Boyne Chamber hosting monthly film series

The punk rock skateboard epic Dogtown and Z Boys will be featured at the Boyne Cinema on Aug. 3 and 5 as part of the Boyne Area Chamber of Commerce's presentations on award-winning movies.

Showings will be held at 12 noon on Saturday, Aug. 3, and at 9 p.m. on Monday, Aug. 5.

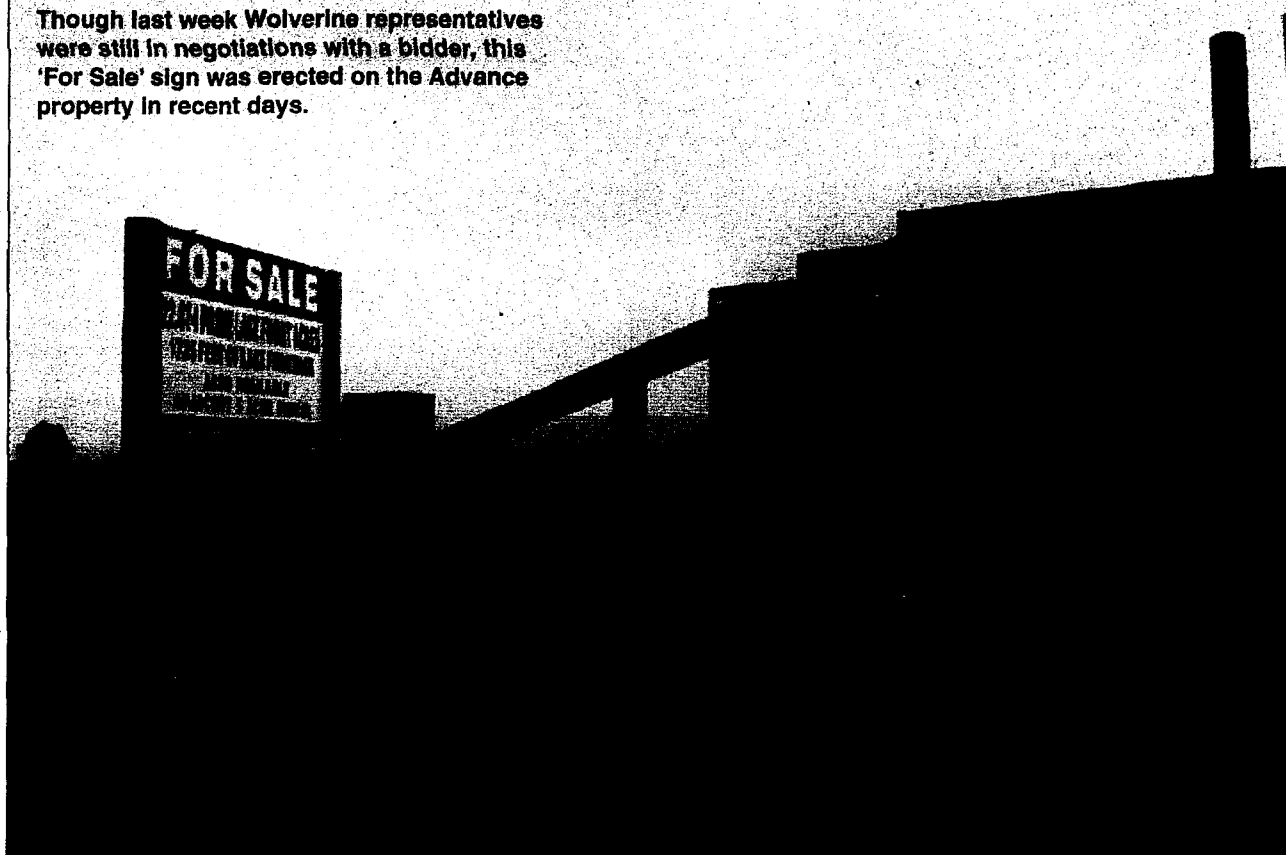

Dogtown and Z Boys is an award-winning documentary that looks at the birth of modern skateboarding in "Dogtown," a community between Santa Monica and Venice in southern California. Narrated by Sean Penn, the film has a PG-13 rating. It received the best documentary award and the audience award at the 2000 Sundance Film Festival.

The showings are sponsored by BikeFix, The Outside Edge, and North Country Cycle Sports.

The Boyne Area Chamber film series brings award-winning independent, classic, and foreign movies to the local screen each month. Tickets are $5 per person, with proceeds benefitting the chamber's efforts to promote and support the Boyne Area.

For advance ticket sales or more information on the series or sponsorships, call the chamber at 582-6222.

Though last week Wolverine representatives were still in negotiations with a bidder, this 'For Sale' sign was erected on the Advance property in recent days.

'Tip of the Mitt' takes larger role in pursuit of power plant property

Nearly four months after the deadline for bids from the purchase of the Wolverine Power Plant in Advance, the company, as of last week, was still in negotiations with an undisclosed bidder. Despite negotiations, however, a "For Sale" sign was placed on the property in Advance late last week, though no representative from the company was available for comment at presstime.

If, in fact, the appearance of the sign means that the plant is once again on the market, the development is a positive one for Eveline Township folks working to secure ownership of the site in the hopes of creating a waterfront development to suit the vision of the majority. The effort has stepped up in recent weeks, with the township teaming up with Tip of the Mitt Watershed Council to move forward on the project in earnest.

Previously, the effort to pursue the purchase of the property has been a grass-roots effort, driven by dreams and desire; recently the group has concluded that it was time to bring in an experienced party.

"We felt that the committee, working on a volunteer basis, had gone as far as they could with the project," said committee leader and Eveline Township treasurer Deb Jason. "By partnering with Tip of the Mitt we felt we could move this project forward."

Tip of the Mitt was a logical choice, Jason continued, because of their commitment to "environmentally sound" projects.

"We're very pleased to serve [the township]," said Tip of the Mitt's Wil Cwikiel, adding that he believes the Wolverine Power Plant property, which occupies 1,900 feet of Lake Charlevoix waterfront, to be "very important for the health of Lake Charlevoix. We're honored to be asked to help coordinate the effort."

According to Cwikiel, Tip of the Mitt will not actually be taking over the project, but rather working in partnership with the committee and township to pursue the possible acquisition and development of the property. "The key here is that the citizen group will still be a very, very critical component to making this happen," Cwikiel said. "[Tip of the Mitt is] the professional staff."

While a primary function of Tip of the Mitt's partnership with the township will be to assist with grant writing and fund-raising, the group will

Petitions to recall two Eveline officials filed with county

Last week, a group of Eveline Township citizens filed two petitions with the Charlevoix County Clerk, the first step in a recall action against Eveline Township supervisor Dan Skrzeczkoski and clerk Don Hayden.

The county has 10-20 days from the date of filing, July 23, to approve or reject the language contained in the petitions.

The county election committee is expected to address the petitions at an Aug. 12 meeting.

According to the proposed wording, the petition to recall Skrzeczkoski claims that he "does not faithfully represent the citizens of Eveline Township," citing the following incidents: Skrzeczkoski refused to honor the written requests of 250 township residents regarding the unlawfulness of a wind-turbine generator ordinance adopted by the township; that Skrzeczkoski had deemed that unbinding advisory resolutions passed at township meetings by residents "didn't matter;" and that Skrzeczkoski had proposed certain property in the township be rezoned to Mobile Home Park Residential District R-4 without first consulting the township board, planning commission or a planning consultant. The proposed language in the petition maintains that Skrzeczkoski's proposal "is contrary to the goals of residents of the township as the goals are stated in the Eveline Township Master Plan."

Wording on the petition to recall Hayden claims that he has, "by actions and words" shown "deliberate disregard" for the ordinances and citizens of Eveline Township; that he intentionally omitted information required by law from a zoning amendment notice; demanded, while acting in the capacity of a public official, that a township resident "sit down and shut up;" and that he sarcastically said to a township resident that he will "see [her] in court."

The petition further states that Hayden should be recalled from office to be replaced by an Eveline Township resident who will "respect the authority of the office and rights of citizens."

Skrzeczkoski said that he would refrain from commenting on the recall effort until "a few questions" regarding the wording of the petitions were addressed at the upcoming meeting of the county election committee.

If the wording of the petitions is approved by the county, petitioners will be required to collect 137 signatures on each petition to have the recall placed on a ballot.

Portside marks 40 years of fine art

■ Annual fair at Elm Pointe features fine art from all over

Celebrating its 40th anniversary, the Portside Arts Fair will bring fine art to an idyllic setting once again on the first weekend in August. The event will be held Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 3 and 4, at Elm Pointe Estate on M-66 in East Jordan. A juried fine art show, the fair will be open to visitors on Saturday from 10 a.m.-5 p.m., and again on Sunday from 11 a.m.-4 p.m.

Guitarist Russell Donnellon will provide musical entertainment throughout the event, and refreshments will be available on-site.

This year's show will be judged by Kathleen M. Buday.

Buday possesses a Bachelor of Arts in Studio Art and a Master's of Education Degree in Art Therapy. She has more than 10 years of experience in the museum and art gallery fields, including the Art Institute of Chicago, and Wayne State University's Museum of Anthropology. As an art therapist, Buday has worked in numerous settings where she initiated creative arts programs designed to enhance the quality of life for individuals and families.

She serves on the Board of Directors for The Center for Creativity, Arts & Therapy, Rodin House and VSA Arts.

Currently, as the Curator of Education and Interpretation for the Dennis Museum Center in Traverse City, she manages, coordinates and implements museum educational and

EJ ROTARY'S STRIVE PROGRAM IS ALL ABOUT

GIVING KIDS A CHANCE

When Sara Schroeder first signed on as a mentor in the East Jordan Rotary Club's Strive program, she had no idea what to expect. Recruited by coworker and Strive program coordinator Gary Roberts, Schroeder admits that the idea of working with an at-risk high school student didn't exactly set her on fire. "I didn't think I had anything to offer [these students]," Schroeder said. "I had a very bad high school experience. I didn't live up to my potential."

As it turned out though, her reluctant signing on was serendipitous. Rotary, it turned out, had only one more student to match-up when Schroeder agreed to take part in the program, and so she was it. The pairing, it turned out, was a match made in

Primary Election 2002

The Primary Election 2002 will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 6. The following candidates will appear on the ballot for county commissioner for Charlevoix County Districts 2, 3, and 5 respectively. Each candidate was mailed a questionnaire by The Citizen-Journal to fill out and return in order to give constituents an opportunity to learn more about them. An additional candidate, incumbent Victor Patrick, did not return his questionnaire. Also, Boyne City resident Frank Roselli's name will appear on the ballot; however, Roselli told The Citizen-Journal that he has withdrawn from the race, citing personal reasons.

Charlevoix County, District 2

NAME: Dr. W. Randolph Frykberg

POSITION YOU ARE SEEKING: Charlevoix County Commissioner, District #2 (Boyne City and Evangeline Township)

BACKGROUND: Married to Diane for 32 years. Diane is a retired school teacher. We have two sons, Andrew and Eric. They attended Boyne City Schools K-12, graduated, and are now both in college.

We have lived in Charlevoix County for the past 27 years while I served local units of government in northern Michigan. I was City Manager of Boyne City for over 13 years. Since retiring from the City, I have been a Municipal Operations Consultant with the firm of Wade-Trim, Inc. and continue to serve local units of government. Prior to working for the City, I was Environmental Programs Manager and then Executive Director of the Northeast Michigan Council of Governments for 8 years.

I was educated at the University of Michigan and Western Michigan University and have a Bachelor, two Masters, Specialist, and Doctorate degrees. I am a founding member of the Northern Lakes Economic Alliance, a board I have been on for over 18 years and an officer for the past 15 years. I am also the Chair of the Charlevoix County Brownfield Redevelopment Authority and a member of the Charlevoix County Planning Commission. My family and I are members of St. Matthews Church. My family enjoys the out of doors and frequently spends time on Lake Charlevoix or the ski slopes. Diane and I have been on the National Ski Patrol at Boyne Highlands for over 35 years.

I have served on the 911 Board of Directors for Charlevoix County, the Charlevoix County Solid Waste Planning Committee (almost nine years), and the Boyne City Economic Development Authority.

WHY ARE YOU RUNNING?

With my background and experience in local government, I believe that I do have something to offer.

WHAT SKILLS WOULD YOU BRING TO THE CHARLEVOIX COUNTY COMMISSION?

I have 27 years of Northern Michigan Local Government management experience while living in Charlevoix County. I will lead with integrity and fairness, treat people fairly and manage County Business with fiscal responsibility, understanding and professionalism.

WHAT DO YOU WANT VOTERS TO KNOW ABOUT YOU?

MAJOR ISSUES, COUNTY STRENGTHS AND WEAKNESSES:

If I am fortunate enough to serve the people of Boyne City and Evangeline Township as their County Commissioner, I will be in a much better position to answer these questions. The majority of the Charlevoix County Commissioners will be new due to incumbents that are not running. We will need to regroup and refocus on County priorities.

No photo of Frykberg was available at press time.

Charlevoix County, District 3

NAME: Ronald Reinhardt

POSITION YOU ARE SEEKING: County Commissioner District 3

BACKGROUND:

Charlevoix County has been my home all of my life except for four years in U.S. Air Force. I've been married to my wife Billie for 40 years; we have two sons and five grandchildren, all five in Charlevoix County. I graduated from Boyne Falls High School in 1958.

My brothers and I are currently operating a beef farm. I'm currently serving on the Charlevoix Conservation District Board; as a Trustee on the Wilson Township Board; the Wilson Township Planning Commission and as their representative to Charlevoix County MTA Chapter. I have recently retired from East Jordan Iron Works where the last position held was Pattern Making Superintendent.

I am running because Charlevoix County does not currently have a voice from agriculture. I am concerned about preserving the natural resources. Providing housing which is affordable for the citizens earning medium wages in this area is also a major concern of mine.

WHY ARE YOU RUNNING?

Major issues facing the county are urban sprawl, loss of open space and farm land. Of particular interest is the need to protect what little agriculture land we have left and increasing the manufacturing base, which provides our citizens a decent wage.

WHAT ARE THE COUNTY'S STRENGTHS?

Our strength is in Charlevoix County's location in Michigan which has an abundance of water and the county's quality school systems.

WHAT ARE THE COUNTY'S WEAKNESSES?

Our strength is also our weakness, everyone wants to live up here.

OVERALL, ARE YOU PLEASED WITH THE WORK OF THE COUNTY COMMISSION?

Until an individual takes office, it is difficult to judge what kind of job the present commission has been doing.

WHAT DO YOU WANT VOTERS TO KNOW ABOUT YOU?

I will do my best to represent the citizens of the District 3 if elected. I have no disagreements with any elected officials in the County, and will do my best for the entire County.

Remember to vote on Aug. 6

Charlevoix County, District 5

NAME: Arness Cox

POSITION YOU ARE SEEKING: Charlevoix County Commissioner, District 5. District 5 encompasses Eveline Township, and portions of Marion and Wilson Townships.

BACKGROUND:

I'm 57 years old married to Diane Marie for 33 years, proud parent of Anne and Fred Cox their ages are 29 and 27 respectively.

The Citizen-Journal also asked these questions; why am I running for office, skills, major issues, county strengths/weaknesses and overall view thereof. Let me start off by saying government is serious business, especially when it comes to spending taxpayer wealth.

My last residence before moving to Eveline Township in 1998 was Lansing, Mich. where I retired from General Motors, Oldsmobile Div. A big difference between Lansing and Charlevoix that I noticed is sprawl, government there didn't harness it as they should have. I feel sprawl is a cancerous thing if not contained and or managed.

I've noticed recently many issues that have separated voters from their elected officials, biggest and foremost is placement of the new Charlevoix school and the open meetings act. I have strong feelings about these two issues, hopefully those in charge will do the right thing for the majority! As a county commissioner I'll be honest with you and with your money, "separated from the voters" will not be an issue. Other problem areas are soil erosion into the lakes and streams, also allowing the building of structures within unallotted areas using variances to bypass the voters perception of what's right.

I've always wondered how a non-homestead condo can block views of our lakes, the occupants have their view and ours too! I didn't mean to antagonize these voters but I wanted to lead up to the strongest and last of my printed verbage. I will not vote yes for any "pork," and if any issue doesn't help 70-100 percent of the voters I'll vote NO!

The question, "Am I pleased with the work of the County Commission?" can be full of political implications and fodder, but here goes. I've only met Vic Patrick in person, of all the commissioners, he seems honest and forthright to me. I'm happy for South Arm having him, especially paying him that meager $7,526, downstate commissioners probably spend that much yearly at the pop machine.

In closing please ask yourself what you want as a voter and go for it, your voice is in your elected officials. My explanations have been short and I hope insightful, my voting on issues will be yours to judge.

NAME: Dennis Jason

POSITION YOU ARE SEEKING: Charlevoix County District 5

BACKGROUND:

I have been married to my wife Mary for 36 years. We have four children, one of whom is married with three children. I am a graduate of Michigan State University. I have been a resident of Charlevoix County since 1969 living in East Jordan until we moved to our residence on Ferry Road, Eveline Township, in 1997. I am the Department of Public Works Director for the City of Boyne City.

WHY AM I RUNNING?

I am running for District 5 Commissioner because there is an "open seat." I am not running against anyone or for any cause. I believe I have the necessary experience that will be a benefit to the residents of the district.

WHAT SKILLS WOULD YOU BRING TO THE CHARLEVOIX COUNTY COMMISSION?

I believe my experience in Charlevoix County government as more than a 25-year member of the County Planning Commission, currently serving as chairman, a charter member of the County Economic Development Commission, which is currently inactive, an original member of the County Transit Committee, past chairman of the Solid Waste Committee for the County has given me an insight into workings of the County. With three new members on the County Board, and the possibility of one or two more, I believe my experience will be very beneficial to the Commission.

My background in the construction industry requiring teamwork, my ability to manage departments whose budgets exceed $2 million annually, my ability to listen before making a decision, and keep an open mind will allow me to be an effective member of the County Board.

WHAT ARE THE MAJOR ISSUES FACING CHARLEVOIX COUNTY AND HOW CAN THEY BE RESOLVED?

Maintaining and expanding the economic and natural environment that makes Charlevoix County an attractive place to live. We need to look at having a County Administrator/Purchasing Agent. We need to find ways to improve our county roads and streets. I do not have preconceived solutions for solving these issues but I am confident that working collaboratively they can be resolved.

WHAT ARE THE COUNTY STRENGTHS?

One of Charlevoix County's strengths is its diverse population. The lakes, rivers, open space and farmlands are things that make the county desirable. The fact that the county is in a very solvent condition provides the county with the ability to financially solve some of its problems.

WHAT ARE ITS WEAKNESSES?

Weaknesses are a lack of trust and credibility. A clearly communicated vision is necessary for the county to function properly.

OVERALL, ARE YOU PLEASED WITH THE WORK OF THE COUNTY COMMISSION?

I believe from what I know, the commissioners have managed the county in a fair and fiscally responsible manner. The current Open Meetings problem has diminished the people's trust in the county board which makes it difficult for the County Board to function efficiently.

WHAT DO YOU WANT VOTERS TO KNOW ABOUT YOU?

I would like the voters of District 5 to know that I will work as hard as I can to represent the interests of the district's residents. I believe my experience in the county, my work ethic, and my desire to be an effective commissioner will allow me to be an positive representative for the District.

NAME: Jon Vincent Jasinski

POSITION YOU ARE SEEKING: Charlevoix County Commissioners seat, District 5

BACKGROUND:

I am 45 years of age, have been married for 25 years to wife Patricia and have two children, Metisa and Jason both of whom are graduates of Boyne City High School.

I graduated from Northview High School located in Grand Rapids and attended Saginaw Valley State College. I have been a resident of Charlevoix County for the past 10 years and have been self-employed for the past seven years as the owner of Premier Construction Company which is located in the Boyne City area. I have had the privilege to serve the citizens of Wilson Township for the past six years and currently serve as an elected Wilson Township Board Trustee and as a member of the Wilson Township Zoning Board of Appeals. I also serve as a Board Director for the Northern Lakes Economic Alliance as the County of Charlevoix appointee and have served in this capacity for the past six years.

WHY ARE YOU RUNNING?

I am running for the seat of county commissioner because I truly believe that the operation of the County of Charlevoix is nothing more than that of a business in which its customers (taxpayers) must receive a product of equal value for the money (taxes) they spend. The positions of a business manager and a county commissioner are the same in that both must insure that every dollar is accounted for and that any expenditure returns a product or service of equal value.

WHAT SKILLS WOULD YOU BRING TO THE CHARLEVOIX COUNTY COMMISSION?

I feel that my experience in serving at the Local township level as well as having enjoyed great success in managing a private business in today's environment lends me the ability to effectively oversee the operations of Charlevoix County. I believe in fiscal responsibility and accountability as it relates to each department's performance well as sound budgeting practices going in.

WHAT ARE THE MAJOR ISSUES FACING CHARLEVOIX COUNTY AND HOW CAN THEY BE RESOLVED?

It is no secret to anyone that there have been less than acceptable working relationships between many of the departments which quickly need to be corrected in order for the county to operate at the best possible level of efficiency. Our county's road system is in dire need of a comprehensive long term improvement plan which will require creative methods of securing funds. Our public safety as it relates to our county's law enforcement department also needs to be funded properly moving forward given the increase in population that we have and will continue to experience as a result of our area's natural attraction and way of life. We also need to continue to improve the level of services and care that we offer the elderly citizens of our county, they deserve it. To fully remedy these issues we need a sincere and collective performance from all of our county's departmental leaders, its employees and its commissioners as well as solid input from its customer base, you the taxpayer.

WHAT ARE THE COUNTY'S STRENGTHS?

Our county's strength is in its communities and its citizens.

WHAT ARE ITS WEAKNESSES?

While our weaknesses are minimal if any, and if we stand by and let them, most often times are simply self-induced.

OVERALL, ARE YOU PLEASED WITH THE WORK OF THE COUNTY COMMISSION?

I am very grateful to the current Board of Commissioners for their time and effort in managing our county and especially for the infrastructure improvements that have taken place at our elderly care facility (Grandvue) and at our place of business, the County Building.

The voters should know that I am sincere in my beliefs and efforts, I call the issues as I see them. I am aggressive in my approach, I always welcome a challenge and, bottom line, I get the job done.

Proposals

The following proposals will appear on the ballot at the Aug. 6 Primary Election:

Boyne Valley Township — A proposal to permit the township to levy 1/3 mill for continuing to operate the transfer station in addition to improving the road from US 131 to the transfer station. A previous millage passed by voters of .75 mills expired in 2001. The proposed millage shows a decrease of .3965 mills from that last levied. If approved, it is estimated that the 1/3 mill, or 33 cents per $1,000 in taxable value, to be levied for four years, would raise $22,617 for the township in 2002.

Eveline Township — A proposal to increase taxes on taxable property by one mill, or one dollar per $1,000 taxable value, for two years for road construction and maintenance. It is estimated that the measure, if approved, would raise an estimated $163,295 for the township when first levied in 2002.

Hudson Township — A proposal to permit the township to restore two mills for road improvements previously approved by electors and now expired. The measure would approve the millage for a period of two years, and raise an estimated $50,561 in the first year.

Marion Township — A proposal to permit the township to levy 1.5 mills for road construction and maintenance, for a period of three years. The millage had previously been approved by voters and has expired. If approved, the levied millage, $1.50 per $1,000 of taxable value, will raise an estimated $78,770 for the township.

Melrose Township, Proposal 1 — A proposal to that the limitation on the amount of taxes assessed on all taxable property be renewed by 1/2 mill for a period of four years for fire department operation. The measure would raise an estimated $34,261 in the first year.

Melrose Township, Proposal 2 — A proposal to renew 1/2 mill for four years, for the purpose of a sinking fund for the fire department. If approved, the renewed millage will raise an estimated $34,261 in the first year.

partners in both the non-profit and for-profit arenas. Such efforts will be necessary, said Cwikiel, "to make the community vision that was developed [at a town meeting] last spring a reality."

Though Tip of the Mitt has not worked on a project exactly like the very unique one currently being pursued at Wolverine, they have, Cwikiel said, "been involved in coordinating activities such as this on large scales."

All of which could be a moot point if Wolverine Power ends up successfully negotiating with a bidder on the property. Earlier this year, the power company's board opened up bids on the property which has stood vacant since the plant closed in 1994. As of last week, the company had been in negotiations with an undisclosed bidder, according to Wolverine representative Steve Videto.

While the committee to purchase the property for Eveline Township had been working on the project for more than a year, they were not able to put in a bid in time for the end-of-March deadline.

The committee has, however, made their intentions known to Wolverine, through correspondence and meetings. If the committee's efforts were successful resulting in the purchase of the property, ownership would be in the name of Eveline Township. Potential development of the property, which could include both park and public water access areas as well as retail and possibly a small amount of residential space, would be coordinated by the committee and Tip of the Mitt. "Eveline Township is not in any way getting into the marina or development business," Jason said.

While the status of the company's negotiations is not known at this time, Cwikiel said that regardless, Wolverine has been made aware that were any potential buyer to fall through, the committee is serious and ready to move forward.

Strive

heaven, by both Schroeder and student Corrine Cortez's account.

When they met, Schroeder said, "I liked her immediately. She reminded me a lot of myself at that age."

Cortez, one math credit short of graduation from East Jordan High School and looking at summer school or attending another year, was just one of a handful of students to receive mentors through the Strive Program last year.

Brought into East Jordan three years ago, the Rotary program provides adult mentorship for students at risk of not graduating from high school, and in need of outside intervention.

Funded by the generous donations of two anonymous Rotarians, the program was able to purchase handbooks and other materials needed to give its first mentors a start.

Right from the beginning, according to Roberts, who spearheaded the East Jordan program, it was evident that the need was there. While the program has averaged four or five mentors a year, there are plenty of other students who are missing out on the benefits such a mentor provides.

The success is tangible, with the East Jordan Strive program boasting a 100 percent graduation rate for students mentored. But Roberts laments how much more good could be done if only more adults volunteered to be Strive mentors.

"If you're not somehow giving back to the community, fine, but if you don't, you're missing the boat," Roberts said. The Strive program, he said, is a way to truly touch the community through a single human being; by mentoring a student to help them graduate from high school, he said, "you could potentially be changing a husband or wife, potentially change some three-year-old grandson [in the future]."

Strive program mentor and East Jordan city administrator Dave White agrees with the assessment, noting that the mentors are not tutors or surrogate parents, but rather are simply another community member taking an interest in a student's welfare. Mentors are there, White said, "to give ideas, help with study habits, talk to teachers, be a sounding board for parents. They're not there as a white knight to save the day."

The participating students, for their part, are chosen by the school and recommended for the program by East Jordan High School counselor Gena Cross. "Gena Cross has been an extremely big help," Roberts said. "She's our go-between. She's very interested in keeping the program on track."

"Gena is the watchdog," Schroeder said, smiling. Added Cortez, "She tattled on me every time [I missed class]."

Though for many students, having folks keeping such a close eye on them might sound distasteful, in retrospect, Cortez said, she realizes that everyone was just looking out for her best interest. "Looking back, she was just doing her job," she said. "And she did a good job doing it."

In Cortez's case, her graduation near-miss grew from a variety of factors, including family stresses as well as simply getting tired of the school routine. "I was getting over the whole school scene," she said. "Mrs. Cross knew I was in dire need of help." Cortez's reaction to learning that she would be part of the Strive program may not have been entirely typical — "I thought it was perfect," she said. "I was thanking my lucky stars."

Once connected with Schroeder, weekly meetings after school for a half hour or so became part of both Cortez and Schroeder's routine. "I wrote it on my calendar like any other appointment," Schroeder said. "It was not an optional thing."

Their meetings consisted mostly, said the two, of just checking in. "My first question is 'what's going on?'" Schroeder said. "A lot of it was getting Corrine confident enough to call me [if she needed something]. The first time she called me to take her to school, it was like, 'yes!'"

More than dealing with school work in particular, most of their contact focused on dealing with other life issues that affect school work. Schroeder also interfaced with teachers and Cross to help navigate bumps in the road of Cortez's academic life.

The Strive program also helped pay for a correspondence program to help Cortez make up the math credit she

The good ol' days

It was a return to days gone by at the Flywheelers showgrounds near Walloon last weekend, at the 15th annual Walloon Lake Antique Tractor, Engine, and Craft Show. Tractor enthusiasts and spectators alike gathered for a weekend filled with family fun, including the daily "Parade of Power," blacksmith, veneer mill, and basket factory demonstrations, and a craft show and flea market. Pictured at left, Harold Poole is all smiles as he participates in Friday's parade. Above, a lineup of old-time flywheel tractors, always crowd-pleasers at the annual event.

EDITORIAL

Although a brief meeting, it left a big impression

I was surprised and saddened recently to learn of the passing of East Jordan's Jim Galbraith. He was not, by any stretch of the imagination, a close friend, but rather was simply one of many folks with whom I've spent a sliver of time speaking with in an attempt to glean pertinent and interesting information to pass along to readers. Still, in that small space of time, Galbraith easily made a big impression.

The talented and successful photojournalist had just last year prepared a retrospective of his body of work, and at that time I had the opportunity to interview him at his home. I found Jim to be a warm, wise, and fascinating man, and even though I only spent about an hour and a half (and a couple of cups of coffee) with him, I learned more than I expected.

Though he's obviously worked with much more talented people than myself, having plied his trade internationally and spent a significant portion of his career as a photojournalist for the Detroit Free Press, he was patient with what were certainly some of my more predictable questions, and generous with his answers on some of the more thought-provoking ones.

He gave me not only the chronological rundown of his varied career, but also the benefit of some of what had shaped his philosophy and perspective on his talent.

He also gifted me with a tour of some of his own work that was hung on the walls around his home, including some photos of family and friends.

For a humble small-town journalist such as myself, simply having the opportunity to pick the brain of an accomplished photojournalist such as Jim was a privilege indeed, and one of the real gifts that make this job worthwhile.

Of the multitude of interesting people I've met and interviewed in the last couple of years, I can honestly say Jim is the one that's stuck with me the most. Ironically, since our interview last year I hadn't spoken to him until he phoned out of the blue a couple of weeks ago with a story idea. He sounded as warm and good-spirited as I remembered him to be.

Galbraith was, to be sure, just one of the many wonderful and gifted artists the area has been blessed to count among its community members.

He will certainly be missed.

A PASTOR'S PERSPECTIVE

Pornography common thread in victimization of children

By RUSS HAGER

America has a problem and it is killing our children. It started with the Van Dam case in California. A young girl was kidnapped, sexually abused and murdered. Recently we have seen two other girls kidnapped, one from her bedroom and the other from her front yard. One is still missing the other is dead.

Last week the country mourned as little Samantha was laid to rest. As I saw the images of the people in attendance at the funeral and as I remember those images in my mind I cannot help but ask, how many of those people contributed to the death of that little girl?

We know that she is the victim of one man. So how could others be contributors to her death?

Here is my answer.

Although there is very little known about the case, as far as what kind of evidence the police have, this I know - before it is all over we will learn that the perpetrator of this horrible crime has a problem with pornography.

We already know that the man on trial for the murder of the young Van Dam girl was viewing pornography online. Pornography is the common thread in sexual predator cases. The truth is you would be hard-pressed to find any convicted sex offender that did not have a problem with porn and yet our court system still lists pornography as a protected first amendment right. I can guarantee you this - the men who wrote the First Amendment did not write it to protect pornographers. It is time for our judicial system to revisit past decisions and start applying common sense to the law. How many young girls are going to have to be kidnapped, raped and murdered before America wakes up?

It is not just the pornographers that are or contributing to the abusive treatment of our children but every person that purchases, rents, or subscribes to porn must share the responsibility of killing innocence in America. It is your dollars that keep this abusive industry alive.

You may be thinking that kiddie porn is already outlawed and not protected by the First Amendment, and you would be right. Kiddie porn is only part of the problem. I am sure that the money people behind kiddie porn are the same people behind adult porn.

Pornography is an abusive, degrading business and should be shut down. Did you know that most of the young ladies that "star" on pornographic films were victims of sexual abuse as children? They were taught that the road to male acceptance by their father, older brother, or uncle was sexual favors and the pornographers play off of those ill-taught lessons promising these young girls stardom and with it, acceptance.

I ask again, how many young, innocent, five-year-old girls have to be kidnapped, raped and murdered before America determines the industry that contributes to their abuse must be shut down?

It is time to say enough is enough. We must realize that with our constitutional rights also comes the responsibility to govern those rights to protect the innocent. Allowing pornographers to continue to operate an abusive business like pornography is not using said rights in a responsible manner. It is the children that should be protected and not the pornographers.

Consider this hypothetical situation: A young man goes to Yellowstone Park and is arrested for feeding the bears. He argues that to prohibit him from feeding the bears is a violation of his constitutional rights. The Courts agree and he wins his case. The National Park service is ordered to take down all signs prohibiting feeding the bears and to no longer stop tourists from engaging in their constitutionally protected behavior. Six months later a bear grabs a young child, drags them into the woods, mauls and kills the child. The Park rangers attribute the bear's behavior to the fact that people are allowed to feed the bears. The bear is labeled a monster and is killed. However the people are still allowed to feed the bears thus producing more monsters and another child dies, then another and another. At what point do we decide people don't need to feed the bears? What is the price we pay in children's lives before we decide feeding bears should not be a protected right? What is the price we will pay before we decide that pornography should not be a protected right?

How can you make a difference? Stop patronizing the porn industry. Elect government officials that will appoint judges that will use common sense. I dare say that if Congress would have drilled some of these judges that have given court approval to pornography the same way they are drilling President Bush's nominees about abortion we would not have this problem.

I am not naive enough to think that pornography is the only reason these men kidnap, rape and kill children, but it is a contributing factor and should be eliminated for the good of our children. Pornography is to these sick individuals what tourist food is to the bear. It only makes them more hungry and bolder in the quest to get more. Let's not protect the "rights" of pornographers with the lives of children. Put the signs back up to "not feed the bears."

More fishing pond fund-raisers in the works

TO THE EDITOR:

Thanks to the efforts of Dee Hawkins, of Valley Graphics Printing, Mary Raymu, who spent her day off from Glen's Market, and Sarah Brusse, a total of $334.84 was raised for the East Jordan Kids Fishing Pond from the hot dog sale at Glen's Market. A great big thank you to Glen's. More fundraisers are being planned for this fall and a wild game dinner is in the works for sometime in January. A big thank you to all who have supported us so far.

Library 'Friends' lend support in Boyne City

TO THE EDITOR:

Thanks go out to those friends of the Boyne District Library who took time from their summer lives to set up and run the recent booksale held during the Sidewalk Sales. I also want to thank the ones who advertised and organized the event; and, thanks especially to the friends who came to the "sale." We had a wonderful success with recycling of hundreds of books within our literary community and, at the same time, that literary community expressed its generous support of the library. Friends and patrons donated over $1,000; these funds will make a difference at your library.

Special thanks go out to Nannette Miller, library director, and her staff for their help with our success and for all the good work they do to make our library such an important community center.

The Friends of the Boyne District Library has plans to formalize its organization into a not-for-profit corporation in the immediate future. Those interested in expressing support of the Boyne District Library through a Friends organization may get more information by calling 582-7689.

Thanks again for supporting your library.

In last week's Citizen-Journal, an article entitled "Results in on BC Market Study" quoted DDA member Mark Kowalske as saying that the community may be able to work with developers "and not lose the waterfront to the public." Kowalske's statement intended to express that he did not want the community to have to sacrifice public use of the waterfront to private interests.

NEIGHBORS

By NANCY NORTHUP

THE FREE METHODIST ladies made their annual Shipshewana trip this past Tuesday and Wednesday. Neither heat nor humidity nor sore feet stopped this lot from shopping! Cindy Bullock, Shirley Hunter, Margaret Bennett, Ruth Hayden, Jan Mackie, Betty Nicloy, Sharon McGeorge and Becky Whiteshek enjoyed a wonderful time of shopping and fellowship. "Ready for next year ladies?" asked my caller.

LAURA BELL of Battle Creek arrived at Litzenger Place over the weekend to pick up her mother, May Horn, and take her back home with her for a week's visit.

DAN AND JULIE SCHMITTDIEL of Chicago spent from Tuesday until Sunday here, visiting his mother, Marie and family, and to also be here with her family, Bill and Mary Dunlop for the Saturday wedding of her brother, Dan Dunlop.

BILL MOORE, former BCHS student, and his wife were here from Sarasota, Fla. this past week and visited Flo Davis. Always staying in touch through Christmas cards, Mrs. Davis keeps up with friends of her son, Jerry, and enjoyed their afternoon visit with sharing updated albums of Jerry and his family, who live in Colorado. Later that day, she went with the Moores for dinner at the Tannery Saloon. Also a fine and fun time was her visit and lunch at Pippins with another "former Boyne" friend of Jerry's, Gary Coon, here from Seminole, Fla. and then it was lunch on Sunday at BC Pizza and a nice visit with her niece and husband, Karla and David McKelvey of Cape Coral, Fla.!

DONNA MOLL'S 75th birthday party last Sunday was a really good time, in spite of the very, very warm day. She enjoyed all her skiing, biking and other kinds of friends and neighbors wishing her well by being there or with cards and joining in for the potluck picnic party held at Fall Park at Deer Lake.

SUSAN SCHUMM of Carmel, Ind., the daughter of Ken and Dolly Anderson, was here to be among those attending her 25th reunion of the Boyne City High School class of 1977, which was held at the Dilworth Hotel, and was also able to attend the Dan Dunlop wedding at the Presbyterian Church.

THE GREAT TURNOUT of 121 for the monthly Swiss Steak Dinner at the VFW Hall was much appreciated by the Smelt City Auxiliary, and I quote, "It's nice seeing the smiles after the meal, as they pat their full tummies!"

ELIZABETH EDDY and the youth group of the Boyne City Free Methodist Church spent the weekend camping out on Canada's St. Joe's Island. They returned to the church late Sunday afternoon.

THE ANNUAL Towne Family Reunion was held at the Boyne Falls Pavilion on Saturday, with 35-40 attending. Among those coming a distance were Albert (Butch) Towne of Lowell, and Roger and Marsha Towne of Manchester. All enjoyed this family time of an abundant potluck picnic fun. The oldest attending were sisters Mary Towne and Dorothy Jensen, and the youngest was the toddler, daughter of Scott Leist.

ABOUT 100 people were hiding at the home of Donnie and Kim Peck at Kewadin on Saturday afternoon when he came home from a day of golfing. The happy occasion was his 50th birthday and a friend roasted a pig and other dishes were brought in. Those attending from this area were Don Peck Sr., Dave Peck and Carrie and son, Doug Peck and son, Kay, Denny, Larry and Bridgett Peck, and Leona and Charlie Stanek and daughter Bonnie Olund, also Raymond Leist and Stacy McGeorge.

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY Commission on Aging welcomes new cook Chris Howard, and says good-bye to Charlotte McKay at the East Jordan Kitchen where she joins Debbie Peck and Brenda Sonnet.

'Lazy eye' the result of two possible causes

By STEVEN HUFFORD, OPTOMETRIST

What does the term "Lazy Eye" mean?

Denise B., Petoskey

"Lazy Eye" is a slang term for an eye that is amblyopic. Amblyopia is when one eye does not see 20/20, however there is nothing wrong with the eye itself. The reduction in vision is caused by the lack of integration by the brain.

This is caused one of two ways, strabismus or anisometropia. This column will focus on strabismus.

Strabismus is when one eye is not aligned. It is directed up, down, in or out. This sometimes is referred to as crossed eyes or wall eyed, and may be constant or intermittent, a large or small angle of deviation, or a combination of any or all of these conditions. During the time the eyes are not working together the person would see double. The brain will actually turn one eye off because it does not like to see double, and the eye that is misaligned will not be used.

If strabismus in a child is not treated while the child is young the shutting down by the brain will cause permanent loss of neurological development to that eye. The resulting lazy eye can not be successfully treated after the age of 14. If the eye is treated with special lenses or in severe cases, surgery to realign the eyes while the child is still developing, this permanent loss of sight can be avoided.

Next week, I will explain the other major cause of "Lazy Eye," anisometropia.

Questions or comments can be directed to Hufford Vision & Eye Care at 225 State St., Boyne City.

Boyer City schools to hold sports physicals

Boyer City Public Schools will be conducting district-wide sports physicals on Saturday, Aug. 3, at the Early Childhood Building (formerly the Boyer City Middle School) at 321 S. Park St., Boyer City, from 7:30 a.m.-12 noon. The cost is $5 per student. For more information, call the athletic office at 439-8155.

Vision, hearing screenings free for kids through NMCHA

Northwest Michigan Community Health Agency is providing free vision and hearing screenings for children ages 3-5 on an ongoing basis. The screenings are conducted by certified vision and hearing technicians, and can help identify whether or not children are seeing or hearing correctly.

If a problem is identified during the screening, the technician will discuss the problem with parents and make recommendations for further evaluation.

For more information, call Suzette Daly, R.N., 547-6523. To make an appointment, call 547-0295 or 1-800-432-3121.

Runners still needed for festival 5K race

The Boyer Falls Polish Festival is sponsoring the 10th annual 5 Kilometer Cross Country race on Saturday, Aug. 3, at Boyer Mountain Resort, as part of the Polish Festival events.

Registration will be from 7-8 a.m. at the Boyer Mountain Tennis Center. The race starts at 8 a.m. The entry fee is $12 before Aug. 1 or $15 after. Donations for the Boyer Falls Cross Country team are also accepted.

Each year the Polish Festival Committee donates money to the Boyer Falls Cross Country team based on hosting this race. Most years the money is used to send athletes to the MHSAA State Cross Country finals. Last year, the Logger team finished first in the Northern Lakes Conference and sent Adam Utley and Jenny Kuhn to the Division IV State Finals.

The race will be run on the course used by Boyer City High School to host the MHSAA Regional race last fall, starting and finishing near the Boyer Mountain Tennis Center. Age division awards and T-shirts will be provided. Trophies will be awarded to the overall top male and female finishers.

Andy Place has been the Race Director since the start of the event. "Although I no longer coach in Boyer Falls, I enjoy doing this for the kids," Place said. For more information, call Place at 582-9700 or go online to www.runmichigan.com and look in the featured races drop box. There is a printable registration form on the website.

Challenge Mtn will showcase summer programs with open house

Challenge Mountain would like to invite the public to join in a celebration of the first of annual Summer Programs with an open house on Thursday, Aug. 8, from 7-9 p.m. at the lodge. Due to the huge demand of the disabled and impaired community the organization has instituted nature experience programming with overnight wilderness camping, hiking on traditional trails, and handicapped trails. There are vast ecological learning opportunities, all geared to each disability and what each person is capable of.

Terry Baker, Volunteer Program Coordinator said, "The adventure of the outdoor-from-home experience that we provide gives the clients the feeling of 'if I can do this, I can do anything.' That feeling does so much for their self esteem, and confidence. It is wonderful to watch their outlook change before your eyes."

Tours will be given of the facility, trails, and ski and camping areas to thank the public for their support and what their donations have done to help the disabled and impaired in our communities.

"We are so pleased to be offering even more to the community," said Challenge Mountain director Sue Moody. "It is a culmination of a dream the organization has had for several years and due to the generosity of the people of Northern Michigan, we will be able to offer this to people who need us."

The lodge is located at 2205 Springbrook Rd. Please call (231) 535-2141 to RSVP, for directions or to offer your financial support.

Wagbo Peace Center offering organic gardening workshop

Wagbo Peace Center will hold an organic gardening workshop on Saturday, Aug. 17, from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. at the center, located three miles south of East Jordan on M-66.

The workshop will be led by nationally-known educator Nancy Jones Keiser, an inspector for the certification agency Organic Growers of Michigan. She will share knowledge of organic gardening for the home or market gardener. Information will be tailored to the participant's level, from beginner to advanced.

The cost to participate is $45, which includes an organic lunch. Pre-registration by Thursday, Aug. 15, is required.

For more information, call the Wagbo Peace Center at 536-0333 or send an e-mail to wagbo@torchlake.com.

Classes for all ages offered at Raven Hill

Imagine what Michigan was like 450 million years ago. Tim and Cheri Leach, founders of Raven Hill Discovery Center, will help visitors do just that in their "Michigan Geology" program on Thursday, Aug. 1, as they travel back to when the first life forms appeared in Michigan through 10,000 years ago when dinosaurs roamed the land.

On Thursday, Aug. 7, visitors can learn to identify the critters that didn't make it across the road, when Roger Knutson explores the subject of road kill in "Flattened Fauna."

Both programs begin at 7 p.m. at Raven Hill Discovery Center and are appropriate for children and adults. Admission is $6 per person, free for members.

Three adult workshops still have openings. On Aug. 5 from 6-8:30 p.m., glass bead making will be the workshop topic. For $30 adults can learn the techniques and go home with a finished basket or glass beads to use in jewelry making. During the week of Aug. 19-23 glassblowing workshops will be held. Make an appointment to come in and watch the process, and then make your own paperweight. Cost is $40.

Children's classes on science, history, arts and crafts run through the end of August. Morning classes run from 10 a.m.-12 noon and afternoon classes run from 12:30-2:30 p.m. Children 4 to 14 can explore topics from fossils and rocks to kitchen chemistry to pioneer living or learn to make marbled paper, glass beads or pressed flower note cards.

The cost is $15 per half-day session or $55 for a week. There are still openings for the August classes.

Since May of 1992, Raven Hill Discovery Center has provided a unique environment of quality learning experiences for people of all ages. Its mission is to build connections linking science, history and the arts. The museum and animal room provide hands-on experiences for individuals of all ages.

Other programs include professional development for teachers, school field trips, scout activities, summer day camp, adult enrichment seminars and family activity days.

Raven Hill is located between East Jordan and Boyer City off C-48 at Pearsall Road. To register for a class or for more information about any programs at Raven Hill Discovery Center, call 536-3369.

implements museum educational and curatorial activities including the supervision of fifty museum docents. In addition she develops and organizes public educational programs that expose individuals to the creative arts while fostering expression and exploration through the arts. Buday is involved with numerous organizations that strive to bring art into the lives of individuals. A special additional feature of this year's event will be inside the museum at Elm Pointe, with the introduction of an exhibit of items from longtime East Jordan doctor Jerry Van Dellen. The museum will be open all weekend.

An EJ doctor's life

THE FOLLOWING historical information regarding Van Dellen has been provided by the Elm Pointe museum.

Jerrian (Jerry) Van Dellen, M.D., was born on Aug. 27, in Grand Rapids, and spent his early childhood in Grand Rapids and in a rural area east of there. In 1915 the family moved to Falmouth (east of Cadillac), where his father set up a blacksmith shop. Jerry helped his father in the shop as a teenager, mainly with putting steel tires on wagon and buggy wheels.

Dissatisfied with the education he was getting at McBain High School, he enrolled in the Ferris Prep School in Big Rapids in tenth grade at age 15. He taught for a year in a one-room school in Aetna Township, but the year is uncertain - it may have been before or after high school graduation. After taking some college at Ferris, which was then a prep school and Junior College, he continued his education at Western State Normal School, now Western Michigan University. He graduated in the spring of 1928.

During the 1928-29 school year he taught junior high school mathematics and science at Oakdale Christian School in Grand Rapids. In retrospect, his most notable student might have been Myrtle Huizenga, daughter of medical missionary Lee S. Huizenga (ordained minister and Doctor of Public Health, who became an authority on leprosy). She married a Southern Baptist missionary, Oscar Wells, in Shanghai, China, and their daughter, born there, became the record-setting astronaut Shannon Lucid. Jerry was amused later to hear that one of his former students was the mother of a famous astronaut.

Jerry enrolled at the Marquette University Medical School, now the Medical College of Wisconsin, in 1929, not a good time, economically, to start such a venture. He was able to borrow some money from family members to help with expenses. In September 1931 he married Anna Terpstra, and worked at the school as a lecturer and laboratory assistant during the 1931-32 school year, then resumed studies and graduated in 1934. Following internship at Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids, he and Anna moved to Ellsworth on July 1, 1935.

Initially his office was in one of the rooms of a three- or four-room house, but it soon was set up in the second floor of the "Blue Store" in Ellsworth, a building that for many years housed the hardware and Vander Ark's (later Shooks') store. By December of 1936, he had gotten discouraged with Ellsworth, so he and Anna, expecting their first child, moved to Lyons. Son or - Ken, was born in Ionia in May, 1937, and in September the family moved back to Ellsworth. Before long, Jerry had a new house built with an office in the basement. (Art and Jean Drenth, who lived in this house, were the most recent long-time residents.) Son, two, Richard, was born in September 1938.

On May 1, 1942, Jerry set up his office in East Jordan above the W. A. Porter Hardware in the first two-story building on the east side of Main Street north of the Huntington Bank. (The bank site was then a large lumber yard.) The Selective Service people said he could move to the larger community and help keep the farmers healthy to raise crops to feed the troops instead of joining the troops, and he opted for that. The family moved soon after that, probably right after Ken finished kindergarten. Their residence was on Main Street, about mid-block between Nichols and Division. Betty Robertson was his nurse during most or all of that time the office was on Main Street.

When the war was over he moved the family back to Ellsworth to the brick house on Lake Street, in October 1945. The house had been built nearly to completion by Herman (Shorty) Drenth, whose dad had built the previous residence in Ellsworth, and Jerry and Shorty pretty well did an even swap, much to the chagrin of Shorty's wife, who wasn't happy about giving up her new house. The office stayed where it was for another nine years. In 1948, the family adopted a little girl, Sandra (Sandi).

By 1954, Jerry (and probably his patients) was getting sick of climbing all those stairs, so he had Don Clark, a local contractor, design and build a ground-floor office for him on the west side of town. The brick building across from the IGA store is now occupied by a graphics company. Ken, just out of high school, spent the summer working along side of Les Hurlbert, the Petrie brothers, and others. Muriel Zoulek was the nurse during the time Jerry was in this office.

A very well-attended appreciation dinner in the old high school gym marked Jerry's "retirement" in September 1973. Although he stopped delivering babies after some 1,300, he wasn't finished taking care of his people, so he set up shop on the front porch in Ellsworth. There was no examining table, and he chuckled about not being able to do pelvic exams out there, but he was very concerned about taking care of the older people who had been his patients for so many years. In 1974 he was elected a fellow of the American Academy of Family Physicians, and in 1978 the people of East Jordan honored him once again by making him the Grand Marshall of the Centennial Parade.

The people of Ellsworth gave their tribute in 1985 with a dinner in the Community Hall in honor of his 50 years of practicing medicine. He told several stories, as did some of the members of the audience, about medical experiences, joys and tragedies, with several remarks about fast drives between Ellsworth, East Jordan, and Charlevoix.

Anna died in the fall of 1985, and Jerry continued to see patients and even make house calls for a year or two. His health declined between 1985 and 1990, but in mid-1990 he began dating Bernice Ruis, and on the last day of the year they married. (He insisted it had to be before the end of the year so they could file a joint tax return.)

Having a companion rejuvenated him, and his health improved, but naturally old age caught up with him. Following several falls, with fractures and other injuries that required stays at Grandview, he and Bernice relocated to a retirement facility in Traverse City. He complained about having to leave his house, but eventually bought the argument that Bernice was unable to deal with the stairs there. He was moved to a nursing home in the retirement complex after yet another fall and stopped breathing, at age 95, on Dec. 14, 1999, just as his pastor was reading a passage of scripture and praying at his bedside.

Many friends and former patients stopped by the Hastings Funeral Home for respects, and more doctor stories were disclosed. Johnny reported that Jerry was once completing a death certificate for a patient, and the cause of death had to be stated in medical terms, and that was unacceptable, even though that was the most accurate statement.
