At A GLANCE

East Jordan Community picnic planned for Aug. 24

On Saturday, Aug. 24, area residents are invited to attend the East Jordan Community Picnic at Community Park from 11 a.m.-2 p.m., hosted by the East Jordan Area Chamber of Commerce and the City of East Jordan.

Not a fund-raising event, the picnic will feature an official ribbon-cutting and dedication of the Community Park, followed by a chicken barbecue, kids games, and an open stage for anyone wishing to perform.

The picnic will also feature a sure-to-be-competitive East Side vs. West Side softball game. Volunteers are still needed to help out with the event. For more information or to volunteer, call the chamber at 536-7351 or Teresa Stanek at 536-2965.

Antique Auto Show returning to Boyne City

On Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 10 and 11, Boyne City will host the 29th annual Antique Auto Show and Flea Market, sponsored by the Boyne Country Region Antique Auto Club of America.

The event will be held from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. in Veterans Memorial Park, with free spectator admission and refreshments on the grounds.

Registration for auto owners will take place on Saturday from 8 a.m.-4 p.m. and Sunday from 8 a.m.-12 noon. Pre-registration is also available; those who have pre-registered can check in on arrival.

Judging will be held on Sunday only, with trophies to be awarded at 3 p.m. All entrants will receive dash plaques.

Dogs and other pets are prohibited in the park per city ordinance.

For pre-registration form, or for more information, contact Penny Hardy at 582-6269.

Used book sale featured at Boyne library

The newly-forming Friends of the Boyne District Library will hold a used book sale at the library community room during Boyne City's sidewalk sales on Friday and Saturday, July 19 and 20.

The sale will run from 12 noon-5 p.m. on Friday, and 10 a.m.-3 p.m. on Saturday, and will feature an extensive selection of gently used books available for a voluntary donation.

The library is currently accepting donations of books, videos and books on tape or CD for the sale. The library asks that donations not be left in the outside book return.

The Boyne District Library is located at 201 E. Main St., Boyne City. For more information, call 582-7861.

A different kind of YACHT CLUB

■ After 15 years, the Boyne City Yacht Club boasts a huge membership, has a ball, and does a little good, too

Though details on the origins of the Boyne City Yacht Club are sketchy, the consensus is that they were indeed humble. A group of boating enthusiasts, mostly racers, gathered to create a local outlet for their passion.

What's happened since then, it seems, is a testament to idea that a good thing sells itself.

That humble beginning has, in 15 years, evolved into a club boasting more than 400 memberships (most of which, said club treasurer Mike Sheehan, are couples) and a year-round season packed with fun social events, of both the boating and non-boating varieties.

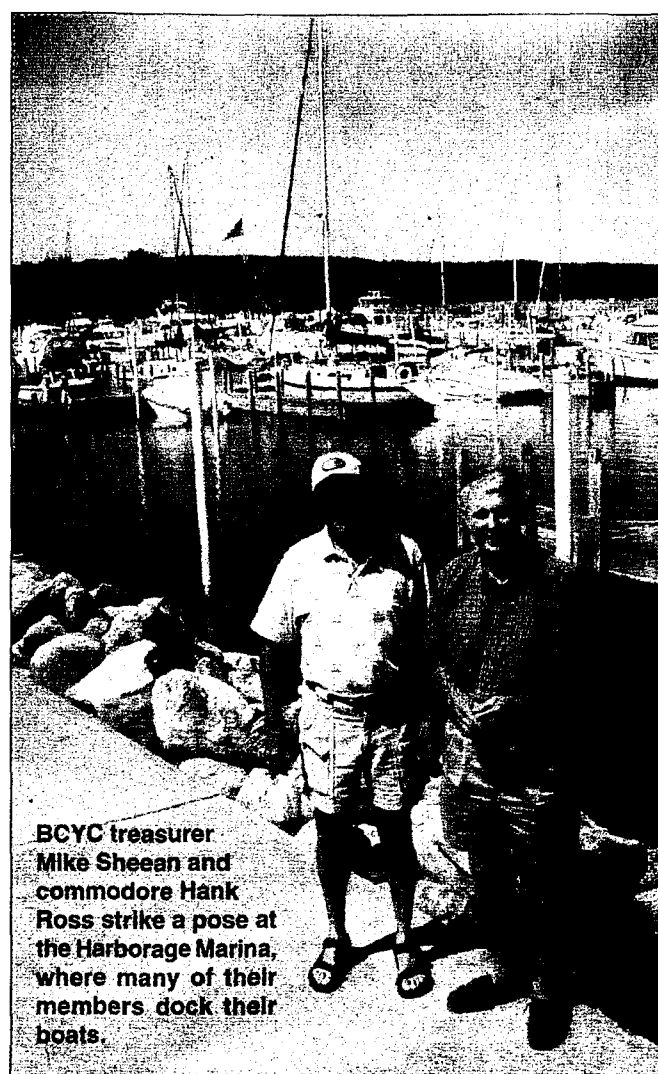

Though the "yacht club" moniker conjures up images of posh clubhouses, nothing, for the Boyne City Yacht Club, could be farther from the truth. The club has always been, and according to Sheehan will likely always be, the "club without a clubhouse." That's not to say that they don't adopt a stomping grounds from time to time. Around the time of the club's inception in 1987, Stafford's Hospitality was opening One Water Street in Boyne City, and the club seized the opportunity to "adopt" the lounge as their home away from home, going so far as to hang their charter in a place of honor on the wall there (the charter was recently retrieved by members due to the closing of One Water Street; currently members meet at various locales around town).

Unfettered by a building and the upkeep costs one would bring, the club is free to do what the membership really wants to do — go boating, have a few parties, and give a little of what they've got to the community from which they've sprung.

"It's primarily a social club," Sheehan said. And a rather good one at that, it appears. The year's calendar consists of the expected cruises in the summer, but throughout the off-season other events keep members moving, including a cross country ski and chili cook-off event, a wine tasting social, a Commodore's Ball, and a road rally. And those are just the scheduled events, Sheehan said, noting that "unlisted parties go on all the time."

Racing, too, points out current commodore Hank Ross, is still a primary draw for a strong contingent of yacht club members. One regular event area residents may be most familiar with is the weekly race held each Tuesday night from the Harborage Marina, which fills the downtown lakefront view with the sight of a host of unfurled sails against the magical light of a summer evening on the lake.

"The club's roots were racing," Ross said. "Different things," he said of the club's many varied activities, "appeal to different people."

As broad as the club's activities is the club's membership, representing a geography extending from the local area to points around the state, to members from as far away as Florida, Arizona, and Texas. Members spend anywhere from year-round to a matter of days each year in the area, and enjoy membership privileges accordingly. One gentleman, relates Sheehan, only spends a week or so a year in Boyne, but arranges his activities once here around yacht club happenings. While this particular member also belongs to the prestigious Grosse Pointe Yacht Club as well as another large club in Florida, he considers, according to Sheehan, his membership with the Boyne City Yacht Club to be the "best value he ever got."

The member has noted, said Sheehan, that the BCYC is the "best, most

EJ man charged in fatal accident

An East Jordan man accused of operating a vehicle under the influence and causing a death was formally charged in the 13th Circuit Court on July 11 in Antrim County.

Edward Kotalik, 35, was charged with operating a motor vehicle while his blood-alcohol level was over the legal limit of .10, causing the death of Dennis Skrocki Sr., 50. According to charges, on July 29, 2001 Kotalik was the driver of a vehicle that crossed the center line of Mt. Bliss Road near Carson Road, hitting another car head-on. Skrocki, a passenger in Kotalik's vehicle, was taken to Charlevoix Area Hospital, where he was pronounced dead. Two other passengers, Dennis Skrocki, Jr., and William Kraemer, Sr., were injured in the accident.

Kotalik was originally scheduled for a preliminary examination the last Thursday, which he waived, according to the Antrim County Prosecutor's Office. The examination determines if a crime was committed and if it is likely the defendant committed the crime.

Kotalik was arraigned in the circuit court, where he heard the charges brought against him. He heard the same charges when he was arraigned in district court on June 18.

Kotalik's charge carries a maximum penalty of 15 years in jail and/or $2,500 - $10,000 fine.

This is Kotalik's third drunk driving charge, according to circuit court records. He was found guilty in Charlevoix for driving while impaired in 1989 and operating under the influence in 1997 in Pontiac, according to court records.

Making hay

This summer scene is a familiar one to area residents, as the work of local farmers is evidenced by the sight of endless rolling hills dotted with freshly baled hay. Though many folks are relishing the long-awaited long, hot summer days, the lack of rainfall in recent weeks isn't exactly good news for growers. Meteorologists are predicting a brief respite in the form of rain towards the end of the week, but then indicators suggest a return to more of the hot dry stuff.

Boyne summer resident Bob Greiwe's memoir recalls the wild days of youth

What do you do when you reach retirement and discover you've got a lifetime's worth of stories stored up and nowhere to put them?

You write a book, of course. At least that's what Bob Greiwe did.

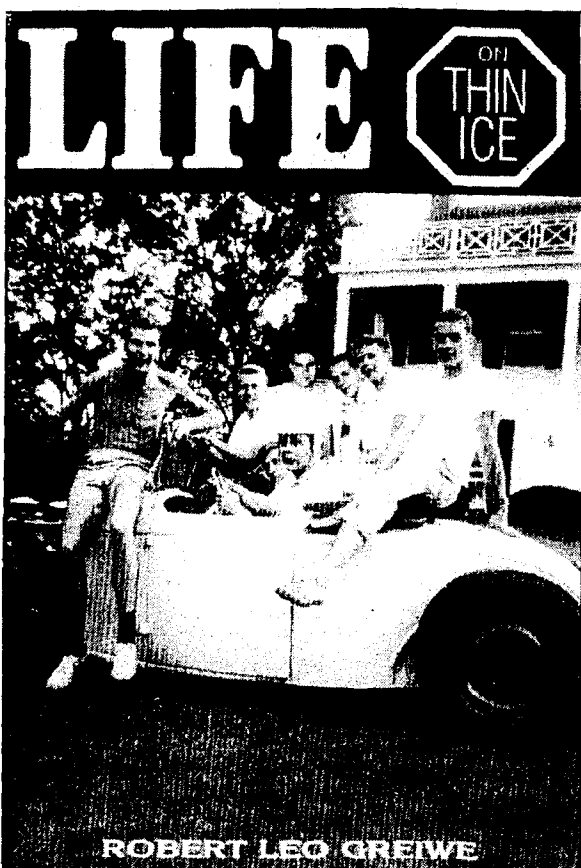

A summer resident at The Harborage in Boyne City, and a Cincinnati native, Greiwe's memoir entitled "Life on Thin Ice" has made him a bit of a star in his Ohio hometown, with the book reaching the top of the Cincinnati Enquirer's bestseller list and earning him rave reviews and a multitude of book signings and interviews.

The success, according to Greiwe, was just an outgrowth of his undertaking, not the goal. What he wanted to do, in fact, was simply pull together those memories for posterity.

Putting his stories on paper was nothing new for Greiwe who, for many years, had made notes recounting funny stories firsthand as well as made a habit of capturing moments through photographs.

It wasn't until he was inspired by a visit with his longtime friend Dick Fuller, though, during which he brought out the "16 funniest stories" to share, did Greiwe begin to entertain the idea of writing a book. More and more stories came out, and though Fuller passed away three years ago, letters from Fuller's wife gave Greiwe the encouragement he needed to give the idea of a book a go. After he'd finished a couple of chapters, he sent them along to her; her honest critique, though, led Greiwe to acknowledge that he was, indeed, "an interior designer, not a writer." "The stories are good," she said, "Grewe recounts of the feedback," "but the writing is just awful."

Greiwe then "combed the bushes" looking for an editor who could take his stories and mold them into a cohesive book. He began to contact ends at the Dilworth. A longtime Harborage homeowner, Greiwe is an accomplished artist and an avid tennis player who, by the way, is always looking for a worthy opponent.

winners of short story contests at the local library in Cincinnati, and "give them tests," he said. Once he'd settled on three candidates, he gave each of them the same story to see what they'd come up with. Of his final choice, Dee Garretson, he said, "I liked what she said. Something felt really good about her, so I hired her."

From that day on, he said, the two labored for two solid years on the project, working and reworking material in preparation for publication. Ultimately, Greiwe decided to self-publish, working through a cousin, Kathy Hoeting, a desktop publisher.

The book, with self-contained chapters punctuated by family photographs and cartoons drawn by the author himself, ended up at a hefty 48 chapters, recounting the often highly-comic exploits of a Midwestern childhood of the 30s, 40s, and 50s.

And though the happenings contained therein are set primarily to the Cincinnati area, local readers are likely to find plenty of common threads in the tales of high-jinks and youthful life lessons.

And though Cincinnati is Greiwe's real home base, he's long counted the Boyne area as his home away from home, having started skiing at Boyne Mountain in 1949. His memories of the local area are almost as rich as those of his childhood home; he calls up images of a "rockin' and rollin'" bar in the basement of Boyne Mountain's lodge, and music week-

Green candidates vie for county commission seats in fall election

Two Green Party members are in the race for seats on the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners.

The Up North Green Party has nominated two county residents to represent the party in the November election for county commissioners. Selected at a UNGP caucus held in June in Boyne City were Bill Henne and Joe King. Henne is running for the seat of District 1 Commissioner, which encompasses the townships of Hayes, Bay, Evangeline and Melrose (east of US 131).

King is running for District 6 Commissioner, which encompasses the city of Charlevoix and Peaine and St. James townships.

Among the reasons cited for Henne's nomination was his reputation as an environmentalist. During his 30-year career as the Environmental Health Supervisor at the District Health Department in Emmet County he oversaw 18 water and air quality programs.

He has also been, and remains, active in several non-profit environment organizations: He is president of WATCH, on the Board of Directors of Tip of the Mitt Watershed Council, and a member of Little Traverse Conservancy, Mackinaw Forest Council, Sierra Club, National Resources Defense Council and Greenpeace.

He is also a former member of the Hayes Township Planning Commission.

"He's knowledgeable and has extensive experience in the area of water management," UNGP Co-Chair Ginny Heick said, "and he's honest."

"I was motivated to run because of the Charlevoix County Commission's lack of interest in protecting our environment," Henne said, adding he was especially dismayed at the commission's weakening of the county Storm Water Control Ordinance. "I am for open, responsive, environmental government."

Henne is married and has three adult children.

Joe King is a local political activist who has worked at the East Jordan Iron Works for six years, and is now a lab technician. He is married and has one daughter.

King was also unhappy with changes to the Storm Water Control Ordinance, as well as with the circumstances surrounding recent actions of the county's personnel committee.

"The main thing with my campaign will be open democracy," King said in accepting the nomination.

"I will make an issue of following the spirit of the Open Meetings Act, not just the letter of it."

The Up North Green Party will hold an informational briefing regarding these candidates on issue of local concern on Wednesday, July 17, at 6 p.m. at the Dilworth Inn, 300 Water St., Boyne City.

The meeting will be followed at 7 p.m. by the regular Greens meeting which will include a brainstorming and strategy session. The public is invited to attend either or both meetings.

For more information, call Ginny Heick at 582-3539.

Fund-raiser set for EJ fishing pond

Plans for a kids' fishing pond at Sportsman's Park in East Jordan are moving right along, with a hot dog sale fund-raiser planned for Saturday, July 20, from 12-5 p.m. at Glen's Market in East Jordan.

Volunteers will be serving up a hot dog and pop for $1, with proceeds to benefit the fishing pond project.

The brainstorm of an area fisheries committee convened earlier this year, the project is intended to help jumpstart fishing related activities in the area, and specifically in East Jordan, which has not previously had a focal point for interested anglers.

According to committee member Tom Durecki, only two short weeks after receiving the blessing of the East Jordan City Commission the project has progressed rapidly, with blueprints currently begin drawn up and potential grant monies being explored, all with the cooperation of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. Though the project is still in the early stages, Durecki hopes to see kids fishing by the spring of 2003.

Kids invited to 'Name That Pond'

With the effort to establish a kids' fishing pond at Sportsman's Park in East Jordan in full swing, the project needs a name!

Kids are invited to submit their ideas for naming the pond, accompanied by a few words explaining why they think their suggestion is the perfect name. Kids can submit as many names as they like, but each name must be accompanied by a reason.

The author of the winning name suggestion will receive a new rod and reel from Tom's Bait and Tackle in East Jordan, and will have the distinct honor of casting the first lure into the pond at its opening.

Entries can be submitted to Tom Durecki, P.O. Box 673, East Jordan, MI 49727.

fun-loving group he belongs to. He just finds this fun, and he's very serious about keeping his membership up."

As for the dramatic and steady membership increase, Ross and Sheean are both nonplussed, shrugging their shoulders and chalking it up to the natural growth of a very good thing. "I don't know how we keep growing," Ross said, with Sheean noting that he receives membership inquiries almost daily.

"Obviously the club has changed quite a bit over the years," Ross said. "Now, it has quite a different membership, but that reflects the changes in the area." As Boyne has become a better-known destination for retirees and vacationers, so has the membership increased in ways that reflect that, though a large amount of the membership also consists of year-round residents.

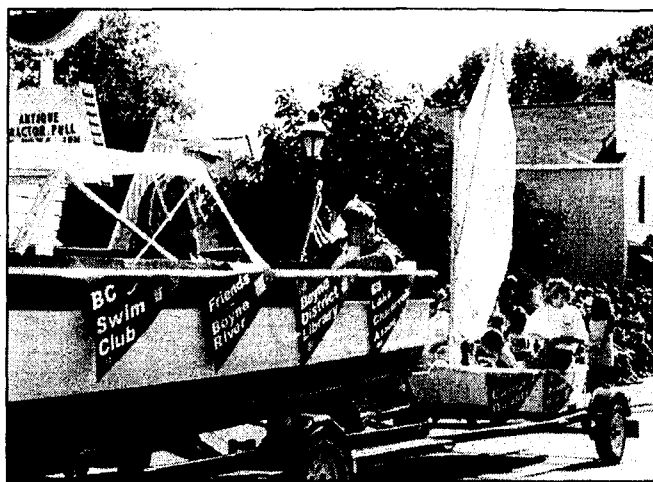

And truth be told, membership requirements can likely be credited at least in part for the thriving club. "We have very strict guidelines," Sheean said, tongue planted firmly in cheek. "If you have twenty bucks, you can be a member."

Indeed, a twenty dollar bill, along with a love of boating and a jolly good time, is all it takes to gain membership into the Boyne City Yacht Club. The notoriously low membership-fee is possible in part by their decision to remain a "clubhouse-free" organization. It's also evidence that highbrow prestige is not what this particular yacht club is all about.

One thing it is about, however, is giving back.

The club has made a commitment in recent years to donate funds from their general treasury to area programs and organizations they deem in need, focusing specifically on water-related activities, for obvious reasons. At some point, said Sheean, "someone came up with the brilliant idea, 'let's share some of what we've got.'" And so, simple as that, they do. Some of the organizations they've supported in the past include the Boyne City Swim School, the 4-H Sail School program, Camp Quality, Friends of the Boyne River, and the Lake Charlevoix Association. Keeping it simple, the club doesn't accept applications for assistance, but rather likes to "surprise" their recipients.

It's not something they have to do, and it's certainly not something all yacht clubs do, but the donations are just another thing that sets this particular yacht club apart from the rest.

The Boyne City Yacht Club entry in this year's Fourth of July parade featured banners naming just a few of the local organizations the club has supported in recent years.

For anyone who'd like to see the yacht club in action, this weekend they'll have their chance, as the club participates in the annual Camp Quality Benefit Weekend, sponsored by RE/MAX of Boyne.

On Saturday, July 20, BCYC members will host the annual fund-raising race, previously known as the Jim Kuhn Memorial Race, with proceeds to benefit Camp Quality, which offers camp opportunities and year-round support for kids whose lives have been touched by cancer.

Every year, a portion of the endowment's investment income is used to support programs in education, the environment, the arts, human services, health and wellness, youth activities, community development, and various civic projects while the principal of the endowment continues to grow, serving as charitable capital to benefit the area well into the future.

Trash in Boyne City parks bigger issue than dogs

TO THE EDITOR:

I don't have a dog, but I heard a lot of people complain about the folks who were ticketed for having their dogs in the park over the 4th of July holiday. The fine is totally ridiculous. A warning would have been taken seriously by most dog owners!

I would much rather see people who litter the parks with their trash, cigarette butts, cans, bottles, get a $100 fine. They sit down there night after night in the gazebo putting all their junk everywhere but the barrels provided. I took my grandson down there last week and picked up junk for half an hour. Why isn't someone chasing them around handing out fines? Of course not, that's why they keep doing it.

Challenge Mountain project needs more support to complete needed improvements

TO THE EDITOR:

With great community support, the construction of the first aid room, restroom, and rest area at Challenge Mountain are coming along nicely. The project began with a grant from the Local Revenue Sharing Board and has continued due to generous financial donations and wonderful amounts of materials donated by local businesses. A complete list will be given at the end of the project.

At this time over one-third of the goal of $103,000 has been reached, with a total of over $20,000 given in materials and $20,000 in financial donations. To complete the first aid room project, we must raise an additional $5,000. We also must reconstruct the roof this summer to accommodate heavy snowfall, more efficiently. The roof is currently flat on two-thirds of the building allowing ice to form which will cause the possibility of the roof giving way to the heavy ice. The cost of the roof will be around $40,000.

Please help challenge Mountain meet these goals of helping the disabled meet their maximum potential through outdoor recreation. The disabled and impaired in our communities are counting on all of us to help with dignity, respect, and building their self-esteem.

Sue Moody, executive director
Challenge Mountain

Signs of mutual support alive and well in Boyne City

TO THE EDITOR:

In case you were too busy to see or notice - Our Dairy Queen of Boyne advertised on their marquee the Rotary Chicken dinners in the park on the 4th of July. "Only in Boyne City!!!"

And to the Garden Club of Boyne - for all your hard work, words are not enough - the beauty you bring to our City is tremendous! God bless you all!

CORRECTION

JV Freedom Festival committee indebted to community supporters

TO THE EDITOR:

On behalf of the Jordan Valley Freedom Festival committee members I would like to thank EVERYONE who made this year's festival possible. Our board would like to extend special thanks to the City of East Jordan, Department of Public Works, ambulance crew, and fire and police departments. Please accept our gracious gratitude to all businesses and private donations, contributions, sponsorships, and services. It takes an entire community to make our festival a success.

As president I would like to take a moment to thank the board members I have worked so closely with over this past year: Holly LaVanway - vice-President; Julie McGuire - secretary; Laura Snyder - treasurer; Carol Galmore - past president; board members Mike Burr, Becky King, Cheltzi Thorman, Glenda Clark, Gary and Maryann Roberts and Tom Birgy. We would like to send our sincere appreciation to ALL the many volunteers who worked throughout the weekend and through this past year in our fundraising and planning efforts.

The festival committee is made up of all volunteers and we are always looking for new recruits. It is very gratifying to volunteer for a festival that brings the community together in a weekend of fun and enjoyment to so many.

Special thanks to this year's Gold and Platinum Sponsors: Moore & Bruggink, Inc., Sky Electric, Rebec-Hosler-Sweet Post #227, Charlevoix State Bank, East Jordan Plastics, East Jordan Iron Works, Burnette Foods, Avon representative Rhonda Thorman, and East Jordan Firefighters Association.

The Jordan Valley Freedom Festival is still $2,000 away from the funds needed to pay our expenses. If you have not yet made a contribution and wish to do so please send a check to: Jordan Valley Freedom Festival, PO Box 435, East Jordan, MI 49727.

Bandshell letter meant to raise questions, not criticize

TO THE EDITOR:

I would like to extend my apologies for any problems that may have occurred for you due to my letter last week.

As I stated, I have the utmost respect for all of the committee and was not trying to criticize the efforts or ethics. My main concern was why the bandshell was not being used, especially since I'm aware that there are still those who feel it should be removed for whatever reason. And not using it on the Fourth would give them more reason to do so.

I also understand that they were using a trailer versus a portable stage, that was donated- GREAT!

However, the bandshell could have been used and the barrier issue could have been easily dealt with, I'm told. And as far as the electrical is concerned, maybe it wouldn't have blown the band's amp if they had been on stage, but that is a moot point.

I might also add that I was not the only one wondering why the bandshell was not being used. Throughout the day of the Fourth and over the past week, I've had a number of people ask me why the bandshell was not used.

So now that I've received more information about the day's events I'll get off my soapbox and say once again that I did not mean to imply anything other than my passion for the bandshell and its importance to this community history.

Sheriff warns of solicitors seeking money in the name of law enforcement

TO THE EDITOR:

The Sheriff's Office receives approximately five calls a week from a business person or senior citizen in Charlevoix County who has been contacted by someone over the telephone who indicates they are soliciting for law enforcement. They usually state the proceeds will benefit local law enforcement and many times they use the name of the local departments and the name of the Sheriff.

Your local law enforcement in Charlevoix County appreciates the fact that citizens want to support their police agencies, but these telephone solicitations are, on the whole, of no benefit to your local law enforcement agency.

The Sheriff's Office supports the Michigan Sheriffs Association. All contacts are made in person or by mail with a letter of introduction from Sheriff Lasater on department letterhead.

In summary, a good policy to follow is not to get involved with law enforcement telephone solicitation. If you have a question feel free to contact me personally.

More help always needed for BC Fourth of July

TO THE EDITOR:

Boyne City's 4th of July Festival committee would like to give a heartfelt thanks to all those who have made this year's festival so spectacular.

First of all, to Boyne City's fire and ambulance crews, city workers, police departments and Charlevoix County Sheriff Department, and their families who graciously give up their 4th of July together, because these devoted people work from 6 a.m. to midnight so that everyone is assured a safe and fun festival.

A thank you to all those who donated to the various fun-raisers... those that "adopted their favorite fireworks," the Fireman's Auxiliary Canister, and to the sponsors: Great Lakes Energy for their Gold Sponsorship; Boyne City's Rotary Club, ETA NU Sorority, The Harborage Condominium Association, Huntington National Bank, and Boyne Falls Polish Festival, for their generous Bronze Sponsorship.

A kind appreciation to businesses that have donated various acts of kindness, supplies and services: Charlevoix County Transit, Franks Towing, Boyne USA, Great Lakes Motor Works, Top Rank, Glens, Litzenger Place, Ralph Gillett, Tim Arner, Thick & Juicy, Dairy Queen, and Boyne City Rotary. A special thank you to Boyne Valley Lions who very successfully manned the Fireworks Safety Area, and to Clinton River Ski Club who volunteers year after year where help is needed.

To all of the participants in the Grand Parade, the Independence Day race, the decorated bike contest, the soap box derby, the All Class Reunion, the Waterfront Revival and the Boyne City Yacht Club Parade of Boats, a special thank you because without your participation and hard work our festival would be very dull.

Finally, but most important, THANK YOU TO EVERY SINGLE VOLUNTEER. There are close to 10 unselfish fun-seekers that meet five months a year, to plan and execute the best festival that Northern Michigan can be very proud of. There's an additional 50 other people that fill in when needed.

To the issues raised in last week's letter, the bandshell wasn't used due to the technicality of band equipment and the safety perimeter. Without the use of the donated low raised trailer from Boyne Valley Hydroseed it would not have been possible to have continuous entertainment from 1 in the afternoon through 9 in the evening. Also, Mike Smith has been a constant supporter of the fireworks and it's asked of him not to stop his endorsement due to the city ordinances that are not written by its committee. Your donation is very much needed and sincerely appreciated. For those who wish to complain, or want to know all the facts as they happen, we do desperately need volunteers. It is essential to recruit new volunteers for 2003, so step up, and be involved in a fun committee that brings so much pleasure to people of all ages.

It's been estimated that close to 15,000 people come to Boyne City to see what can be done by a small community of 3,500 full-time residents. All the volunteers deserve every "ooh and ahhh" that is heartfelt by all the spectators of Boyne City's 4th of July Festival! You are the ones that make our job so very easy and so much fun. If you enjoyed yourself and would like to help pay for that fun, then please send a check to P.O. Box 407, Boyne City, MI 49712. Help us start 2003 off with a BANG!

NEIGHBORS

By NANCY NORTHUP

TOO LATE FOR last week's column was the following: Gathering at the Cal Deming home for the Fourth celebrations were the Deming Clan - Kevin, Craig and Darlene, Lynn and Mike Shaw, and friends of the family. Niki Andrick drove the soapbox made by Grandpa Cal in the soapbox derby - and she had a wonderful time! Everyone came back for the fireworks, plus a few more, since the Deming home is so ideally located. All had a fun time.

LOUISA NORTHUP and her daughter, Kim Martin and grandchildren, Madeline and Ben, of Grand Rapids spent Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in Sault Ste Marie. They took the Agawam Canyon train trip.

THE GRANDVUE AUXILIARY and staff shared a noontime Salad Luncheon with the residents on Thursday. Later in the afternoon, all enjoyed a sing-along of printed up "oldies but goodies" done by pianist Nancy and the added entertainment of guests Doc Heaton and Marie Schmittiel, who did some Barbershop-style harmonizing.

PATRICK VARNUM of Pataskala, Ohio has been enjoying the past two weeks here with his grandmother, Gen Varnum. His dad, Paul Varnum, arrived on Thursday for a four-day weekend before father and son returned home.

ROSE NEMEC of Traverse City, a retired activities director of Grandvue, called on Jean Korthase at the Deer Meadows Apartments on Saturday. Rose was also here to attend the belated wedding reception of her grandson, Mark and Stacey Sulak Jr.

CLARENCE AND SUE MILLER of Boyne City and son David Miller of Willington, N.C. spent a few days of fishing at Taquaman Falls this past week. Back in Boyne, sons, Danny Miller of Battle Creek and Richard Kurtz of Kent City joined them for some good family times. David and Danny also visited their mother, Pat Souder, while here.

RAY ANDERSON of Boyne City enjoyed "dinner out" on Saturday night, as the guest of his daughters, Nancy Cook and Kathy Fruge, in celebration of his birthday.

BRUCE AND NANCY LAWSON of Boyne City spent the weekend in Lansing to help grandson Luke, the son of his daughter Trenna and Brian Nees, celebrate his July 12 first birthday. Big treat of the day was Little Luke's call from his daddy, who is in the U.S. Navy and serving in the Mid-East.

How safe are extended wear contact lens?

By DR. STEVEN HUFFORD, OPTOMETRIST

Dear Dr. Hufford,

Are these new extended-wear contacts really safe to wear for 30 days straight?

Bill from Boyne City

Yes, Bill, they are.

The main concern of extended wear contacts or lenses that you sleep in, is, can your cornea get enough oxygen to stay healthy.

The clear dome of tissue that covers the colored part of your eye is called the cornea. The cornea has no blood vessels and it gets the oxygen it needs mostly from the air in front of it. The oxygen is absorbed through the cornea to keep it healthy.

When we wear a contact on the cornea, this reduces the amount of oxygen that can get to the tissue. At night when we close our eyes this further reduces the oxygen to the eye.

In the past it was a delicate balance as to whether or not the eye was getting enough oxygen. It depended on the type of polymer from which the lens was made, how clean the lens was and the patient's individual physiology of the cornea.

Soft contacts are made of a water and oxygen absorbing plastic polymer that allows oxygen to pass through. The amount of oxygen that can pass through is given a value called the DK value.

How this value is calculated is technical and not important. We will use it as a comparison of the ability to let oxygen pass through the lens.

For most daily wear lenses that are inserted in the morning and removed before bedtime the DK value is 10 to 20. This will vary from brand to brand.

Extended wear lenses of the past measured their permeability to oxygen and their DK was 15 to 30.

The new 30-day extended wear lenses allow the oxygen to pass through the cornea so well the value is 110 to 140. This increased oxygen permeability keeps the cornea healthy, so, you only need to worry about lenses and lens care on a monthly basis. This type lens is a great alternative to laser surgery. You obtain full time clear vision without subjecting your eyes to serious surgery.

Questions or comments can be directed to Dr. Hufford at Hufford Vision and Eye Care, 225 State St., Boyne City, MI 49712.

He recently released his follow-up recording, The Return, featuring guests such as The Roches, Howard Jones, and Jane Siberry.

The business of running a library

By NANNETTE MILLER

Back in the 60s there was a Broadway musical called "How To Succeed In Business Without Really Trying." As enticing as the possibility of effortless success sounds, I now know that, like money or a free lunch, it just doesn't happen.

As I walked around town on the 4th of July it was interesting to note which businesses were open and which weren't. Many of those that were open are owned and operated by people who understand that what sets one business apart from another is service. Make that Service with a capital "S".

Most people don't think of the library as a business. We are non-profit, and we are a governmental entity, but we still have to operate according to principles of good business. This makes our service our top priority.

The main component of excellent library service is accessibility. This means not only barrier-free access to the building, but also hours open and ease of finding information. The renovation made the building accessible to all by providing wide aisles, ramps, and an elevator. The library Board of Trustees has increased our hours of service to 60 per week, more than any other library in the area and most libraries of comparable size in the state. Almost 1,000 people used the computers last month, and we now have to put people on a waiting list. One of our top priorities for the coming year is making the "card catalog" and circulation system available on the World Wide Web so people can access their accounts from home.

All of the services take money. The Endowment Fund is more important than ever as we continuously work to improve library service in the community. This week we received sizeable donations from Butler Drugs and Rotary, which we greatly appreciate. Brick pavers are still available and will be placed in the courtyard garden very soon. The newly forming Friends of the Library are holding another book "sale" on July 19 and 20. Cash donations for equipment or to the Endowment Fund are always welcome.

There are many ways to support the library. We have been given a wonderful gift. Let's show our appreciation.

Nannette Miller is the director of the Boyne District Library.

Michael Stadler to bring eclectic musical style to 'Evenings at the Gazebo'

The "Evenings at the Gazebo" concert series will feature California-based singer/songwriter Michael Stadler on Wednesday, July 17, in Old City Park in Boyne City.

Stadler performs music in a wide variety of styles, including country, folk, bluegrass, swing, Celtic, old-time, and more. As a musician, Stadler sings lead and harmony, and plays guitar, fiddle, mandolin, banjo, lap steel, bass, and bouzouki.

He currently plays violin and lap steel with acoustic art-pop trio Unsweetened, now recording their second CD. Though currently living in the San Francisco area, Stadler was raised in the Upper Peninsula on the south shore of Lake Superior.

The performance will begin at 7 p.m. Sponsors for the evening are Boyne City Dairy Queen, Chipman Refrigeration, and Ed's Electric. In case of rain, the concert will be held at St. Matthew Church's Fellowship Hall, 1303 Boyne Ave. To make a donation to the non-profit concert series, call Cindy Kujawski at 582-7573 or the Boyne Area Chamber of Commerce at 582-6222.

Central Lake Public and Ellsworth Community School Celebrating our Successes

Central Lake and Ellsworth Schools are cooperatively celebrating a year of high achievement in two excellent area schools. Our districts have many individual and collective points of pride that include:

- Demanding Core Curriculum with numerous advanced placement course offerings to meet individual needs.
- Comprehensive athletic programs and many K-12 enrichment opportunities for advanced learning.
- Numerous on-site Vocational Education programs in Building Trades, Auto-CAD, Visual Imaging and Business Services Technology with access to several additional programs.
- High quality instrumental music program that regularly earn #1 and #2 ratings at District and State Festivals.
- The districts both have low teacher/pupil ratio at about one teacher to every 17 students. Central Lake takes pride in having Michigan Secondary Foreign Language Teacher of the Year, Michael Kundrat and TV 9&10 Educator of the Week, Mario Dibble as part of our excellent faculty.

New camp director John Heinzelman, left, wishes former director Scott Okerlund well as he moves on to new adventures.

Camp Daggett's Okerlund resigns; Heinzelman appointed as director

Longtime Camp Daggett executive director Scott J. Okerlund recently announced his resignation from the position, citing a need to relocate to the Glen Lake area to follow the employment of his wife, Melissa.

Last week, Camp Daggett's Board of Trustees appointed John Heinzelman to replace Okerlund as director.

According to trustee Ed Hennessey, Okerlund will be missed. "Many changes and improvements have taken place during Okerlund's tenure," Hennessey said, including the construction of an indoor adventure and activities building expected to be completed this fall, and the camp's accreditation from the American Camping Association.

Okerlund was recently presented a plaque recognizing "ten years of service to the children of Charlevoix and Emmet counties," at a going-away party thrown for him at the camp.

Heinzelman has been on the staff at Camp Daggett since 1997 as the adventure education director, and has been heavily involved in the planning of the new indoor center.

Camp Daggett was founded in 1925 and is located on 106 wooded acres on the shores of Walloon Lake.

Special day

Lots of seniors turned out to enjoy the annual Charlevoix County Senior Picnic held last week at Whiting Park, but for Elmira's Roy Parish, right, the day was particularly special. Besides enjoying a fine chicken barbecue lunch and musical entertainment, Parish celebrated his 102nd birthday with a cake and plenty of friends. The picnic is sponsored by the Charlevoix County Commission on Aging.
