the meeting adjourn. Meeting adjourned.

KEITH L. FITZPATRICK
 Mayor
 THOMAS GARLOCK,
 City Clerk

I, Thomas Garlock, City Clerk, hereby declare that the above Resolution was passed and adopted at the above Special Meeting held on Tuesday, September 19, 1978, at 6:00 p.m.

Commissioner Jessup indicated three (3) changes to the minutes of the Special Meeting of the City Commission held on Friday, August 18, 1978 and they were as follows:

The day of the week for August 18, 1978 should be Friday (Not Thursday as indicated).

Commissioner Jessup pointed out that the second motion (moved by Jessup, seconded by Moody) was that the study be conducted and financed by the developers, Lake Associates. However, the motion and second were withdrawn. Lake Associates indicated they would consider reimbursing the City for the engineering aspect of the study if their proposed development should become reality.

Commissioner Jessup had requested that the letter written by Consultant John O. Simonds of Environmental Planning and Design, dated March 20, 1978, be included in the minutes in its entirety since portions of it were discussed at the meeting:

RE: The South Lakeshore Development

Dear Catherine:

It was good to hear from you and to learn more details of the City's progress.

For many years Marjorie and I have driven past that rather bleak stretch of "tannery" waterfront land and wished that it could be put to the use it deserves. As your group has well noted - the property is the very key to the City's future and will have much to do with the character of the whole Boyne City environs.

Against the range of alternatives a resort-residential complex of high quality, low density, and with a supporting public park, restaurant and marina - would seem to be near optimum. It would:

Assure public access to the lake.
Improve the visual quality of a large area of waterfront, both to and from the lake.

Strengthen and diversify the city's economic base.

Be a "good neighbor".

The three main issues to be resolved would seem to be:

1. The closing of the present road. It is doubtful that a fine waterfront residential resort development could be attracted to the site if it were cut off from the water edge by an arterial roadway. For the right of vacating the roadway the property owners should be expected to contribute substantially if not wholly to the improvement of the by-pass, which should function well as a link of the traffic network. The limited volume of additional traffic to be generated by the proposed apartment, restaurant and marina uses would be light, off-peak, and cause little impact.

2. The site and architectural configuration of the plan. A handsome development should be assured through the phased review and approval of the plans as they evolve. In this regard it would hoped the City's role would be one of co-operation and the encouragement of the best possible and most advanced development, rather than one of tight control and adherence to restrictive regulations not specifically suited to the particular use or a consolidated site. The best development will be achieved by the application of the "PUD" or "PCD" approach which relaxes the normal setback and parcel requirements and judges a unified plan on the sole basis of performance.

3. The cost-benefit yield to the City. The ratio of tax income and other benefits to the City, over public costs, should be positive in both the short and long range perspective. It would be reasonable to require of the developer that he furnish a detailed analysis to substantiate the overall benefits to Boyne City and its residents.

I appreciate your thought as to the possibility of my serving as a consultant - but one of the many appeals of Michigan is that my days and evenings there are free of meetings. From what you have mentioned of the caliber of the Commission members, and from what I know of the site planning members of the development team I would doubt that further consultation is needed beyond that which has been well provided by Mr. Mercer's report. Should a particular traffic, engineering or other problem arise a consultant might be engaged to address the specific matter at hand.

You know, of course, that I will continue to be interested in always happy to discuss the project with you.

Sincerely,

(signed) John

Minutes of the Special Commission Meeting of August 18, 1978 were approved as corrected.

Communication from Mr. R. Douglas Shields was read commending Harbormaster, Grant Moore, for his efficient operation of the Boyne City Marina. All present were in full accord in appreciation of Mr. Moore's performance in his duties as Harbormaster.

A letter was received from Mr. John E. Nagle concerning the purchase of the soccer field which is located on city-owned property. It was recommended by Commissioner Gierlach that Avalanche Preserve be considered as a possible site for the soccer field.

Moved by Moody, seconded by Behling, that this be jointly referred to the Planning Commission and the Parks and Recreation Commission and that they report back to the City Commission prior to the next regular City Commission Meeting. Roll Call: All yeas. Motion carried.

A letter was read from John and Thelma Clark supporting the Tannery Project.

Violators of this Ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punishable for each offense upon conviction by a fine of not more than Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars or by imprisonment in the County Jail for a period not exceeding ninety (90) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the Court.

Section 5 - This Ordinance is an emergency Ordinance and shall be effective on the Twenty-Eighth (28) day of September, 1978.

The above Ordinance was duly passed and adopted by the City Commission of the City of Boyne City at the regular meeting of the City Commission held on the twelfth (12) day of September, 1978.

Keith Fitzpatrick, Mayor
Thomas Garlock, Clerk

Commissioner Gierlach requested that the ordinance be placed into immediate effect and waive Section 7.14 of the City Charter: "The effective date of all ordinances shall be prescribed therein but the effective date shall not be less than fifteen days after enactment nor before publication thereof."

Moved by Fitzpatrick, seconded by Behling, that the Nature Conservancy Use Ordinance be enacted this date with an effective date of September 28, 1978. Roll Call: All yeas. Motion carried.

City Manager Clifton recommended that the bid of R. & C.C. Bollinger, Inc. for a 1979 Dodge pickup in the amount of $5,540.00 be accepted. Funds were budgeted and are available in Account Code 103-E-5 New Equipment.

Moved by Gierlach, seconded by Jessup, that the City Commission accept the bid of R. & C.C. Bollinger, Inc. and authorize the City Manager to sign on behalf of the City. Roll Call: All yeas. Motion carried.

It was pointed out that monies were budgeted in Account Code 103-E-5 New Equipment in the total amount of $6,000. The cost of an 8-foot coverall which will be attached to the box of the pickup costs $661.00 and, consequently, exceeds the budgeted amount by $201.00. City Manager Clifton recommended approval for a transfer of funds in this amount from Account Code 103-B10 Repair and Maintenance of Equipment to cover the additional expense.

Moved by Jessup, seconded by Gierlach, that this transfer of funds be accomplished. Roll Call: All yeas. Motion carried.

City Manager Clifton recommended that the bid of R. & C.C. Bollinger, Inc. for a 1979 International Truck in the amount of $13,360.00, less a trade-in of a 1962 International Truck for $1,200.00 be accepted. Total cost with trade-in being $12,160.00.

It was recommended that the City Manager be authorized to sign on behalf of the City for the purchase of the 1979 International truck as the old dump truck had become too costly to maintain. Funds were approved in the 1978 budget in Account Code 525 Motor Pool - New Equipment.

Motion made by Moody, seconded by Jessup, that the above recommendation be supported. Roll Call: All yeas. Motion carried.

City Manager Clifton pointed out that due to the delay in relocating to the new City Offices prior to the onset of winter, it is necessary that repairs be made to the boiler system in the present facilities. The City would not be insured for any damage if the boiler malfunctions if the present leak is not repaired.

City Manager Clifton indicated that prior to the repair of the leak in the boiler, the lime deposits must be cleaned from the boiler system.

Moved by Fitzpatrick, seconded by Jessup, that the City Commission authorize the City Manager to enter into a contract with Industrial Solvents, Inc., St. Louis, Michigan, to remove the lime deposits. Roll Call: All yeas. Motion carried.

Moved by Gierlach, seconded by Behling, that the City Commission authorize the City Manager to enter into a contract with Ware Brothers, Traverse City, to repair the leak in the boiler system at the present City Offices. Roll Call: All yeas. Motion carried.

With the retirement of Ruth Neymark, an alternate must be designated as Street Administrator for the City of Boyne City to verify receipts from the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund and prepare the necessary documentation for receipt of same.

RESOLVED: The City Commission designates the City Manager as Street Administrator for the purpose of filing for Motor Vehicle Highway Funds.

Moved by Gierlach, seconded by Jessup, that the above resolution be adopted. Roll Call: All yeas. Motion carried.

City Manager Clifton advised that upon the recommendation of the auditing firm of Hill, Woodcock & Distel to comply with Charter provisions regarding transfer of funds, a resolution must be made transferring $40,000 from the sale of airport property to Account Code 80-E-2 New City Hall.

RESOLVED: The City Commission approves the transfer of $40,000 from the sale of airport property to Account Code 80-E-2 New City Hall.

Moved by Gierlach, seconded by Behling, that the above resolution be adopted. Roll Call: All yeas. Motion carried.

City Manager Clifton presented to the City Commission a resolution of the Parks and Recreation Commission that Ball Diamonds A and B at Rotary Park be designated Lynda Christensen and Forbes Tompkins Field respectively.

RESOLVED: The City Commission designates Rotary Park Ball Diamond A as Lynda Christensen Ball Diamond and Rotary Park Ball Diamond B as Forbes Tompkins Ball Diamond.

Moved by Jessup, seconded by Behling, that the above resolution be adopted. Roll Call: All yeas. Motion carried.

City Manager Clifton pointed out that the development of the Old Tannery property has been discussed accurately as determining the future and the character of the City of Boyne City. An equally significant parcel of land which is much smaller but which will also shape the future and the character of the City is the property currently occupied by the City Hall. The site is a prime location since it is adjacent to the central business district, the financial center of the City, the waterfront, and the park. It is imperative that considerable planning occur prior to determining the fate of the City Hall property.

Moved by Moody, seconded by Jessup, that the sale of the present City Hall and Street Garage facilities be referred to the Planning Commission for discussion and a recommendation forwarded to the City Commission prior to the October 10 meeting. Roll Call: All yeas. Motion carried.

City Manager Clifton gave the Monthly Budget Report for the month of August, 1978 and Accounts Payable in the amount of $9,299.14 was approved. Future reports will indicate the percent of unexpended funds available.

John Talboys requested permission to split in half (78.5 feet) Lots 44, 45, 48 and 49 of Calberts Addition to the Village of South Boyne, known in the tax roll as Property Number 15-51-479-041-00. There were no objections.

Motion made by Fitzpatrick, seconded by Gierlach, that the split be made. Roll Call: All yeas. Motion carried.

With the retirement of Ruth Neymark as Treasurer; and until a replacement is appointed, the City Manager recommends he be designated as financial representative of the City.

RESOLVED: The City Commission authorizes the City Manager be designated as financial representative of the City to sign and endorse checks and bank cards.

Motion made by Fitzpatrick, seconded by Gierlach, that the above resolution be adopted. Roll Call: All yeas. Motion carried.

City Manager Clifton advised that repairs are required on the filter control console at the Wastewater Treatment Plant. A discussion ensued concerning an annual maintenance contract to cover such breakdowns. City Manager Clifton will look into this further and report back to the City Commission.

Moved by Moody, seconded by Behling, that the City Manager be authorized to enter into a contract with Fisher & Porter of Kalamazoo to make the necessary repairs. Roll Call: All yeas. Motion carried.

City Manager Clifton advised he was in receipt of an Offer to Purchase city-owned property located on North East Street (Property No. 15-51-050-093-00 - Lot 93 of City of Boyne City Assessor's Plat of Jerseys Addition) from Colwell & Company.

Motion made by Fitzpatrick, seconded by Gierlach, that this be referred to the Planning Commission. Roll Call: All yeas. Motion carried.

City Manager Clifton pointed out there were two vacancies on the Zoning Board of Appeals for a three year period, effective 9-1-78. Motion made by Gierlach, seconded by Behling, that Catherine Jessup be named. Roll Call: All yeas. Motion carried.

Motion made by Fitzpatrick, seconded by Behling, that Dale Parsons be retained for another three-year period. Roll Call: All yeas. Motion carried.

City Manager Clifton advised there were three vacancies on the Planning Commission for a three-year period, effective 10-1-78.

Motion made by Fitzpatrick, seconded by Jessup, that Arthur Steinbrecher be reappointed for another three-year period. Roll Call: All yeas. Motion carried.

Motion made by Fitzpatrick, seconded by Gierlach, that Martin Paul be reappointed for another three-year period. Roll Call: All yeas. Motion carried.

Motion made by Moody, seconded by Fitzpatrick, that Lewis Upton be reappointed for another three-year period. Roll Call: All yeas. Motion carried.

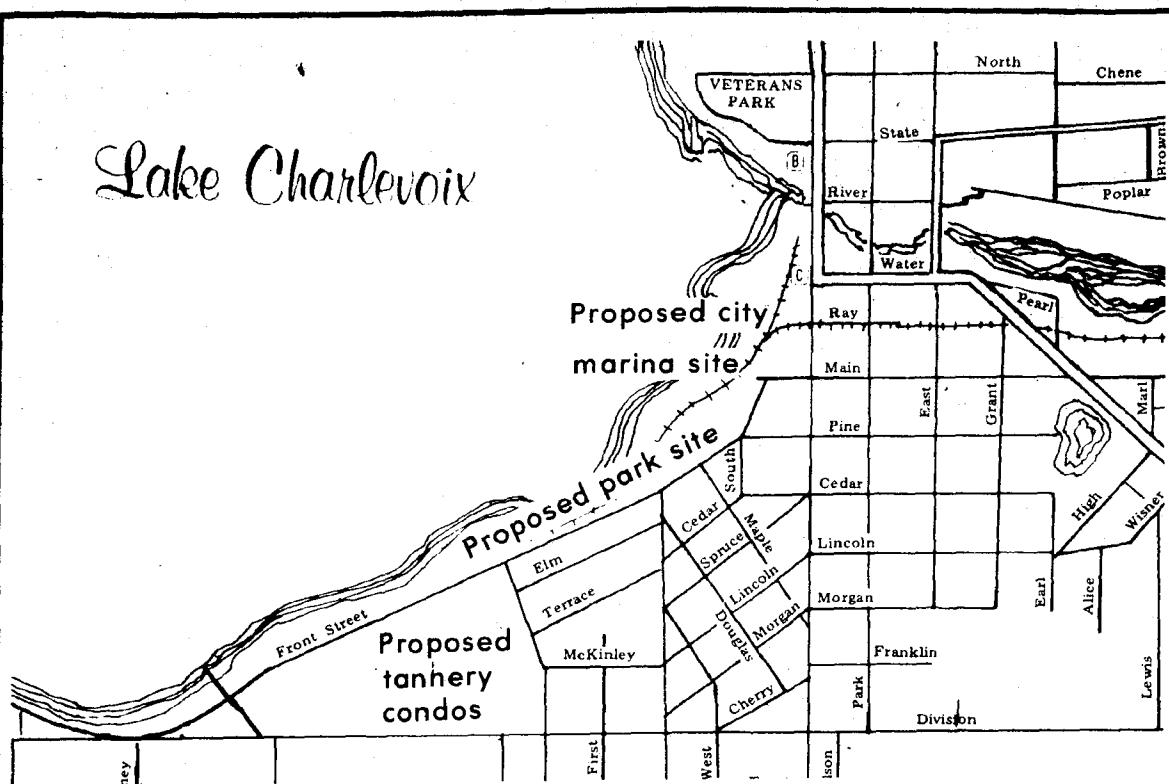

City Manager Clifton advised there was a vacancy on the Library Board for a five-year period, effective 9-21-78. Reverend Timothy Holcomb Denmore was recommended by the Library Board.

Motion made by Jessup, seconded by Gierlach, that Reverend Timothy Holcomb Denmore be appointed for a five-year term to the Library Board. Roll Call: All yeas. Motion carried.

Moved by Gierlach, seconded by Jessup, to adjourn. Meeting adjourned.

What's ahead for lake? Negotiations underway

BY JOE McELROY

BOYNE CITY - The relationship of the various developments planned for Boyne City's lakefront has become increasingly apparent recently. The group that wants to build a 100-slip marina near the Boyne Valley Railroad roundhouse now says its project probably won't succeed unless it is tied in with the development of condominiums on the tannery property.

And the future of the tannery project may in turn be influenced by how the property east of the 55 acres eyed by Lake Associates is developed.

Arch Wright, who heads the group that owns the railroad property, said the marina project would be much more expensive than originally anticipated. So his group has approached Lake Associates, which recently renewed its option on the tannery property, to see if the two groups can jointly fund one marina near the railroad property. "It's uneconomical unless we can pull the two together," Wright said.

Lake Associates' initial plans for the tannery call for a large marina near the northeast corner of the property. Rick and Dave Smith of Lake Associates have indicated an interest in doing business with the marina group. They can't make a final decision, however, until they are certain they will succeed in their desire to build approximately 250 condominium units on the tannery property.

Part of that decision will be determined by negotiations with the city regarding who should pay for park development of the land directly northeast of the tannery property. This area, bounded by the city sewage plant and Second Street extended, is also for sale and platted for nine single family homes on 100 ft. lakefront lots.

But the Smiths and some members of the parks commission and city commission would rather see a park on the land. "Homes would be a terrible use of that land," Rick Smith said.

In the resolution giving preliminary approval to the closing of Front Street for the condo project, the city commission said Lake Associates should "contribute substantially or wholly" to the development of the park.

Rick and Dave Smith say they would be interested in such an arrangement, but say the increased costs might jeopardize their project. Another financial concern of theirs is the proposed new street which could run west of Second Street, relieving traffic congestion on Second and Division. The Smiths say paying for both the new street and park land might be financially difficult for them. But several city commissioners said last week they would approve the closing of Front Street only if the new street is constructed.

The Smiths and city officials will negotiate who will pay for what during the 60-day extension granted them last week by Circuit Court Judge Martin Breighner, who must approve the closing of Front Street. The developers asked for the extension to allow more time to negotiate. Some opponents of the project had also voiced concern that more time was needed to study the proposal.

The Smiths have extended their option until June, but say they won't wait that long to decide whether to buy the property. They said a decision will probably come in 60 days, after the court decision and further negotiations with the city. Meanwhile, the uncertain future of the tannery project has put the downtown marina in a holding pattern because of See page nine for full text of the City Commission's resolution on the closing of Front Street.

unexpected high costs. Arch Wright's group had proposed allowing the city to build the marina on 400-500 feet of their lakefront between Main and Water Streets with hopes of building a restaurant-marine supply complex near the marina.

The project would be funded by the Department of Natural Resources, Wright's group and $125,000 in city money, which the city would recoup from dock rentals.

Wright's group originally thought the marina would cost approximately $1-million, but further research showed the cost would be about $2.5-million.

The estimates went higher when marine engineers discovered that the 15-foot deep water would make the project more expensive. "The water is so deep that it makes breakwaters too expensive," said Ray Lawrence, chief planner for the waterways division of the DNR. "The costs were obviously excessive."

The higher cost would have made the project more expensive for the city, which was considering funding five percent of the project. "We definitely need the slips but the city can't afford it," said City Manager Tim Clifton. "We need those private dollars."

DNR engineers suggested moving the slips and the breakwaters closer to shore into shallow water. This would cut the cost 45 percent to $1,375,000, but Wright says it would take away 100 feet of the land his group hopes to develop.

"The only benefit to us economically is to develop the land behind the marina facility," he said. "Taking part of it away wouldn't work well. The thing wouldn't fly."

Wright said his group plans to sit tight until the future of the tannery becomes more clear. If that project falls through, he said, "We can go ahead with some other use of the property. There are innumerable possibilities."

DNR official Lawrence said his department would probably look favorably on the marina project if financial arrangements can be made. "The need is there and it's a lovely town," he said. "We've been looking at Boyne City for years for a marina. This would be a reasonably good site."

Lawrence said the DNR had considered expansion of Boyne's present 20 slip public marina, but ran into similar problems with deep water.

He said construction costs, which have risen 25 percent in two years, make state funding of new marinas increasingly difficult. "We still get some things built," he said, "but the costs are rising so rapidly we can hardly keep up with them."

"Sometimes we open the bids on projects and find we can't even do them because the costs are just too high."

Arch Wright looks over the property he and his partners bought near the old railroad roundhouse. His group hopes to donate lakefront for a city marina, but it will cost more than initially expected. (Press photo by Joe McElroy.)

New school principal . . .

He won't get stale

BY JOE McELROY

BOYNE CITY - If there's anything Rick Casper can't tolerate, it's getting into a rut. The new high school principal says he decided to leave classroom work for administration because he felt he had reached his "teaching half-life, the point when you start to become less efficient as a teacher."

"Some teachers may be efficient for 30 years. My half-life was 10 years. In honesty to myself and students, I felt it was time for a change."

When he was teaching science, Casper didn't allow himself the luxury of using the same notes and teaching materials year after year. At the end of each school year, he would throw away the year's materials. "I know that it's too easy to get into a rut. That was a mechanism for starting off the year fresh."

The 38-year-old Boyne City native has some definite ideas on what he hopes to accomplish in his new job. "My most important priority as a principal is the sociology of our students. As an administrator, I'm interested in how they view themselves and people around them," he said.

"If we can graduate students who have good attitudes about themselves, they will be successful in life. So many kids have ability, but lack confidence."

Casper said the school's main strength is the veteran staff, which is "oriented towards the same goals I have. We're fortunate to have a student-oriented staff."

A student-oriented staff is one that does more listening than talking to students, Casper feels. It's an issue about which he has strong feelings. "Teachers who feel that what they have to say is more important than how they can help a kid should find another profession," Casper says. "Close rapport between teachers and students helps build confidence levels."

As assistant principal last year, Casper gained a reputation as a strict but respected disciplinarian who got along well with students. The line between boss and advisor is a thin one, but Casper says, "The real keyword is 'fair.' As long as you're tough with everyone and don't make exceptions, they respect you."

When Casper was appointed, it was the first time the high school had named an assistant principal. Casper feels the position was needed. "There's simply no way one man can take charge of 550 students by himself."

A new assistant principal is now being sought, but Bob McCullough is acting assistant for part of the day. Whoever is assisting Casper, he says the school will adopt a policy of enforcing "basic rules but not making them unsufferable. The kids understand that."

"Our philosophy here is that the teachers and administrators are the boss. We run the school, but we want a relaxed, happy atmosphere. You have to work at it."

Casper believes the school can't turn out successful students without help from parents. "I don't look at the school as filling the role of the parent. We pick up the slack where we can."

"If it comes to a point where the student does not respond to what we have to offer, and is detracting from the education of the other students, we will ask him to leave."

Any long-term suspension or expulsion must be approved by the superintendent and the school board. In an earlier era, the principal could act on his own without approval from higher authority, but Casper thinks a suspension or expulsion is serious enough for more than one person to make the decision.

Casper probably shows more sympathy than usual to the less-than-perfect student because he himself was a "late-bloomer." He says, "Anybody involved in education enjoys working with kids. I enjoy being a part of it now because I wasn't a particularly good student myself."

Since he was a student who didn't perform to his full potential in his early years, Casper says, "Hopefully I can help those kids in whom I recognize the same symptoms. The real challenge of education is helping a kid realize his real potentials."

That challenge has been made more complicated by the problems the school district is having getting its operational millage approved by the voters. "I'm a little surprised by it," Casper says. "Boyne City has always been supportive of the schools."

"We have a lot of negative voters simply because of basic economics. They honestly feel they can't afford any more taxes."

Third vote for millage

BOYNE CITY - Voters will go to the polls Monday, October 2, for the third time to determine a school millage. After higher millages were soundly defeated in the first two elections, the Board of Education this time is seeking approval of 18.8 mills for operating expenses.

The board had initially sought 20.6 mills, a 2.8 mill increase, but that request was defeated in June by almost a two to one margin.

In the second election, voters had their choice of two ballots, but both were defeated. This time the board has gone back to a single ballot.

The 18.8 mills being sought includes 17.8 renewed mills from last year and one additional mill for new expenses caused by inflation and the opening of a new school building. The 18.8 mills represents $18.80 of property taxes for every $1,000 of assessed valuation. Some senior citizens and people with low incomes are eligible for refunds on much of their school taxes.

School officials were able to keep present school programs intact after the first two millage defeats by finding money from other sources, such as an unexpected increase in state aid and the sale of the house built by the building trades class for $39,500. But they say there is a limit to how much money they can dig up.

Kelly says if the millage is turned down again the school system would seek an emergency loan from the state legislature. But he said there is no assurance such a loan would be approved.

If it's not, Kelly said, the school would be forced to operate on its 9.1 mills of allocated millage. Kelly said this would cause "massive layoffs and massive reduction of programs." He said all extracurricular activities would be dropped.

But Kelly doesn't think that will happen. "I keep thinking the people will see we have made cuts wherever we can. I feel they will pass this one."

Kelly said there will be no fourth election, even if this one fails, because there won't be enough time before the November 7 general election to get it on the ballot.

Where to vote

Although many of Boyne City's students are in different buildings this year, don't get confused on where to vote in the Monday, October 2 school millage election.

The polling place is still the school gym on East Street, part of the building that now houses the middle school. It's the building that was formerly the elementary school.

The polls will open at 7 p.m. and close at 8 p.m. All registered voters who live in the school district are eligible to vote.

Theater to be sold

BOYNE CITY - Unless there is a last minute delay, the Boyne Theatre will be sold Friday, September 29 to John Patterson, who presently owns the Gaslight Cinema in Petoskey.

Patterson said he plans to assume operation of the theater on Lake Street on October 1 and will probably begin showing movies Friday, October 6.

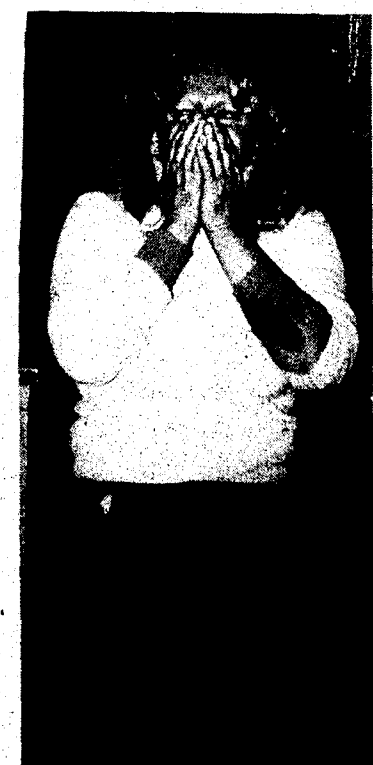

Patterson said he will be showing first run movies, "or as close to first-run as we can get them." Present owner Joe Gierlach has been plagued by the problem of not being able to show new movies until after they have been shown in larger cities, such as Petoskey.

The Petoskey theater owner bought the Gaslight five years ago after he moved north from Detroit. "I think there is a lot of potential in the Boyne City area," Patterson said. "More people go to the movies now than ever before."

Patterson said he plans to install updated equipment soon. He said he might start a special senior citizens rate and said the theater would probably be available for community functions, such as the high school play, as it has been in the past.

Joe Gierlach has received criticism over the years for showing x-rated movies, which Patterson said he will discontinue. "I don't think this area lends itself to that," he said. Gierlach, who owned the theater nine years, has been showing x-rated films during his last days at the theater. He says he needed to show them to pay off his bills.

Color tour time again for railroad

BY SANDY VANSTEENKISTE

BOYNE CITY - Autumn in northern Michigan may be the most beautiful season of the year as the woods, countryside and even highway roadides show off their display of fall colors.

One simple way to enjoy the beauty of God's country is to join the Boyne Valley Railroad and take a ride on the fall color tour. The BVRR is in its third flourishing season, offering once again this color tour through the trails on its rails. The tours are every Saturday and Sunday and continue through October 22.

The obvious highlight of this 14 mile, one hour and 40 minute ride this time of year is the changing scenery. Since the Boyne Valley area is filled with its own Michigan mountains and numerous trees it can offer to the passengers aboard a beautiful array of colors.

After passing the remains of a turn-of-the-century lumber mill, the White Pine Line (named in honor of Boyne's earlier lumber era) continues through a magnificent tunnel of Sugarbush maples, past abandoned logging camp sites and into the lush Boyne River Valley, its forests and rolling meadows alive with color. Another sight along the route to Boyne Falls is the Boyne Mountain resort, known across the country as a year-around recreational mecca.

Weather plays a very important part in the railroad business here. Pat Stadtmiller, secretary, bookkeeper and general upkeeper for railroad publicity and business matters, said a sunny day in the summer didn't really attract too many; instead they went to the beach. But a sunny day in the coolness of fall gathers many people to the railroad. Most of the business, Pat said, comes from the people downstate and out of state.

In 1976 the first year the railroad was in operation they did a good business. Many of the local people rode it then, but haven't supported it much after that. "Last year, was a bad fall for us because the whole month of September it rained," Pat said. "The colors came and went very quickly, not really displaying as much to look at as it can."

The railroad has been advertising differently for this fall color tour by sending out brochures and making posters to have something more visual to entice riders. Pat said the response has been very good as people from all over have been calling to inquire about the railroad, its tours and trips in general.

One incentive to take the train is for those poor automobile drivers who don't really get a chance to see all the colors and sights of autumn that the passengers see. So, as Pat said, instead of four people viewing the colors and one driving, all five can enjoy while riding the BVRR.

Pat said that the people who bought the railroad and the people who work for the BVRR. "It's too bad that rail travel isn't as popular as it used to be," Pat said. "It's such an enjoyable way to travel. I really think Americans are losing their heritage."

Pat has good feelings about the railroad now. She said there's a good crew of people willing to devote volunteer work. "If enthusiasm counts, this railroad will count, too," Pat said. She accounted for this by calling it a "labor of love" that prevails within the people involved.

Tickets for this rail experience are $3.50 for adults and $2.00 for children. Senior citizens and students with a group of over 30 are able to receive discounts. The train can also be reserved for charter color tours. So to those interested or just for further information, call or write the Boyne Valley Railroad Company, 112 S. Park, Boyne City, Michigan 49712, 616-582-2232.

Why do leaves change?

Here we are in the midst of autumn as all the beautiful fall colors illuminate the treetops. You sit back and gaze in amazement at how the process of leaves changing into different colors really happens.

Why don't trees just lose their green leaves in a quiet manner and come back again next spring as they left off in the fall?

A Wayne State University professor said that as the leaves "senesce" - die and break down - the green chloroplasts die and are not replaced and the hidden colors come out of storage.

The leaves die because it is not to their advantage to keep them. They don't get enough light or heat to produce energy through photosynthesis, and their exposed surface would lose water that the tree needs to get through the winter.

Many people think that frost is responsible for changing the leaves, but actually it just helps trigger it since many change before frost even occurs.

During the spring and summer, the leaves have served as factories where most of the food necessary for the trees' growth are manufactured. This food-making process takes place in the leaf in numerous cells containing the chlorophyll, which give the leaf its green color.

But in the fall, partly because of changes in the period of daylight and changes in temperature, the leaves stop their food-making process. The chlorophyll breaks down, the green color disappears, and the yellows become visible, giving the leaves part of their fall splendor.

Fall weather conditions favoring the formation of brilliant red autumn color are warm sunny days followed by cool nights with temperatures below 45 degrees F. Much sugar is made in the leaves during the daytime, but cool nights prevent the movement of sugar from the leaves. The red pigment is formed from the sugars trapped in the leaves.

Color cruises start Sat.

CHARLEVOIX - A unique way to see the fall colors is aboard the Beaver Islander, which will be making its first color cruise of the season at 1 p.m. this Saturday.

The cruises around Lake Charlevoix are often sold out, so it's best to call the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce office (547-2101) first to reserve a ticket.

The two hour color cruises will also be departing from the Beaver Island Boat Dock at 1 p.m. on Oct. 7, 8 and 14. Tickets are $6 per person, and the price includes refreshments and drinks.

Check out Elm Point

EAST JORDAN - When you're out viewing the fall colors, an interesting stopping point is the East Jordan Art and Historical Museum.

The museum is located at Elm Point, a city park on highway M-66, about two miles north of M-32.

The museum is open from 1 to 4:30 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays during September and October.

Displays set up for the city's centennial celebration this summer are still on exhibit, as is the city's large, elaborate handmade centennial quilt.

A picnic area overlooking the South Arm of Lake Charlevoix is adjacent to the museum.

Seniors plan bazaar

EAST JORDAN - The Charlevoix County Senior Center will be sponsoring a bazaar from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 7.

Crafts and baked goods will be sold, and lunch will be available. A quilt which was also handmade by a number of senior citizens will also be sold during the bazaar.

Anyone who would like to exhibit may call Senior Center Director Dorothy Pelton at 536-7831.

Ramblers getting ready for tough Petoskey game

BOYNE CITY - This week is something special for the Boyne City High School football team. The Ramblers are getting ready to face their neighbors, Petoskey.

"It's a big week," says Rambler Coach Bob McCullough. "We're awfully excited about it. These two schools have played each other forever. Petoskey and Charlevoix are probably our biggest rivalries."

McCullough said he expects 5,000 fans in Petoskey's stadium when the game starts Friday at 8 p.m. "They're a big school with a lot of potential and they're always well-organized," he said.

Petoskey is 2-1 this season. The Northmen beat St. Ignace 20-0 last week and also beat Cadillac 14-7. Their loss was to Ludington, 13-6.

McCullough says a larger school like Petoskey has more athletes to choose from, and can come up with players like halfback Duane Spencer. "He's tough enough to play tackle on defense," McCullough says. The Ramblers can also expect Spencer to throw more than Boyne's previous opponents, McCullough said.

The Boyne coach thinks his team can beat Petoskey. "If we can eliminate our mental mistakes and play four good quarters, not just three," McCullough said his team started strong in its 21-14 victory last week over Rogers City, but then coasted for a while.

"So rather than polish them off, we had to fight them off," McCullough said. But he was still pleased with the Ramblers' first touchdown, which came after a 99-yard, 15 play drive when Tom Looze scored on a six yard run.

"A 99-yard drive is very hard," McCullough said, "even for a college team. They didn't make any mistakes."

It was the first game of the year for fullback Looze, who had been recovering from a knee injury. Both his running and blocking helped the Ramblers use a power-I formation for most of the game. The formation calls for a blocking back to lead the ballcarrier into the line.

"When you have a 200 lb. fullback you can do that," McCullough said. "It's nice to have our full team out there."

Later in the game Rogers City started concentrating on stopping runs up the middle, so Boyne ran sweeps with quarterback Ray Greene making several long runs. "It helps to have a quarterback who can run," said McCullough.

He said Greene and Bill Hoaglund will continue to alternate between quarterback and halfback. Green directed the team against Rogers City, McCullough said, because "He runs the power set pretty well and we didn't throw much. We would probably pass a little more with Bill."

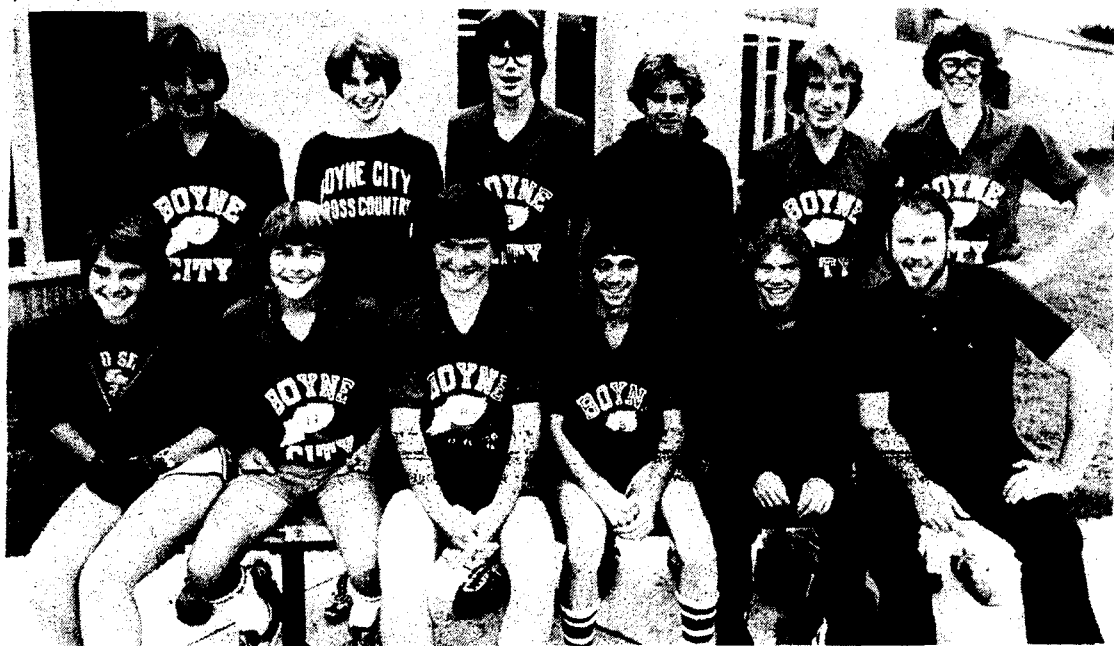

McCullough said he might use Tim Hartwick at quarterback in bad weather to get more size into the backfield.

Boyne City's junior varsity won a tough 14-12 decision over Rogers City in a game played Thursday in Rogers City. The Hurons were ahead 7-0 at halftime, but Mitch Rickhard and Mark Pruett scored for Boyne in the second half.

Rogers City scored late to come within two points, but the Ramblers stopped Rogers City on their crucial conversion effort.

Harriers finish second

BY GRACE MOOSE
Student Reporter

After losing their first meet last Tuesday, the Boyne City Rambler cross country team finished second in a tri-meet against Mancelona and McBain-Christian on Thursday, September 21.

The meet was held in good running conditions. The air was cool, but there was little wind. The runners complained of a sandy, but not too hilly course.

Duane Bass of McBain-Christian took first place with 17:19, breaking the course record by over a minute.

Tom Pluister came in second over all and first for the Ramblers with a time of 17:29. Boyne runner Brian McGeorge came on strong in the last few yards with a Mancelona runner right beside him. It was a close race right to the end with the other man taking ninth in 18:44 and McGeorge taking 10th with 18:45.

Other Ramblers placing high were newcomer Tim Crumbaugh, taking 12th with 19:28; team captain Clark McGeorge with 19:35 at the 13th position; and Jeff Snyder placed 14th in 19:40. Boyne City also had the only two girls running in the race. They both bettered their own time from the previous race by over a minute.

The Mancelona team placed first as an overall team. Dan Biehl was third with 17:40 and Barry Watson was fourth with 17:44. Mancelona fared very well, taking six of the top ten positions.

East Jordan JV's bomb Charlevoix

BY MIKE CIHAK

The East Jordan Junior Varsity football team went on to the field last Thursday night at Charlevoix, determined to avenge last year's 14-0 loss. When the contest was over, the scoreboard showed that East Jordan had succeeded a 32-0 victory.

The Devils showed strength all around, but especially on defense, which allowed only three first downs, and never allowed Charlevoix past the East Jordan 40 yard line. The offense was powered by excellent blocking in the line, as well as hard running by the backs, who gained 319 yards rushing. The kicking game kept the Red Raiders pinned deep in their own territory.

Bill Spence opened the scoring by galloping 21 yards for a touchdown, and Jerry Fuller scored the two point conversion to make the score 8-0. Moments later, Spence tackled the Raider quarterback in his own end zone for a safety to make the score 10-0. Spence scored again, bulging his way 4 yards to make the score 16-0. Once more it was Bill Spence, this time catching the conversion pass from quarterback Del Ingalls to make the score at half 18-0.

In the second half, Randy Morris scored, 24-0. On the next series, the Raider punter was tackled in his own end zone, this time by Steve Hilden for another safety.

With the score 26-0, Ivan Washegishik dove 3 yards for the final East Jordan tally.

EJ girls lose to Mancy

It's hard to play catch-up, as the East Jordan girls basketball team discovered in a 48-33 loss at Mancelona. The home team scored 15 points in the first quarter and East Jordan never caught up.

Roxann Frank led the varsity in scoring with 11 points.

The JV's did better at Mancy, winning 32-16. East Jordan led by just three at halftime, 14-11, but outscored Mancelona 18-5 in the third quarter. Colleen Thompson had 12 points.

Boyne kickers shut out

BY PAT LIPSKI

The Boyne City soccer team was shutout 3-0 in a Northwest Michigan League game against Traverse City Sunday.

A penalty shot taken by Traverse City's goalkeeper resulted in their first goal 12 minutes before halftime. Boyne forward Chris Todter made a good attempt on goal early in the second half. Playing substitute goalie for Boyne was Hans Spears, with Dave LaBrecque coming in for the last 20 minutes of the match.

Next Sunday's schedule is as follows: Boyne City vs. Harbor Springs at Harbor Springs; Northport vs. Leland at Leland; and Gaylord vs. Traverse City at Boyne City. All games are scheduled for 3:30 p.m. kickoff.

Anyone interested in playing this fast growing sport is welcome to attend the practice sessions at the Boyne City field on M-75 just outside the city limits (across the street from the Mogul Inn). Practice is Tuesday & Thursday evenings at 6 p.m.
