More than 350 4-H club members and 40 club leaders throughout Charlevoix county will take part in the organization's annual 2-day achievement program set for the East Jordan high school gym Monday and Tuesday.

Highlight of the annual exhibit will be the 100-girl style show to be presented on the auditorium stage when members display the clothes made during the past winter.

District 4-H club agent K. C. Festerling said Tuesday there will be more than 1,000 4-H exhibits on display and that next Tuesday will be "open house" when the public is invited to come and see the judging program.

Members of the program committee are Mrs. Clayton Healey, Mrs. Homer Nason, Mrs. Robert Straw and K. C. Festerling.

Exhibits committee members are: Frank Hayden, Erwin Bowman, Ed Rebnan and Festerling. The style show committee includes: Mrs. William Malpass, Mrs. Glen Campau, Mrs. Homer Nason and Mrs. Emma Reinhold.

PROJECTS developed during the winter include: clothing, knitting, handicraft, conservation, health and grooming.

OVER THE BACK FENCE

BY MARSHALL

Roger Austin broke into the news last summer when he joined the "digit club." He, along with John Bos and Leo Somerville, cut their thumbs severely along about the same time.

All this has nothing to do with what we are about to tell you. For this story is about a fellow who, less than half clad, grabbed his trusty gun and dropped a fox.

The fox shooting man was none other than Austin. One early morning awhile back he was about to get dressed and looking out his farm home window, saw a fox. Without stopping to don the rest of his clothes, he grabbed his gun and fired away. He scored, and with nothing on but shorts.

What we are wondering is, does the conservation department frown upon such undressed shooting of a fox in the a.m.?

The federal court of Grand Rapids has summoned Bud Hite to appear before it. After scratching his head several times Bud sat down and penned an answer. In the letter was the reason why he could not appear at that time. They want him for jury duty, what did you think, anyway?

We see where the Cancer Society has made good use of the former building used by Chris's Men's Wear. They have an attractive Cancer drive promotion in the window.

Whether Harold Bader is on duty or not makes no difference now. For you can step right up and serve yourself a soft drink, night or day. He has just installed a self-serve machine that works for all who have a coin. And there's no use trying to fool it with buttons after dark. It rejects anything but the proper coin.

Sam Rogers got us in a whole peck of trouble the other day. He invited us to a highway meeting at the Jordan Inn and naturally we did a story on it for the paper.

After the story appeared we received a short distance call from WWTU, Cadillac asking that we come to Cadillac to appear on a highway panel discussion with Charles Ziegler, state highway commissioner.

As a citizen of northern Michigan we are supposed to ask the highway chief questions about north state roads. All this takes place 9 p.m. Wednesday, May 12th. Since the television program will last half an hour our big question will probably be, "When do we get out of here?"

There will be a lot of bologna down at Thrift Super Market this week end. John has purchased a great big hunk of bologna from here to there. If you are a good guesser you can have a hunk free for nothing. Just slice off a bit and guess how much it weighs.

That business about "glass-rox" the mysteriously pitted automobile windshields has spread to E. J. Folks up and down main street inspected and nearly all found small pits in them. (The windshields, not each other.)

Elgy down at the body shop found several of his used cars had been affected. And he insists the pits, which are large, were not there three days ago.

People are laughing at the idea that something is pitting car windshields, saying normal road driving will cause flying stones, sand or what not. But take the case of a new car with small pits in the glass. There's one down at Sherman's.

All this reminds us of that guy who saw a saucer flying around in the air and kept talking until everybody else saw it, too.

BIG YEAR FOR JORDAN VALLEY

DAIRY FARMERS CAUTIONED AT ANNUAL CO-OP MEETING

Use Of Dairy Products Not Increasing, Officials Say

BY MARSHALL SAYLES

Northern Michigan dairy farmers were warned Tuesday night by Charlie Stone of the American Dairy Association that they must face the present dairy industry situation.

Speaking to 400 members of the Jordan Valley Cooperative Creamery in annual meeting at East Jordan high school, Stone said: "Each one of you have a big investment in the dairy industry. You must maintain that investment if you are going to stay in business."

Stone told the farmers that our population is increasing daily and production of dairy products are increasing, but that consumption of these products is on the down grade.

He charged farmers with the responsibility of getting their story across to consumers.

The American Dairy Association representative told the farmers that: "Advertising pays and it costs us not to advertise."

He said the dairy industry is making a new appeal to the consumers to use dairy products. Through modern type magazine ads the association is making a strong appeal for increased use of milk, butter and other dairy products.

One national dairy ad reads: "Tired, restless and worried? Drink three glasses of milk a day."

Stone said that since scientists discovered that milk aids complexion the association is going after some of the money spent for cosmetics with "drink milk for better complexion" ads.

E. J. RYGER, of the Midwest Producers Creameries, of South Bend, Ind., said the drop in the price of butter may increase sales from eight to 10 percent.

Ryger told the co-op members that their firm has had a very successful year here in East Jordan. He also said that new equipment at the creamery should lower operation costs.

"This big turnout tonight," Ryger said, "means that the farmers of northern Michigan are interested in the Jordan Valley Cooperative Creamery."

D. B. Varner, director of the Michigan State College cooperative extension service, said the creamery's good year means the firm has had good management.

VARNER'S TALK carried the thought that farmers in this atomic age are the most important people in the world. More people are being born, fewer are dying and the increased population must be fed.

He said farmers of today have a direct relationship with international wars. People fight when they are hungry and today, two thirds of the world is hungry, the members were told.

The good year of 1953 referred to by the speakers was shown in the creamery's annual report.

The firm sold 2,269,350 pounds of butter in 1953, which was more than 200,000 pounds over the year before.

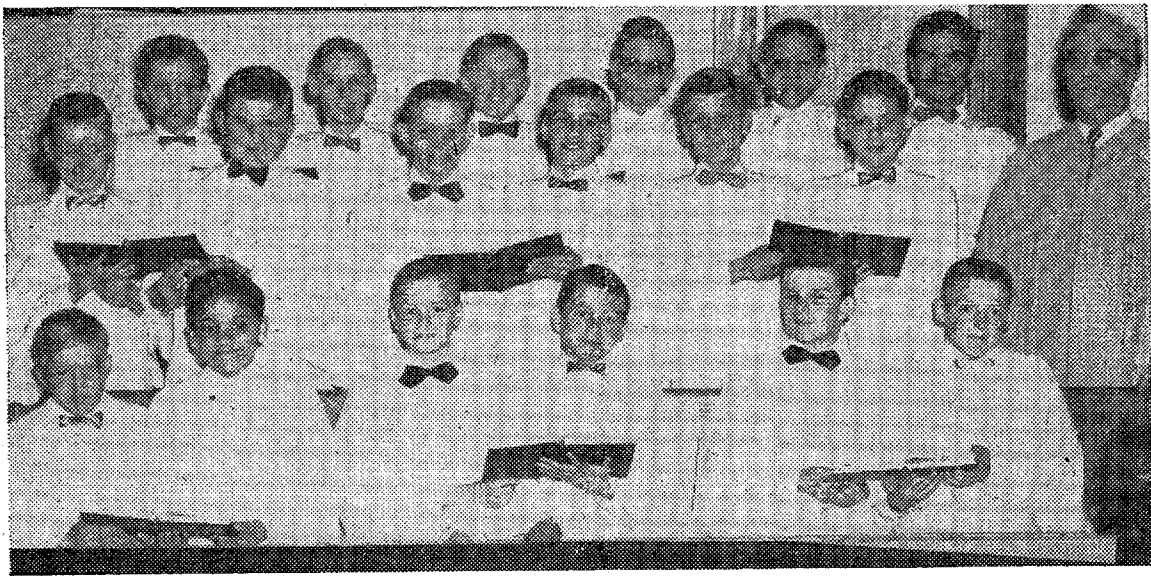

Whole milk received from farmers at the creamery in 1953 totaled 13,674,198 pounds, which was about 5,500,000 more than the year before.

THE CREAMERY also made more than one million pounds of dry skim milk and a quarter million pounds of dry buttermilk.

The Creamery's sales for 1953 were $1,818,040.06. It paid well over one million dollars to its farmer members for butterfat and milk.

Under the direction of Percy Penfold, manager, the Jordan Valley Cooperative Creamery has developed into one of the largest and most successful co-op creameries in Michigan. The firm's 1953 balance of net margins was nearly $41,000.00.

Three members were elected to the firm's board of directors. They were: Francis Nemecek, Bur Blanchard and Claud Pear-sall.

BENNETT OFF COUNCIL, BOSWELL APPOINTED

The East Jordan city council moved headlong into their work Tuesday night, the first session of the new council since the annual spring election.

The body accepted the resignation of Councilman Dan Bennett of the Second ward. Following this Mayor Chris Taylor appointed Greg Boswell to fill out the unexpired term. The appointment was approved by the council.

In response to a request from Merritt Shaw, a representative of the East Jordan Businessmen's Association, the council voted $400 toward the association's advertising fund. One councilman noted that this amount was the same given by the council to the former Chamber of Commerce.

The council created the office of superintendent of public works and named Dan Bennett to head that office at a salary of $3,200 annually.

The councilmen also hiked the pay for the chief of police from $2,900 to $3,200 annually. The right patrolman's pay was increased to $1.15 per hour.

The council is seriously considering the establishing of a time clock which will be punched by city workers.

THE COUNCIL members agreed to act as a reception committee welcoming a visiting Mayor to East Jordan in the state-wide exchange of mayors as a part of Michigan Week.

The council also decided to purchase a fire truck, after listening to a delegation from the Fire Department. The truck to be purchased will cost about $7,500 with delivery sometime in May.

After listening to Walter Hickcox, representing several local sportsmen, it was decided to allow them to construct small docks along the south west side of Jordan River for small craft. The docks would be built by various sportsmen south of the bridge.

Mayor Taylor has set next week as annual Clean-up week in East Jordan.

Merchants Meet

Regular monthly meeting of the East Jordan Businessmen's Association will be held at the Anchorage restaurant 7 p.m. next Tuesday night (April 27th), chairman Fred Vogel has announced.

In addition to committee reports, the group will discuss the association's increasing city-wide advertising program, the city's "Michigan Week" program, and other important merchant activities.

A & P Store Aids Customers

Two new food freezers and an open freezer for meat have been added for customers convenience at the A & P Food store.

Manager Joe Nemecek said Tuesday that the additions of the self-serve freezers has provided additional room for display shelves and additional merchandise.

Yet to be done is the addition of new lights at the rear of the store and some painting.

The packaged meat freezer, which allows customers to select their meat themselves has made it possible to do away with the old meat case which formerly sat at the rear of the store.

The work has been going on for the last two weeks and Manager Nemecek reports it is just about finished.

New Motel . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bowerman, owners of Ed's Boats have started construction of East Jordan's first motel. Bowerman's brother Gordon, of Lake City, is the contractor.

The structure will be of way-lite block, a completely modern building, fireproof with 6 units a lounge, kitchenette and utility. The motel is being constructed on their property on M-66. It will be operated under the name "Ed's Swan Motel."

CLEAN-UP PROCLAMATION

The week of April 26 to May 1 has been designated as Annual Clean Up Week in East Jordan. All residents are urged to clean up their premises of all rubbish.

Trucks will be furnished by the City for the removal of rubbish placed in containers and at the curb or near by alley. All rubbish for removal should be placed by Monday a.m. so that no "repeat" trips will be necessary. The city will NOT haul ashes.

Chris Taylor, Mayor

Missionary From China To Speak

Mrs. Elleroy M. Smith, Presbyterian missionary from China, will speak at Presbyterian Church on Sunday, April 25 at 11:00 o'clock.

Mrs. Smith spent more than thirty years in China, turbulent, eventful years during which much history was made.

News Notes

King and queen of Advance smelt run were crowned Saturday night. They were Georgia Russell and Terry Healey. George Ely, brig-general of the Army, retired, performed the honors. East Jordan's queen Marion Danforth presented gifts to the royalty.

Miss Danforth will enter the Kalkaska National Trout Festival this week end. Judging will take place there Friday and the girl selected will take part in the festival's Saturday night program.

Brown's Creek, the stream set aside for kids fishing has been stocked with trout. Sportsmen are making a plea to parents and children to be sure the kids do not take home more than their limit of trout which is 10.

Older people, also, are asked not to fish the creek, but to leave it for the children.

Devils Play At Home Today, Lose Opening Game, 5-1

The local high school baseball nine will open its 1954 home schedule here at 3:00 p.m. today at the West Side Ball Park when they entertain the Harbor Springs Rams.

The contest will mark the first meeting of the two schools on the baseball diamond in many years as the Harborites are this spring reviving the sport after an absence of several seasons.

Keith Evans and Robert Romback will more than likely share the pitching duties in today's game with Clinton Clark behind the plate. Other starters are: Robert Darbee at first base, Richard Streeter at second, James Petrie at shortstop, and either Evans or Romback at third, depending on who is hurling.

The Red Devils travel to Pellston on Tuesday of next week where they will meet the Pellston Hornets.

The Red Devils dropped their first spring baseball game to Mancelona 1 to 5, at Mancelona Tuesday.

Short weight in ice cream was the most frequent violation of Michigan dairy laws uncovered in 893 inspections made by representatives of the Bureau of Dairying of the Michigan Department of Agriculture during a recent inspection period.

Out of 16,415 tests run by the Bureau of Dairying during the period there were only 1,183 rejects. By far the greater percentage of those persons engaged in the dairy business in the state live up to the spirit of the law as well as the letter of it.

But there are exceptions. That is why representatives of the Michigan Department of Agriculture are constantly at work throughout the state. And they run into some unusual things.

At Coldwater 104 one-gallon containers were found with the ice cream contents falling to weigh up to the 4.5 pounds per gallon required by Michigan law for ice cream. A similar disclosure was made at Burklely where 45 one-half gallon containers of ice cream were found to short weight. At Hancock inspectors found 41 quart packages and 20 pint packages of ice cream that were short weight.

At Charlotte an inspector ran into artificial flavor in maple nut ice cream mix. And artificial flavor in ice cream is illegal in Michigan. So is imitation custard flavor, a gallon of which was found at Chassel. It contained coumarin and glycerine. The gallon was dumped down the sewer while the inspector watched.

In a Reed City Dairy, inspectors found a pound can of an antioxidant, which it is illegal to place in Michigan milk.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Gibbard and family have the sympathy of the community in the loss of their home by fire on Friday.

FIRE DESTROYS HOUSE

The Max Gibbard farm home in the Vance District was destroyed by fire Friday morning. The house was the former Henry Geneit home and was built in the late 1800's.

A washing machine, a sewing machine and a chair were the only items saved. All other furniture, clothing and personal effects were lost, including a newly purchased 24 foot deep freezer with 600 pounds meat. The loss was only partially covered by insurance.

Also affected by the fire was Mr. Petrie, who had been helping Mr. Gibbard build a new front porch. They had gone to town for more supplies and the fire was discovered in an upper room in the back of the house during their absence. Mr. Petrie lost alot of his carpenter tools.

The East Jordan fire department was called, but the fire was so far underway that the only thing they could do was prevent the farm buildings from burning.

The Gibbards have four daughters ranging in age from about ten to seventeen. The girls were dressed in jeans at the time of the fire. All their clothes were burned.

The family will be moving into the former Denzil Gibbard home across from Carl Petrie's. It was recently purchased by Max Gibbard from his brother.

—Mrs. Vernon Vance

IMP LINGO . . .

Hi Jordan:
Did everyone have a happy Easter? I certainly did. The Easter bunny was real good to me.

I hear that Lehrbass girl (De) and that Somerville boy (Alan) are getting real thick. She has his ring, I see.

Boy, did I have fun smelt fishing Saturday night. So did a lot of other kids. I hear Jim Sherman did.

Speaking of fishing—Pat Chihak says that Munro Creek is sort of cold. It's a good thing Nan lives near there.

I hear that the Juniors have a lot of fun at play practice. That JZ certainly gets around doesn't he?

I wonder what it's like to be in love? A lot of kids around old Jordan High think they know.

I hear that K. K. is on the spot —what with D. S. coming home. I wonder if W. P. knows?

I hear that a certain Junior girl is glad that a Soph is home again from the hospital.

Well, my biology and English are calling rather loudly. So I must go. See you next week.

Local Farmers Return From Washington Trip

Farm leaders from Indiana, Illinois and Michigan returned home last weekend after a week visit to Washington to appeal for extending farm price supports at a minimum of 90% of parity and adequate appropriations for rural electrification, soil conservation and other agriculture activities.

Among the group, which totaled 165 from the three states, were Harry Pearsall of East Jordan and LeRoy Hardy of Boyne City.

The caravan, which traveled in three chartered busses, was sponsored by the National Farmers Union. But many taking part were local Farm Bureau leaders who disagree with national Farm Bureau leaders' backing for lower price supports under the Administration's "sliding scale" proposal.

Congressional votes from the three states may be crucial in deciding how the price support decision goes, the group was told by National Farmers Union leaders. Congressmen of both parties from the West, South and Great Plains states will favor 90% of parity supports overwhelmingly, they predicted. Most of the Congressmen were visited in person by farmers from their own districts and others in the course of the 5 day visit.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (Dem., Minn.) described the 90% of parity supports as "just a safety net; not a guaranteed profit." One of the key leaders in the bipartisan farm bloc opposed to Agriculture Secretary Benson's plan for cutting the level of supports, Sen. Humphrey addressed the group in a special meeting.

Sen. Humphrey warned that rising unemployment in the cities is causing increased trouble on the farm front. "There's a direct relationship between workers' wages and farm prices," Sen. Humphrey declared. "We sell more pork chops to the men that work on the railroad than we do to the chairman of the board."

The farmer-delegation saw some of their objectives won before they left the Capital, when the House of Representatives almost doubled the amount of loan funds for REA and substantially increased the funds for soil conservation, school lunches, Farmers Home Administration, and other "action" programs, over the amounts recommended by Secretary Benson. ## Orchard Notes

By C. Fairman

Thursday, April 22, 1954 * East Jordan News-Herald * Page 7

The growing season is now on, perhaps even busier than the harvest season. Cultivating, dormant sprays, spreading manure, mulch fertilizers—all need doing early. Some more trimming to catch-up. A few more trees to plant.

For that nice apple tree in your yard, don't forget to add a little borax to the fertilizer to prevent internal break down or browning inside the apple.

Some spray companies now have ready mixed sprays for garden orchards. That is, the fungicides and insecticides are mixed together including several kinds of insect killers to cover everything.

Prices are good for storage apples at this time. Prospects for fruit crops are good at the present time. Tonnage and prices for cherries should be about the same as last year.

So They Stopped Baiting Each Other

If you want to hear a real hassle, listen to Cob James and Whitey Baker on trout fishing sometime. You'd think it was more important than anything.

Cob favors dry flies. Whitey pooh-poohs anything but wet flies. Cob swears by a Fan-Wing Royal Coachman; Whitey won't hear of anything but Silver Doctor. And so it goes—they can't even get together on steel rods versus bamboo rods.

But on Saturday, each got back from Fox Creek with a catch that couldn't have differed by more than a couple of ounces! Then over a friendly glass of beer, they allowed as how maybe they were both right... which is how so many arguments should end.

From where I sit, life would be a whole lot pleasanter if we all respected one another's opinions—whether about trout flies, or having a glass of beer, or voting. After all, a person has a right to follow his own line of thinking.

FARM GOSSIP COLUMN

Although more than a million elm trees were inspected for Dutch Elm disease last year only 1,213 were found to be infected with this disease which proves fatal to elms, according to G. S. McIntyre, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

The infection was not found in Michigan until 1950. Many thousands of beautiful elm shade trees have been killed in Ohio and eastern states since the disease was discovered in 1930.

C. A. Boyer chief of the bureau of plant industry for the Michigan Department of Agriculture, says the disease is a killer of all species and varieties of elms. The disease is caused by a fungus, which is mainly carried from tree to tree by small brown bark beetles.

Boyer says the elm first shows wilting leaves in the upper branches. The wilting spreads rapidly over the entire tree, and in a matter of weeks the tree is dead.

The initial Dutch Elm diseased trees in Michigan were found in eastern Detroit four years ago. Infection has now spread thru southeastern counties and diseased elms have been found in Macomb, Oakland, Livingston, Washtenaw and Monroe.

Under a regulation of the Michigan Department trees infected with Dutch Elm disease are declared a public nuisance, and must be removed by property owners within 10 days of discovery.

Several municipal units are spending large sums of money in co-operative programs with the Michigan Department to prevent the ravage of stately old shade trees from Dutch Elm disease which has taken such a toll in the east.

Mr. Boyer reports excellent co-operation from property owners when they are notified it will be necessary to remove an elm to check spread of the disease to other elms.

Farm Agent Discusses Weed Control For Local Farmers

Weeds are often a serious problem in small grains, taking moisture and plant food that should go to the crop, some even grow so tall they shade the plant, comments Ed Rebman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent.

Rebman adds that there are now selective weed killers that do not harm the crop. Even if a seeding is made in the grain the weed-killer will do little or no harm.

Both 2,4-D, the commonly known weedicide, and the dinitro herbicides are recommended. Use 2, 4-D at the rate of one-fourth pound acid equivalent per acre. The dosage is given this way because of the various strengths which must be noted on the label before usage. Dinitro is used one-half to three-fourths of a pound per acre.

It is not too important how much water is used as long as the chemical is used at the prescribed rate. Farmers should spray when the grain is six to eight inches high; it kills most weeds and does least damage to the crop. Spraying heavier or later is more dangerous.

And the chemicals will not kill all noxious weeds. For spraying later crops, it may be advisable to hire a custom sprayer because of the danger from the weedicide residue. County agricultural agent Rebman invites farmers to consult him about special spraying problems.

Inside Jobs Cause Most Farm Fires

How do most of Michigan's farm fires get started?

Statistics prove that they're "inside jobs" six out of eight times, says David G. Steinicke, extension farm safety specialist at Michigan State College. He and the Michigan Rural Safety Council are promoting a campaign this month to cut down on fire and accidents on farms and in homes.

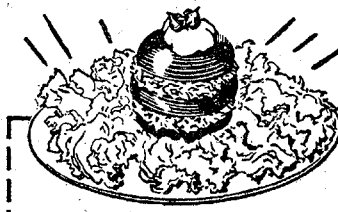

When fires start on the outside of a building, he points out, they are usually due to lack of lighting rod protection and rooms of flammable material. But for the majority of fires, he suggests, these rules can do a big job of prevention:

1. Above all else, practice good housekeeping. Disorder and dirt near heating plants, incubators and brooders will cause a rapid spread of fires even if they are not the cause.

2. If you're operating an oil burning incubator or brooder, don't store extra drums of fuel in the brooder house. Trim the wicks and clean the burner every day and be sure the incubator is on a fire-safe floor.

3. If you're using a slow burning fire, such as that from coal, be careful in regulating the draft and make flues of heavy metal or brick. Be sure floor litter can't be scratched into direct contact with the base of the stove.

4. If you're using an electric brooder, be sure the wiring system is safe. And keep fuses and switch boxes free of dust and dirt.

Soils Group And FFA To Start Run-Off Plots On Hi Brock Farm

The run-off plots sponsored by the Charlevoix Soil Conservation District and assisted by the East Jordan Future Farmers of America and their advisory board will be planted next week. Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent and secretary of the soil board announced today. These run-off plots are located on the Hi Brock farm on M-66 between East Jordan and Ironton.

The purpose of these run-off plots is to measure the amount of soil loss when different cropping practices are used. There will be four plots each handled differently. The first will be a 4-year rotation up and down the slope; the second will be a 4-year rotation across the slope; the third will be the same rotation in contour strips; while the last rotation will be in continuous grass and legumes.

There's a septic tank at the end of each one of these plots and after each rain the water and soil loss will be measured. This project will continue for about 10 years.

The district has been helped in construction of these run-off plots through the cooperation of Richard Schroeder, East Jordan agricultural instructor and his Future Farmer group. These boys have helped place the tanks,

Michigan Can't Afford More Forest Fires

Smokers and debris-burners are responsible for more than 70 per cent of the forest fires in Michigan. That's the word from L. A. Carter of Michigan State College's forestry department.

Emphasizing that "we can't afford the luxury of forest fires," Carter has this advice for Mich-iganders:

Use the car ash tray for cigarette butts and be sure your match is out before throwing it away. If you're walking thru woods, scrape away leaf litter and stamp out your cigarette or pipe heel in mineral soil. Break a match before throwing it away—if it won't burn your finger, it's not likely to harm the woods.

Brush and trash should not be burned until you clear an area that's wide enough to stop the spread of a fire.

G. I. NEWS

Thursday, April 22, 1954 * East Jordan News-Herald * Page 6

Hi Fellas:
Hope you men all had a good Easter dinner. Missed mine for one of two rather foolish reasons which I will not list here.

We had a thick dust storm up here on Easter Sunday. Wonder who lost the topsoil off their 40 last week.

Bill Anderson showed up in town this past week. He will be home for about 39 days and then will be making the big hop to England. Guess he got kind of fed up with the office work down at Biggs and volunteered. Didn't anyone ever warn Bill about volunteering?

Two new men on this list this week are Bill Shaw and Bud Kopkau. Bill (Pvt) Shaw ended up at Camp Chaffee, Arkansas with the 5th Armored Division and is in Company A, 10th Med Tk Bn, CCA. Bud enlisted in the Air Force some time ago and is now A-B Ernest F. Kopkau, Flt 3257-3660 BMTS, Sampson AFB, Geneva, New York.

Glen Young has written that they changed his APO address which now changes his complete address to: Sgt. Glen A. Young 6th Ord Co (DS) APO 751, c-o FM, New York, N. Y.

Here's an article about one of the training courses that is supervised by Ed Lord down at Camp Gordon, Georgia. "Tarzan pictures will have a new significance to MP trainees in the future. They will remember the confidence course at Camp Gordon, and think of the day when they jumped, hurdled, climbed and swung their way through a series of obstacles that would make even Lex (Tarzan) Barker hesitate.

Under supervision of Lt. Edward J. Lord, chief of the Physical Training Section, 1st MPTR, the new confidence course consists of 24 different obstacles laid out cloverleaf pattern on nearly five acres of land in the MPTR area.

Purpose of the strenuous course is to turn out a soldier able to surmount all and any physical obstructions that he may meet in combat. "Most of the companies have no trouble," said Lt. Lord. "Once in a while we'll have a 'freezer,' but we coax him into trying again until he has mastered his fear of height. He's really the man this course was built for."

Pee Wee Peck wrote this past week that he is leaving for the States at last. He has been in Korea for almost a year and a half and says he will sure be glad to get back to good old EJ.

Army Home Town News Center, Kansas City Missouri—April 14, 1954. "With the 7th Division in Korea—Army Pfc Robert A. Fuller is helping build a schoolhouse for Korean children. Members of this unit, the 7th Infantry Division's 31st Field Artillery Battalion, are rebuilding a primary school as part of the Armed Forces Assistance to Korea program.

Fuller, in Korea 10 months, was employed by the Ford Motor Company in Detroit before entering the Army in October 1952."

Bill Shaw doesn't seem to have anyone from EJ with him down there at Chaffee. However, Bud Kopkau will find some company if he looks up Don Whiteford in Hq Sq, 3650 BMTG or Douglas Randall, 3651 Trng Sqn, and you probably already know, Bud, that Don Saganek is in Flt 3211 of your own Squadron.
