TEN CENTS

OVER THE BACK FENCE

BY MARSHALL

Celebrating National 4-H club week the 4-H clubs of this area have arranged window displays to show residents some of the work members have accomplished.

Displays appear in windows at Jordan Heating and Refrigeration, Hite Drug Store and the News-Herald. It is well worth your time to stop down and do a little 4-H club window shopping.

John Porter, down in Florida, has been trying for two fruitless years hand running to show visitors there how nice fishing is on the Jordan River. They show movies at his hotel.

John believes the television film of Jordan River fishing will tell the story adequately. We've tried several times to obtain the film for John's showing but we seem to have run into a neck of bottles. If we don't get the film for him soon his friends down there will fear his Jordan River fish stories are just that. Stories.

There hasn't been a store window busted in East Jordan since way back two weeks ago. Which probably proves motorists are now looking where they are going instead of going where they look.

Attending Rotary at Mancelona Monday night with Vern Whiteford we heard some members discussing East Jordan's industrial story which appeared in the nationally circulated Grit this week. The family newspaper ran three photographs and a long news story telling of East Jordan's industrial accomplishments.

Everytime the sun shines brightly like it has a couple of days this week and the weather gets nice and warm, Tom St. Charles looks longingly out the postal portal. We know of what he dreams. That tourist park is not a forgotten project.

Hard working food salesman Joe Nemecek also doubles as fireman. We use him as a guide. When the whistle blows we look out to see if Joe is easing up the street on the triple. If so, then there's a fire. But if Joe remains hard at work then it is probably noon or drill time or the curfew hour or there's some other reason for the whistle blowing when there ain't no conflagration what soever at all.

Friend Gred Boswell is something of an auction sale clerk in his own right. He has clerked more farm sales than you can shake an auctioneer at. For a long heap of time now he has been putting down his noughts and carrying his hyphens and figuring all manner of auction sale details. He has probably clerked more auctions than any other person north of Chestonia.

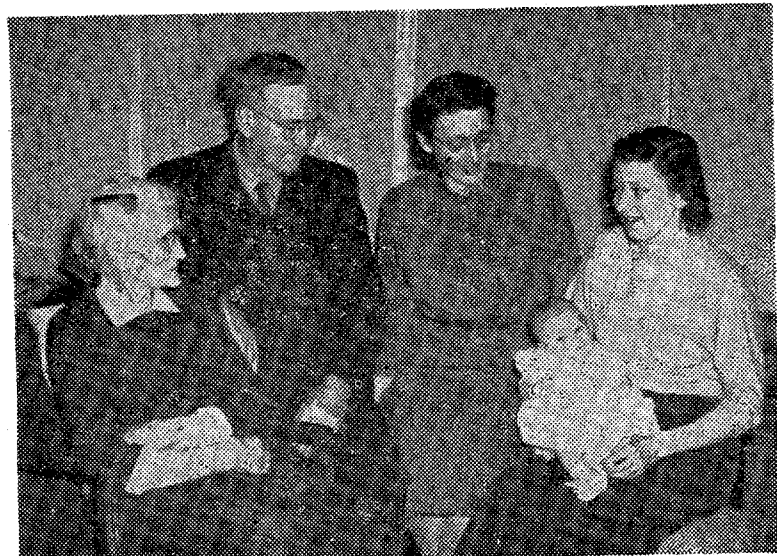

This week the News-Herald made page one of the Publisher's Auxiliary. It's a weekly newspaper going to publishers throughout United States. In other words a trade journal for newspapers. The publication reproduced the News-Herald's August 20th front page on which we used a "world war" type headline (Factory ok) to announce construction of our new factory. The Publisher's Auxiliary used a story on us in sort of a "shop talk" way explaining our coverage of the new factory story.

Bill Swoboda and a few others have been discussing the possibility of a big clean up campaign for East Jordan. And you can lower your eyebrows. Politics are not involved. It's talk about a spring clean-up, fix-up campaign to make our city a nicer place in which to live.

FFA News

The East Jordan FFA Chapter has purchased a pair of dairy clippers. The supervised farming committee under Tom Sheridan will look after the clippers. They are to be used by the members for a small fee. This fee will be used for maintenance.

88 Years Saturday . . .

Mother of the family Mrs. Gertrude Bennett will celebrate her 88th birthday Saturday. She was born in Brush Creek, Iowa, and came here as a small girl, marrying William J. Bennett July 4th 1882.

Ten sons were born to the Bennetts, one passed away in infancy. The remaining nine formed the famous Bennett baseball team which played throughout northern Michigan and professionally when they could book engagements. The father hired coaches, bought uniforms and provided transportation so the boys could "go on the road." They played as far away as Grayling.

In 1950 Mrs. Bennett found her wedding ring which had been lost since 1906. Ray Spence, of East Jordan, whose car had been mired in the mud on the old Bennett estate, found the engraved ring while attempting to move the car.

The father, William Bennett, was for many years a member of the Antrim County board of supervisors and aided construction of the court house at Bellaire. One son, Dan, is an East Jordan councilman.

Youngest of the family is daughter Kay whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cutler. Don, a former East Jordan and Michigan State College football player, now is stationed with the U. S. armed forces in Germany where he has played football for the Army.

Charlevoix-Grayling Meet In Hot Tourney Play Off Tonight

The much talked up Grayling five will meet Charlevoix on the Petoskey basketball court in regional tournament play tonight after moving through the Gaylord district via East Jordan and Mancelona squads.

Regional play at Petoskey is as follows: Wednesday, (last night) Marion vs Traverse City St. Francis; Thursday, (tonight) Charlevoix vs Grayling; Saturday, regional champ games.

FORREST G. BROWN, of Charlevoix, has announced his candidacy for Republican nomination for state representative in the Charlevoix, Antrim, Benzie and Leelanau district.

He will oppose Louis E. Anderson of Northport, incumbent in the August 3 primary election.

A native of Michigan, Brown has been a resident of Charlevoix county since 1945 when he came to make his home in Hayes township to supervise his lumber interests.

For eight years prior to 1945 he was with the Detroit and Grand Rapids office of the U. S. Department of Labor where he also served with the War Labor Board and the War Production Board.

He was born in Lenawee county and attended school at Jasper. He enrolled in the People's University where he attended night school and studied law for the 12 years.

Brown and the late John Knight, also of Charlevoix, opposed Anderson in the 1952 election.

Grayling copped the Gaylord class C tourney last week when they out-reached East Jordan for the basket, 54 to 48 and then walked through Gaylord, 62 to 45.

Charlevoix took the Petoskey district tournament whipping Harbor Springs 50 to 40. District tournament results have pitted two leading teams together for tonight—Charlevoix and Grayling.

Coach Gayle Saxton, whose Red Devils played hard and fast basketball against Grayling all evening making the top state rated team earn their victory says the boys from Charlevoix can and probably will beat Grayling.

SAXTON NOTES that three coaches involved in tournament games at Petoskey are from this area:

Marion is coached by Wally Dietz, formerly of Boyne City; Grayling is coached by Bruce Smith, formerly of Mancelona; and Traverse City S. F. is coached by Dale Wares, of Traverse City, who was also a team mate of Saxton's at Alma.

A former East Jordan Red Devil and now a class D coach at Britton copped a southern district tournament whipping Adrian Catholic Central 41-29. He is coach Bill Saxton.

In class B district tournament play at Gaylord Alba took the championship defeating Gaylord St. Mary's 42-31; at Petoskey's D tournament Ellsworth whipped Boyne Falls 60-40 to take the D honors.

SEVEN TEAMS will enter the Class D Regional play at Traverse City. Alba drew a bye in the first round. Ellsworth was to meet Free Soil last night, the winner playing Alba Friday at 7 p.m.

Rotary To Hear Dan At Dinner

Former Red Devil Coach Dan Devine now head backfield coach at Michigan State College, will be the main speaker at the Rotary Club's annual father and son banquet.

Entertainment Chairman Roy Jenkins said Wednesday that Devine had agreed to speak at the banquet, which will be held 7 p.m. March 25th at the high school.

It is expected that Devine will bring along films taken when MSC's football team played at the Rose Bowl.

The banquet is held annually for all local fathers and sons interested. Tickets may be purchased from any Rotary Club member. Dinner will be served by women of the Catholic church.

Humane Group To Attend State Meeting

The Charlevoix County Humane Society has been invited to send a qualified representative to a Board of Directors meeting of the Michigan Federation of Humane Societies to be held March 15th at Michigan State College.

At a special session the Charlevoix County Humane Society Board of Directors commissioned their president, Mrs. Wesley-R. L'Huillier and Mr. L'Huillier to attend the meeting and obtain advice and assistance regarding negotiations of contracts and management of a United Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Mrs. L'Huillier will inspect and study the Ingham County animal shelter and hopes to obtain material with which to establish a temporary shelter in Charlevoix County.

East Jordan Advertized On Book Matches

One section of the East Jordan Businessmen's advertising project was completed this week when Advertising Chairman Minnie DesJardins received several thousands match covers bearing East Jordan advertising.

The match cover advertising program is one of several now being carried out by the association. Others include construction of road signs and a half page ad in the tourist and resort book "Carefree Days."

The match covers carry a photograph of a white swan on the cover and a message to the reader asking him to visit "Jordan Valley Country."

TV Service To Open Soon In Theatre Building

Announcement was made this week that Shirey Radio and Television Sales and Service will open in the Temple Theater building in rooms formerly occupied by Consumers Power Company.

The announcement was made by Marvin Shirey, of Pinckney, Michigan who has been in the radio service business for 20 years he added television repair when the sets begun to appear on the retail market. Shirey will operate both businesses here and at Pinckney.

Associated with the local store will be Norman Root, former East Jordan businessman who operated Norm's Tavern, later Dip's Tavern. "Norm" as he is known to his many friends here, will be associated with the sales department of the new store and will make his home at his cottage on Lake Charlevoix.

The business will offer television and radio service to customers purchasing sets from the store.

Gets Fast Start City Red Cross Drive Program May Meet Local Quota

Evans On West State All Stars

East Jordan Red Devil ace Keith Evans was placed upon the northwestern Michigan All-Star prep basketball team Tuesday.

Chosen by coaches of 78 area high schools the all-star team is made up of: Pete Tillotson, of Ludington, center; Audley Smith of Alma, forward; Bill Bennett of Charlevoix, forward; Evans guard; and Gary Nielsen of Lake view guard.

Evans was the shortest man named to the first all-star squad. The coaches said Evans' height 5 feet, 9 inches was made up for by his flashing speed and outstanding long shots, especially a 60-foot toss that connected for a basket in the Gaylord tournament.

Evans' scoring average for the conference season was 13.5. Coach Gayle Saxton's 53-54 basketball team which placed second in conference play was built around Evans when the squad was formed at the season's start.

Evans will be lost to the Red Devils next year since he is a senior and the locals are losing one of the most valuable players in both football and basketball in Red Devil history.

Expect Good Weather To Aid, Chairman Lists Workers

East Jordan's annual Red Cross Fund campaign got off to a fast start despite stormy weather, city chairman Mrs. Albert Sinclair said Wednesday.

Solicitors' reports coming in are gratifying, the chairman said, and with better weather ahead the quota for East Jordan seems certain.

"Here in Charlevoix County," Mrs. Sinclair said, "we have each year sent young people for water safety instruction and have conducted classes in first aid and home nursing."

MORE THAN 200 active servicemen and veterans have had Red Cross services through our local chapter during 1953, as well as many civilian families who have received aid.

The above are a few of the services extended each year by county chapter, of which every contributor becomes a member upon giving during the annual drive.

Mrs. Sinclair says the Red Cross does the thing your heart urges you to do. It serves in your name. Through your membership, throughout your belonging, you are there wherever Red Cross serves.

Whenever a serviceman or veteran or disaster victim needs assistance—and because the impulse to offer voluntary aid to neighbors is a part of the traditional pattern of American life, there is scarcely a family in United States that does not take part in the Red Cross effort.

FOLLOWING ARE the Red Cross solicitors in East Jordan: Mrs. Pear McHale, Mrs. Ray Olson, Mrs. Louis Gilak and Mrs. Brintall.

Mrs. Alice Green, Mrs. Gib Sturgell, Mrs. Clyde Wilson, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, Mrs. Russell Barnett, Mrs. Ormond Winston, Mrs. Sherm Thomas, Mrs. Lawrence Hayes, Mrs. Richard Malpass, Mary Stanek and Mable Hudkins.

Mrs. Jack Craig, Mrs. James McLaughlin, Mrs. William Archer, Mrs. Joe Kartan, Mrs. Anna Craft, Mrs. Percy Penfold, Mrs. Edward Thompson, Mrs. Clarence Healey, Mrs. Will Montroy, Mrs. Harry Pearsall, Mrs. Joseph Pienta, Mrs. Leslie Sheridan, Mrs. William Boss, Mrs. William Shepard, Mrs. Victor Croix and Mrs. Everett Beishlag.

FHA Director Gives Answers On Local Home Financing

The federal housing administration does not lend money or build houses, Daniel H. Treleven, director of the Grand Rapids office informs the News-Herald.

"To correct a general misunderstanding," Director Treleven said, "the following facts may be of interest to readers of the News-Herald."

FHA's function is to insure loans made by approved lending institutions such as banks, building and loan associations, insurance companies, and other approved mortgagees.

FHA activities are not confined to large cities. FHA will insure home mortgages on new construction or existing properties in any community where a residential area has been established which is protected by restrictions or zoning, free from undesirable factors, and properly serviced by schools, churches, and shopping areas.

The size of the city or village is not a determining factor.

FHA also serves rural communities through the insurance of Title I improvement loans and Title I, Section 8 small home mortgages.

INTEREST RATE on home mortgages is 4½% plus ½ of

Ferry vs. The Fair

Charlevoix county taxpayers paid a little over $400 per month last year to meet the combined loss of the Charlevoix county fair and the Ironton Ferry.

Ironton Ferry operation loss was more than $3,000 and the county fair around $1,000.

Ferry income was $7,524.70 and the normal operational cost was $10,896.51.

In actual value to the county we'd say the ferry is head and shoulders above the county fair. Last year it cost taxpayers about $300 per day to pick up bills for the 3-day fair.

The fairground buildings carry $7,800.00 worth of insurance and each year it seems that more and more taxpayers feel a fair means less to them.

It appears that operation of the ferry has the support of all of the taxpayers for several reasons. We actually need the transportation; it has county - wide advertising value; many motorists drive into the county to take the trip. It is one of a few such ferries in United States.

Such value cannot be placed upon the county fair. And unless a larger majority of taxpayers become more interested in supporting a fair or some other attraction through attendance and moral support, the day may arrive when the grounds will be closed the year around.

KINDERGARTEN

I. Sidebotham

There are four children in our Kindergarten who haven't been out of school the last six weeks:

Linda Chanda, Elaine Roberts Brian Wood and Steven Joe Schroeder.

We think that is a record to be proud of but if we are ill, it is better to stay at home and have care from our mothers. When we are well again, it will be fine to come back to Kindergarten.

We are putting up Easter Bunnies and Chicks in our room. We will enjoy them for a number of weeks.

Mary Sue Annear was happy that her daddy had a birthday yesterday. They celebrated with a birthday dinner and some of their friends.

Tommy Drenth enjoyed riding on the escalators when he went to Grand Rapids. We learned that they were stairs that moved.

He also told us how they drove cars up a spiral drive in a building to store them.

We have almost completed our wind mural for March and have placed it above the chalk board. One group worked on trees and houses and others on clouds kites clothes for the clotheslines; also people and fences.

Because of the interest of the group we may make a stormy April mural, and a sunshiny flowery one for May.

The following people were neither absent nor tardy this six week period: Nancy Ford, Ronnie McWaters, Samuel Reid, Billie Palmiter, Gary Anderson, Thomas Brown, Susan Downing, Dickie LaPeer, Marcia Lilak, Phyllis Shepard, William Snyder, Judy Fitch.

Charles Hawley, Glen Gee and Deborah Wertz have been ill.

James Fry moved to Mancelona and Lenora MacDonald to Detroit. Judy Fitch is a new arrival from Detroit.

SECOND GRADE

Agnes Johnston

Our February folder with samples of our work was taken home Wednesday along with our report cards. Mother and father will see that we are improving each week in our work.

Last week the play ground looked as though spring had come early in East Jordan. Many boys and girls could be seen playing marbles.

We have begun to talk about kites. Each of us plan to make a kite and will fly in on the playground the first good day that comes along.

The past week we have been reading poetry during some of our language periods. We are planning on illustrating, with pictures some of the spring poems.

Janet Nesman, Bobby Dunson and Donald Reich brought the first pussy willows to school. They seem to add cheerfulness to our room and they tell us Spring isn't far away.

This week our magic words are "please" and "thank you."

We are demonstrating the meaning of these words every day in the classroom with games and stories.

Those who were neither absent nor tardy during the last six weeks of school are: Keith Bulman, Mike Damoth, Billy Darbee, Robert Dunson, James Goebel, Laura Grauel, Leslie Hitchcock, Donald McKinnon, Ronald Murray, Janet Nesman, Rox Anne Schroeder, John Vrontron and Francis Wilson.

THIRD GRADE

Adeline Bowerman

David Drenth brought the first pussy willows to our room. These will be the subject of our art lesson on Wednesday.

These children were not absent during the last marking period: Michael Bennett, Nancy Bennett, Tommy Breaky, Bobby Donaldson, Sally Gidley, Colleen Greenman, David Griffin, Patsy Murphy, Sarah Richards Merle Russell, Albert Wilbur and Peter Zoulek.

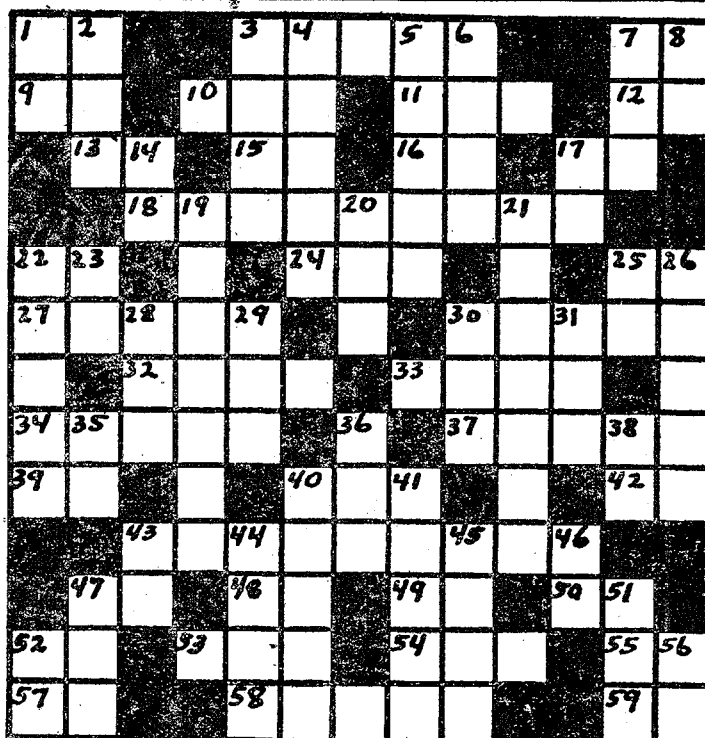

In storytime we are hearing a most interesting story of a migrant family, "Judy's Journey." This is an accurate and truthful picture of the life of the migrants. It gives us good reason to be more appreciative of the homes, food, clothing, schools, churches and things we have and sympathetic to those whose way of life is quite different than ours.

FOURTH GRADE

Grace Galmore

Letters are still coming in from those schools in seven different states with whom we are corresponding. From Nebraska came a picture of cattle raised there, a descriptive folder, a letter to the school and one to Mary Boring. A second answer came to Yvonne Redmer from a pupil in Louisiana. A letter to Louise Bader from California described the San Joaquin Valley and the products grown on a farm there. These are oats, cotton, figs, apples, peaches, pecans apricots and nectarines.

Roy Dougherty came back to school Monday. He reported that they have made three gallons of maple syrup already. Other boys and girls then spoke of riding past many places where others were making syrup.

Last week we were very pleased to receive new books about Michigan. Now we will be able to learn much more about our own state. We are grateful to Mr. Wade for getting these books.

This week we will celebrate the birthdays of Jean Combett, Yvonne Redmer and Suzanne Malpass.

Tucson Boys Booked For Last Concert

From the land of cactus and coyotes, canyons and cowboys, comes one of the unique new attractions of the American concert stage.

It is the Tucson Arizona Boys Chorus, which will sing in Petoskey on Monday evening, March 15th, at the Petoskey high school auditorium, under sponsorship of the northern Michigan Community Concerts Association.

In choir vestments or cowboy jeans, the boys are beguiling in their program of classics, carols folk songs, Mexican novelties and westerns sung with a superb blend of fine young voices. Their own highly original arrangements of songs of the great Southwest, spiced with comedy

Virginia Kaiser, Detroit, Marries William Kamradt

Virginia Francis Kaiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kaiser, 3461 Three Mile Drive, Detroit and Second Lt. William Edward Kamradt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kamradt, East Jordan, were united in marriage by Rev. Father Clark at St. Clara of Montefalco Church, Grosse Pointe at 11:00 a.m. February 28th, 1954.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of embroidered white nylon tulle and her nylon finger tip length veil was attached to a seed pearl cap. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Ann Meathe, maid of Honor, and Miss Mary Lou Seyferth, bridesmaid, wore identical ballerina length dresses of mint green taffeta and carried colonial bouquets of daffodils and iris. Richard Kaiser, brother of the bride, acted as best man, while Donald Kaiser, another brother of the bride was usher.

The bride's mother wore a powder blue taffeta dress with pink accessories and her corsage was of pink carnations. The groom's mother wore an orchid crepe dress with navy blue accessories and her corsage was of white baby mums.

Closing the service Richard Fremoe sang Ava Maria. Following the wedding service the wedding breakfast was served to the bridal party and immediate relatives at the Hawthorn House in Grosse Pointe. The reception was held at 8:00 p.m. in Msgr. J. Stapleton K. of C. Hall in Grosse Pointe.

The couple drove to Fort Hood, Texas, where Second Lt. Kamradt is stationed at the present time. Their address is 912 Kern Road, Killeen, Texas, and they would be glad to see anyone from home who might happen to be down that way.

IMP LINGO . . .

Hi Jordan,
It's too bad about the boys losing the game Thursday night, but I want to congratulate them on the fine game they played. They sure don't have to feel bad about it.

I'm getting worried. No one has asked me to go to the Prom yet. It's only about a month away. Boys, you'd better get busy. Many girls are getting worried.

What's this about the second year Spanish class playing a trick on Mrs. Richardson Friday? I hear they had her worried for awhile.

I hear the FHA delegates had a great time at Grand Rapids this weekend. They'd like to do it again soon—say they.

And the seniors did real well on their play. The Juniors had better get on the ball.

It's rumored that a certain Junior boy left the car lights on at the game Thursday night. What was the cause of that?

The bookkeeping class had a party for Mr. Richardson one day this last week. A happy birthday to you, Mr. Richardson, although belated.

I understand that after ball game Thursday night a group of kids had a party at Judy Lilak's. I guess they had a lot of fun. Right, Bob?

Well, I've a big Biology assignment to do, so better get to it.

See you next week,
"The IMP"

Plan Gaylord TB Meeting April 12th

A 29-county northern Michigan area, including Charlevoix county, will be urged to send representatives to a day-long "round-table" on tuberculosis problems scheduled at the Northern Michigan TB sanatorium, Gaylord, April 12.

The Michigan Tuberculosis Association this week said the meeting will be the first of its kind ever held in this area, and "might help launch efforts which eventually would sound taps for tuberculosis in northern Michigan."

Area health and medical authorities, civic leaders and all interested citizens were urged to join in mapping out programs to overcome this disease, which still represents our number one problem in public health.

Prominent state officials, TB specialists and citizen-leaders will address the day-long TB session.

Declining TB death and case rates in northern Michigan, together with other records, indicate that it is an opportune time to step-up our offensive against this disease.

The Advance Board of Commerce held their monthly meeting last Tuesday evening at the Town Hall with 33 members present. The members are doing nicely selling shampoo. They are trying to win a set of silverware for their new building at Advance.

William A. Healey was invited by Chris Taylor, Mayor to state his grievances before the council. Mr. Healey asked that the council be recessed while he talked, but it was the opinion of Mr. Downs that if what Mr. Healey had to say was to the council as a governing body, then his remarks should be part of the official record.

Mr. Healey agreed and he listed the following points.

That in an earlier hearing of his suit against the city, Circuit Judge Brown had suggested that the parties reach a settlement, that he representing himself and Mr. Conkle and Mr. Bennett, representing the city had arranged for an escrow agreement whereby a deed from William and Geraldine Healey together with a stipulation for discontinuance was placed in escrow to be delivered to the city upon payment of $2300. This arrangement was never approved by the council.

That if a settlement was not reached, he was going to take his case to the Supreme Court and it would cost the city $2400 to $2500.

FARM GOSSIP COLUMN

How much do you know about the Michigan Department of Agriculture? What are its duties? How does it operate?

What is the difference between the Michigan Department of Agriculture and the State Board of Agriculture?

The names have caused much confusion throughout the state for many years.

THE STATE BOARD of Agriculture is the governing body of the Michigan State College of Agriculture and Applied Science at East Lansing. Operation of the college is under control of this state board.

Members of the board are elected by state ballot for six year periods. The board elects the president and the officers of the college and appoints members to the college faculty.

In other words the State Board of Agriculture is a politically elected group by Michigan residents charged with the responsibility of operations at Michigan State College.

The Michigan Department of Agriculture is located in Lansing and its duties are primarily regulatory, having to do with the enforcement of laws to protect the consumer of farm products.

The department is divided into seven bureaus. They are: Finance and personnel; dairying, animal industry, marketing and enforcement; plant industry, agricultural industry and chemical laboratories.

THE PEOPLE OF Michigan elect a "commission of agriculture" whose members in turn appoint a director to head the department.

This department carries out continuous inspections throughout the state.

Workers inspect food, weights and measures, farm produce, poultry, vegetables, insect pests, plant disease, Christmas trees and a long list of other allied farm items.

County farm agents work for Michigan State College and in some cases the county boards of supervisors but are not under control of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

These two state groups "Michigan Department of Agriculture" have little in common as far as the duties of their offices go.

BUT FOR MANY years residents not familiar with the difference often confuse one group for the other.

It would seem that a change in the name of one of these groups would eliminate much confusion throughout Michigan.

Let's Test, Not Guess About Soil

"Let's test, not guess!" That's farm experts' advice to Charlevoix county farmers.

Farm agent Ed Rebman is telling farmers that soil testing takes part of the gamble or chance out of farming; and that the soil scientist uses sensitive scientific equipment in gaining basic knowledge of the soil.

Only by testing can we accurately learn whether or not lime is needed, Rebman says. Tests tell us about the quantity of plant food elements in the soil, the balance between the elements and the presence of elements in toxic or poisonous quantities.

Charlevoix county records indicate only about 15 percent of the land is needing lime.

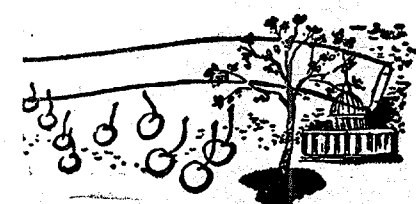

Field sampled in the surveys included those that have been limed in the past.

Experiments indicate that one dollar's worth of lime applied where needed will return $8.00 to $10.00 over a period of 10 to 15 years, the farm agent says.

In addition testing helps one to use fertilizer economically, possibly to use less fertilizer or less of the more expensive kind.

Test, not guess, is the agent's advice to farmers.

Orchard Notes

By C. Fairman

Much is being said about spray material lately—at a meeting of growers at the East Jordan Cooperative, at the spring school at Twin Lakes, also in the Eastern and American Fruit Grower papers or magazines mentions names and uses of the newer materials.

Such names appear as "Malathion" for aphids and mites and other insects. It is not any more dangerous to use than DDT. One thing noticeable at any of the meetings is that the harmful effects to fruit and foliage is seldom, if ever, mentioned. Most of our older spray materials are very harmful to fruit and foliage such as copper-Sulphur, arsenate of lead, etc.

WHILE ARSENATE OF lead is called our standard insecticide, if this material is used on prunes for one application, the second application should be "malathion," "methoxychlor" or DDT or depending on what insects were present. Otherwise most of the prunes drop off if lead is used on all sprays.

We have killed many a sweet cherry tree with arsenate of lead by not having the material well stirred at the start.

It is my belief that there are newer and better spray materials on the market today that will give fruit a finer finish, better keeping and shipping qualities and at the same time the tree and foliage will be healthier and grow and produce better.

Irrigation Fights Frost

Irrigation is not only a crop producer, but a crop saver. Instead of a crop loss on the first freezing fall night, farmers can now gather harvests after many such frost bites, report MSC agricultural engineers.

Many growers have found that sprinkler irrigation was the difference between total loss and a full crop after using it on their crops. The effect of untimely frosts in the northern part of the state and in low muck areas is disastrous.

Tomatoes, peppers, broccoli and other crops planted late on the experimental farm were protected while the unprotected crops were killed by frost the first week in October.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Steve Tips the Balance

Was just leaving home this morning when the Missus reminded me to stop at Steve and Al's Meat Market for a pound of hamburger. "Be sure to get it from Steve," she said.

"Why?" I wondered. So when I got to the market I asked Steve if he knew. "I'll tell you, Joe," he said. "Al and I sell the same meat, and a pound is a pound. Maybe it's just that we go at it differently.

"Al loads the scales and takes away 'til he has a pound. But I put too little on and start adding,

To your wife—that probably looks like a better buy."

From where I sit, there's always more than one way to approach a thing and still come out fair and square to all. My wife likes a cup of tea with dinner; I prefer a temperate glass of beer. We get along fine. Gets me pretty mad though, when somebody starts "throwing his weight around" and demands that I see things exactly his way.

Oats, Barley Best Legume Nurse Crop

Your companion or nurse crop may determine the quality of stand you get from your alfalfa seedings.

A study of the effect of various companion crops on the establishment of alfalfa in a field has recently been completed by farm crops department.

Using various nurse crops, several varieties of oats and barley were used in addition to many other grasses and grain crops.

Best yield of alfalfa was obtained when Clinton oats were used as the nurse crop and cut at 3 inches for grain. Both oats and barley were about equally satisfactory when cut at three inches and the straw removed.

When sudan grass, millet and soybeans were cut for hay the resulting alfalfa crop was fairly good. It was fair when buckwheat was used and cut at full bloom and end bloom. The resulting alfalfa yield and stand was very unsatisfactory when sudan grass, millet, soy beans and buckwheat were used as a nurse crop and cut for grain.

North State Fruit Meet Next Tuesday

Charlevoix county fruit growers are being reminded by farm agent Ed Rebman that the spring fruit meeting for northern Michigan will be held March 13.

Under direction of the State Horticultural Society the session will be held at Traverse City high school.

Latest developments in fruit raising with many noted speakers will make up the program.

Following a 10-day leave, they will receive additional specialized training before permanent assignment to an Army unit."

I've meant to before, but that little son of ours takes up a lot of time."

"We've been living on the German Economy since I got over here. We should get government quarters about May or June. It will be a welcome change. It's interesting living here, but awfully different from the States. No washing machines, bathrooms, etc., They have them in the cities but not in a village like we live in."

"We saw Don Cutler last fall when his football team played here at Cralishiem. It seemed awfully good, but he was in a hurry and so were we. But maybe we'll get to see him again, since he's stationed only about 40 miles from here."

"Well, Jake, there isn't much news from over this way so will sign off, saying thanks to everyone for sending the paper. We enjoy reading it every week an awful lot. Alice and Glen Young, 6th Ord Co, (DS), APO 46, c-o PM, New York, N. Y."

Mike Brennan checked in from White Horse Hill, Korea. I notice that he's a Pfc now. "I guess it's about time I wrote a few lines to you. Right now I am not writing to too many people. But I want to thank the people that responsible for the News

Herald getting to us GIs and I enjoy reading what the other guys are doing."

"I was over to see Don Brownell last Sunday, the first time in about two months that I could get away. Every Sunday we change forward observer on our three OPs so every other week I was up on one of the OPs. Last week we changed on Friday. At least I did anyway."

So Long, Pfc Michael T. Brennan, Co H, 160th Inf Regt, 40th Inf Div, APO 6, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif."

Here's one from Leonard McRoberts who is now stationed on Misawa Air Force Base in Japan. "Well, I see you got my address some way as I received a paper last week. I was going to write sooner but just never got around to it."

"I am way up here in northern Japan on Misawa AFB. So if you know of anybody up my way please let me know and I'll look them up."

"After all the time I spent in B-26 tech school I am crew chief on a T-33 jet and I am very much satisfied with my work. The duty here in Japan is a little bit of alright."

"Ask Dale Bolser to drop me a line or two. As always, A-3c Leonard McRoberts, Hq Sq, 49th Anr Base Group, APO, c-o PM, San Francisco, California."

Fred Looze writes from Korea "Maybe it's about time I checked in from over here in the frozen chosen. It's just about time for the mud to start up again over here. I sure dread the thought of it."

"I'm still in S-3 as before. I like it all the better now that I have learned the job I have. I've quit the drafting part of it because our operation sergeant went home and I moved up one higher on the ladder. My title, as it's called is now counter fire sergeant, which I don't know a thing about. Most of my work is on the desk and filing the papers that seem to pile up every day."

"We are in division reserve now as we have been for the past 6 months and really have this place fixed up, that is for Korea anyway. There has been a lot of training going on for the past three months and I've been right in the thick of it. Not that I train at all but it is quite a job making up the schedules and making sure everyone is at the right place at the right time. Maybe Al Chanda has told you about the training part in the States but this part is alot different, at least I think so."

"It won't be too long until I see old EJ again. Four months at the most. Sure will be glad to get out of the place, back to the old grind again."

"I made my Cpl rating in January. Makes it a little easier on a guy. The least I can say is $ won't be pulling the old guard duty back in the States."

"Well, Jake, it's late and the GI morning starts a little early so I better sign off for this time. Say hello for me to everyone. Cpl Fred Looze, Hq Co, 1st Bn, 27th Infantry, APO 25, c-o PM, San Francisco, California."

A letter from Don Dixon finds him still in Norfolk and sort of chaffing at the bit. "Well I guess it is about time that I dropped you a line to let you know that I am still alive and still here in Virginia, which I don't like too much but there is."

"I have been getting the paper regularly on Tuesday and it sure helps a lot to know that the people at home are thinking of you and will do a thing like that for you."

"I will be seeing you about the 10th of April as I am coming home on leave if they will give it to me then. I should be there for some fishing. At least I hope to. Will close for now and see you then. Donald G. Dixon, FP-2, USS LST 1166, c-o FPO, New York, N. Y."

Guess it's So Long and Plenty Long at that for this week.
